DEVER DRIVES HOME BENEFITS OF CAR PLAN

Faster Rides, Less Fare, He Says.

"More and better transportation. Twice as much rapid transit as now exists during the first period of construction.

"Unification of surface and elevated lines, with lower fares and universal transfers and not one dollar increase in taxation.

"Hundreds of millions of dollars in added property values the city over.

"Abundant employment for Chicago labor, not just one brief boom, but through years to come.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Above are benefits which Chicago will derive from the proposed transportation ordinance, according to Mayor Dever, who last night addressed an audience at the Oakley Masonic temple, Oakley and Chicago avenues. He added:

"This ordinance is not only the best plan but it is the only plan. If it fails, Chicago will suffer for years."

Corporation Counsel Francis X Busch made a more personal appeal to the South Shore Protective association at the same time, in Jones hall, 75tn street and Coles avenue.

"Passage of the ordinance April 7 will put $6 to $60 a year in the pocket of every man and woman who uses either the elevated or surface lines at present," he asserted. Then he proceeded to prove that such savings would result by the reduction in fares.

"Every One Has Interest."

"The ordinance provides for an immediate reduction in all fares to 7 cents with free transfers," he said. "Leaving out all other considerations, every man and woman has a direct financial interest in the passage of this ordinance."

The opposition's effort to create a prejudice against the ordinance among women was answered effectively yesterday by the Jewish Woman's conference, composed of eighty-three affiliated organizations with a membership above 10,000. The resolution adopted says that the transportation ordinance provides:

"Immediate improvement in our present inadequate transportation service.

"Immediate construction of subways and of elevated railroad line supplementary to those now existing.

Provides New Surface Lines.

"Immediate reduction of elevated railroad fares and the ultimate reduction of surface line fares."

"It is apparent to the most casual thinker," the resolution adds, "that the passage of the ordinance will increase the general prosperity of the city by providing work for thousands of persons, not only in the construction of the extensions and subways provided for, but also in the building of homes in parts of the city not now easily accessible, thereby ultimately leading to a reduction of rents throughout the city, while at the same time increasing the value of real estate.

"All these benefits will be obtained without increasing in any way the general obligations of the city or imposing new burdens upon the taxpayers."

Other Women O. K. Bill.

Other women who pledged their support to the ordinance yesterday are as follows: Miss Grace Temple, past president of the Chicago Woman's club; Mrs. M. Richard Kulcher, president of the fifth district, Illinois Federation of Woman's clubs; Mrs. Caroline M. Hill, president Hyde Park League of Women Voters; Mrs. Edward S. Bailey, past president of the Illinois Federation of Woman's clubs; Miss Anne Forsythe, secretary of the Republican Woman's Roosevelt club; Miss Kate Adams, social welfare worker; Mrs. John Carpenter, president of Arts club; Mrs. Walter F. Dodd, Dr. Rachel Yarrow, Mrs. Robert Hall Wiles, Mrs. Amos W. Walker, Mrs. Catherine A. Jones, secretary of the Chicago Woman's club; Mrs. John McMahone, Mrs. A. A. Sprague, Mrs. W. S. Hefferan, Mrs. Charles King Corsant, and Mrs. Robert F. Palmer.

The "People's Traction League" opened yesterday in the Great Northern hotel against the ordinance. It was given out that ex-Mayor Dunne is the chairman and that affiliated with him are ex-Mayor Thompson, ex-Mayor Harrison, Boetius Sullivan, Tomas S. Deuther, Miss Mary McInerney, Robert W. McKinlay, and Ald. Oscar F. Nelson.

PASTOR, JUDGE 'TOO BUSY' TO TIE KNOT FOR 'FATTY'

Los Angeles, Cal., March 23.—[Special]—Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle and Doris Deane, leading lady under his direction in film comedies, spent most of tonight in a hunt for a qualified person to marry them. The search was their third of the day.

First the Rev. John Whitcomb Brougher of Temple Baptist church declined to perform the ceremony planned for tomorrow night at the home of Miss Deane's mother. He had to give a lecture, he said. Then Superior Judge John W. Summerfield sidestepped the honor. He at first promised to officiate, but later called "Fatty" on the phone and explained that his wife had made an engagement for him for tomorrow night.

"Fatty" refused to be discouraged. "Everything is all right," he said late tonight. "Everything will go ahead the way we arranged it. Judge Summerfield has fixed it, and Judge Hugh Crawford will perform the ceremony."

PAWNED PEARLS AID IN SOLUTION OF $15,000 THEFT

Pawning of a pearl necklace worth $6,000 for only $1,500 in a loop pawnshop by William H. Suchier, two years ago the alleged victim of a kidnaping and theft of a large amount of liquor from his warehouse, yesterday revealed a $15,000 jewelry robbery in a Decatur hotel on March 14.

The victim was Mrs. William Ennis, who was in Decatur attending the funeral of her husband. The Ennises were formerly prominent in society and war work here, moving to an orange ranch in California in 1918.

Suchier said he pawned the jewels for James Huska, a bootlegger. Police found him in a Rock Island jail. Last night he charged that Suchier had framed on him and denied he stole the jewels.

Mrs. Ennis left her hotel door open inadvertently and while she slept the thief entered and took her jewel case.

JIM THORPE SUED FOR DIVORCE BY HIS INDIAN WIFE

Tulsa, Okla., March 23.—The school day romance of Jim Thorpe, Sac and Fox Indian and conceded to be one of the greatest all around athletes, went on the rocks in Tulsa Monday.

Mrs. Iva M. Thorpe, Cherokee maiden whom the althete at Carlisle Indian school in Pennsylvania married in 1913 while they were both students there, filed suit for divorce here charging abandonment and desertion.

Mrs. Thorpe charged that her husband deserted her March 1, 1923. Elden J. Dick, attorney for Mrs. Thorpe, said that incompatibility was the cause of the separation. Mrs. Thorpe resides in Tulsa with her three children, Gail, Charlotta, and Grace, whose custody she asks.

COUNTESS CRIES "LIE" AT TRIAL

London "High Life" Case May End Today.

BY DON SKENE.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, March 23.—The Dennistoun case neared the end today when Justice McCardie began summing up before the thrilled audience, packed with England's ruling society women, exhibiting gorgeous jewels, furs, Parisian hats, and gowns worth a fortune.

During the closing barrage of mud slinging the atmosphere in the musty old courtroom became so heavily laden with the mixture of fragrant powders and perfumes of the women spectators that Justice McCardie, the "bachelor judge," requested the ushers to open the windows and allow the bitter cold March wind to whistle through "to prevent suffocation."

William Steading, counsel for Mrs. Dorothy Muriel Dennistoun, addressed the jury four hours on behalf of the "mouse girl." He flayed Col. Ian Dennistoun, "the tiger boy," as a "contemptible creature with a parrot cry of blackmail." Lady Carnarvon, stung to fury by this description, cried: "It's a lie."

Lady Wilson-Barker Must Pay.

Meanwhile, the Waterhouse phantom blackmail case, rivaling the Dennistoun affair among the high life scandal devotées, ended in a victory for the widow of Alfred Francis Waterhouse against Lady Wilson-Barker. The widow was granted £12,000 [$60,000], with costs. The co-defendants, H. P. Sheldon and Sir David Wilson-Barker, were acquitted, the judge ruling:

"It is silly nowadays to say that husbands have authority over their wives like the old days, when the great lawyer, Selden, held a man who keeps a wife is the same as a man who keeps a monkey—responsible for its mischief."

Calls Mrs. Dennistoun Adroit.

Justice McCardie, summing up the Dennistoun testimony, paid tribute to Mrs. Dennistoun as one of the most adroit and most ingenious witnesses he has seen in the witness box in thirty years.

"If she decided to invent a claim, she would be one of the most dangerous women I have seen in the witness box," he said. "She is quick of brain, has absolute self-possession, and has wonderful mastery of answer."

Sir Ellis Hume-Williams ripped off the hide from the "tiger boy," charging him with living sumptuously with the fortune of Lady Carnarvon at his disposal, while his wife pathetically pleaded that he repay the small sums totaling £1,038 ($5,190) she advanced to pay his bills and loans when he was hard up.

"The colonel spent enormous sums on clothes, gloves, and hotels, with a bank account of more than £100,000 ($500,000)," snapped Sir Ellis. "Mrs. Dennistoun was called a liar, but nobody in this courtroom would escape this charge if forced to the witness box ordeal after £10,000 ($50,000) had been spent by his enemies prying into the secrets of his past life.

Tells of Colonel's Letter.

"The colonel wrote her once: 'We are always just and we are ready to help all humanly possible.' But he did not tell her at that moment that £5,000 [$25,000] in cash and a beautiful apartment was being furnished to him by another man's wife, Lady Carnarvon."

Justice McCardie, in his summing up of the case, quoted a poem, "Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned," in referring to Mrs. Dennistoun.

The case is expected to be completed tomorrow.

Killed When He Touches Electric Light in Bath

Arman Zamait, 19 years old, 701 Lathrop avenue, Forest Park, was killed instantly yesterday when he touched an electric light socket when he was taking a bath. He had run the tub full of water and was standing in it when he reached for the light and touched an empty socket, according to the theory of the police. Zamait was a senior in the Proviso High school.

METHODS USED IN FIXING SPEED CASES EXPOSED

Wholesale Dodging of Law Told.

THE TRIBUNE death clock has a story to tell this morning.

Like Hans Christian Andersen's old moon, it has been looking into strange windows and observing odd performances.

Hour by hour, day by day, year by year, the toll of the automobile is growing heavier upon human lives.

Why? Speed is the answer of the police, the coroner and some of the municipal judges whose courts are crowded every day with such cases.

Why not less speed?

The courts, the courts, is the answer of the police.

Sixty per cent of the deaths are due to speed and the judges, the police say, are not enforcing the law.

Fixer One of Troubles.

What happens in the courts?

The travels of the clock investigator have shown that many things may happen.

One of the troubles seems to be the fixer. Interviews with police speed officers and court clerks and others on the inside of the judicial machinery, lead to the conclusion that 75 per cent of the fixing is done in and around the courts.

It is even said on competent authority that a fairly regular schedule of prices is understood in this world of winking, nodding, whispering fixers as follows:

For an arrest at thirty-five miles an hour, case fixed for $15. Thirty-two miles, $10. Twenty-eight miles, $5.

Court May Be Ignorant.

Several methods are shown by which this may be done, even with the court in entire ignorance.

The original complaint of the arresting officer is sent to court. A little piece of yellow paper is pinned to it on the upper left hand side.

The defendant's name is called. There is no answer.

"Capias," calls the court clerk, meaning that a warrant is to be issued to be served upon the defendant and that he is to be brought into court.

The judge marks "capias" against the name that has been called. The complaint is tossed over to another clerk, who may have a little yellow slip of his own which he substitutes for the official slip. And on his own slip he may write the word, "Discharged."

May Never Issue Capias.

The arresting officer writes "capias" in his little book, and it is so marked against this case in the disposition book at the police station. But this is all that happens. No capias is ever issued, if the clerk chooses to manipulate the complaint in this way.

One policeman informed the investigator that in the last seven months he has had seventy-five cases where the speeder he arrested failed to appear in court. In each case a capias was marked, but not one of the seventy-five was arrested. He stated that he had never seen a man brought in on a speed warrant, that he marks the case as lost in his own mind.

There are some police officers who insist on serving their own warrants. The majority of the capias cases, however, are turned over to a special sergeant of police, who is assigned to each of the courtrooms to take care of these cases.

Police Fail to Arrest.

This opens another method of fixing. The complaint against the defendant who fails to appear is marked "capias." The police blotter and the judge's sheet also show "capias." But still nothing may happen.

Two cases of this kind were checked. The records were clear all the way through the courts. The police simply had failed to serve the warrants or make the arrests.

From the arrest book of a south side police station the investigator took the names of ten persons against whom "capias" had been marked when they did not appear in court in answer to speeding charges.

How It Is Done.

The first name was that of Oge Christensen, 4617 South Michigan boulevard. He was arrested Feb. 15 for driving at thirty miles. The clerk yelled "capias" and the arresting officer marked his own slip accordingly and also marked "capias" in the disposition book at the police station.

The young man lives in the Wabash avenue district. The Stockyards court is supposed to send the capias to the Wabash avenue station and this sta-

See Epidemic Peril Over in Storm Areas

GIVE NOW!

Chicago's quota of $500,000 for the relief of tornado sufferers must be turned over to the Red Cross by noon tomorrow. Cash in hand and pledged the citizens' committee had reached $300,000 last evening.

Among other funds, The Tribune-Legion fund total passed the $61,000 mark last night, Monday's receipts totaling nearly $20,000. Details on page 4.

Latest figures on the storm casualties show totals of 813 dead, 2,939 injured. The dead in Illinois numbered 636, in Indiana, 109; in Tennessee, 33; in Kentucky, 18, and in Missouri, 14.

Reports received last night indicated the danger of epidemics which threatened for a time is over, mild weather and the prompt use of anti-tetanus serum, sent by airplane, chlorination of water supplies and other sanitation measures, having lessened the danger.

Many of the injured have been taken to larger cities, where they could receive better treatment. A message from Carbondale said the peril of an epidemic of typhoid fever or other diseases diminished each day.

West Frankfort Situation Good.

At West Frankfort chemical engineers are sterilizing water supplies. The general sanitary condition there is said to be good. There are eight cases in the temporary isolation hospital, only a few of which are typhoid patients.

One death from tetanus is reported at Princeton, Ind. It was attributed to the fact the child's mother would not permit anti-tetanus serum to be administered, not to lack of a supply. Three persons died at Princeton from gangrene.

Estimates place the property damage at $12,000,000 in Illinois, $3,000,000 in Indiana, and about a million each in Missouri, Tenessee, and Kentucky.

Seek Dr. Pusey as Relief Chief.

Dr. William Allen Pusey of Chicago, president of the American Medical society, received a telegram yesterday from the Red Cross officials at Carbondale asking him to superintend the medical relief work in the devastated region. A few hours later Dr. Pusey dispatched to Carbondale Dr. Dean Lewis of the Presbyterian hospital and Dr. D. J. Davis of the University of Illinois medical school. They will begin their survey this morning.

Commissioner of Health Herman N. Bundesen, who returned last night from a visit downstate, announced that the city's health department nurses who have "been doing such heroic work in the tornado zone ever since the first day," will return today. They have been replaced by the Red Cross nurses, sent for the most part from the St. Louis district.

STATE TO GIVE $500,000

BY FRANK BUTZOW.

Springfield, Ill., March 23.—[Special.]—Both houses of the legislature suspended their rules tonight to speed financial aid to tornado sufferers of southern Illinois. The senate, by a vote of 42 to 0, passed the $500,000 mergency relief appropriation and sent it to the house, which advanced it on the calendar without reference to committee. The house will pass the bill Thursday.

Former Senator Otis F. Glenn of Murphysboro addressed the senate.

"I am here pleading Egypt's cause and asking you to be generous in this great crisis," he said.

Glenn told how more fortunate communities sprung to the relief of their stricken neighbors, mentioning particularly Williamson county and the turbulent town of Herrin.

JUDGE HOPKINS TO DECIDE ON FREEDOM PLEA

Denies Olson Chance to Tell Story.

William Darling Shepherd, under indictment as the slayer of Billy McClintock, under whose will Shepherd was bequeathed $1,000,000, may know today whether he remains in jail or is freed on bail while he awaits trial.

Yesterday a courtroom crowded to suffocation heard the much discussed witnesses, Faiman, Fosberg, and Marchand, repeat their damaging statements of typhoid bacilli and poisons in relation to Shepherd.

Shepherd was in court, guarded by two bailiffs. He heard the testimony on which the indictment was voted. Then he was returned to the county jail to await the verdict, which is scheduled for today at the conclusion of the arguments.

Gorman on Stand.

Towards the close of the hearing Attorney William Scott Stewart, representing Shepherd, called First Assistant State's Attorney George E. Gorman as a witness. Stewart was endeavoring to convince Judge Hopkins that "the proof of Shepherd's guilt was not evident and that the presumption of his guilt was not great."

Attorney Stewart asked Mr. Gorman if he had not made an investigation into McClintock's death about Christmas time and if he had not questioned Shepherd and allowed him to depart. Mr. Gorman replied that he had.

State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, who was directing the state's fight against bail, then asked Mr. Gorman: "If you had known then what you know now, would you have allowed Shepherd his liberty?"

Doesn't Wait for Ruling.

"No," Mr. Gorman said, without waiting for Judge Hopkins to rule on an objection by Attorney Stewart. "If I had known half as much then as I do now about the case I wouldn't have waited for him to come back to Chicago. I would have sent for him and had him brought back."

Under State's Attorney Crowe's questioning the first assistant prosecutor said that at the time he questioned Shepherd, Charles C. Faiman's confession had not been made implicating Shepherd, nor had he heard the evidence of Dr. George E. Fosberg and of John P. Marchand, both of whom were witnesses yesterday.

Faiman Again Testifies.

The hearing opened with Faiman on the witness stand, finishing the testimony he began Saturday, which was in the nature of a public confession that he aided Shepherd, advised him and furnished him with typhoid fever germs with which to inoculate McClintock. Faiman said during his examination that after he had testified before the grand jury he was told he might be given some consideration by the state when it came time to fix punishment for his part in the crime to which he confessed. This was to be granted if he helped to convict Shepherd, he said.

Offered Him Counsel.

State's Attorney Crowe showed by Faiman that he had offered to permit Faiman to call a lawyer after he confessed and that Faiman said he didn't want one. Faiman said that a lawyer named Boerger volunteered his services, but that he declined them.

"What is your plea now to murder—guilty or not guilty?" Attorney Stewart said quickly to Faiman, but State's Attorney Crowe and Judge Hopkins stopped a reply by the simultaneous declaration that Faiman was not then being arraigned and that Stewart was not clerk of the court. Stewart announced he had finished with Faiman, and called Marchand.

QUESTION FAIMAN

The most important testimony was that of Faiman by Attorney Stewart.

Q.—Saturday I took you over your various meetings with Shepherd. Now tell us in more detail the substance of your testimony before the grand jury. A.—I told more in detail of the meetings and gave conversations more specifically.

Q.—You mean you went into your lectures more fully? A.—Yes.

Q.—Was there anything Shepherd said or asked that you left out? If so tell the court. A.—He asked me about the relative value of treatments at two or three of our meetings. He asked me how to administer the typhoid bacilli and I told him in a watery solution. I gave him two sets of our lessons on bacteriology.

Stewart asked if it were not true that many lawyers study bacteriology.

"Not in our school," said Faiman.

Q.—Did either of the state's attorneys make any promises of immunity to you? A.—No.

Q.—Did they say they might do something for you? A.—No.

Q.—Now do you expect to be tried? An objection was sustained.

Q.—Was anything said about your trial? A.—They said I would have a separate trial.

Q.—What's your plea now to the murder, guilty or not guilty?

Marchand Is Questioned.

Marchand, Faiman's solicitor, was next questioned by Stewart.

Q.—What is your name? A.—John P. Marchand.

Q.—What is your real name? A.—Patrick J. McMann.

Q.—Why did you change it? A.—My wife did not like the other name.

The witness told of his visit to Shepherd's office and of discussing with him a course in bacteriology at Faiman's school, the National University of Sciences. At the conclusion of his direct examination Attorney Stewart asked him if he used dope and the witness angrily replied "No."

State's Attorney Crowe then questioned Marchand.

Q.—Did you have a talk with Faiman about the letter? A.—Yes, I talked with him more than once about it. I wanted him to fix up a course in bacteriology for lawyers and I would canvass every lawyer in the loop.

Q.—Did you return the letter to Faiman? A.—Yes.

Value of the Letter.

Attorney Stewart then asked:

Q.—Didn't you say later that the letter was worth $50,000? A.—Yes, or $100,000.

Q.—Would you like to have it now?

Judge Hopkins sustained an objection and Marchand was excused.

TELLS OF ESTATE

Attorney Alexander F. Reichmann was next questioned.

Q.—You were co-guardian of William McClintock? A.—Yes.

Q.—What was the value of the estate when Mrs. McClintock died? A.—Substantially under $1,000,000.

Q.—What was its value when William McClintock died? A.—Substantially over a million dollars.

He told about drawing Mrs. McClintock's will, about his guardianship of the boy, about his petition in the Probate court setting forth that the Shepherds were unfit persons to have the custody of the boy, then about the later family life of McClintock and the Shepherds. It was then that Attorney Stewart objected, saying that it cost him 50 cents a page for the transcript of such testimony and it was not worth it. Court recessed and again in the afternoon Reichmann was the witness.

An agreement was then made by the lawyers that Billy McClintock died of typhoid fever, but State's Attorney Crowe would not agree that the postmortem showed that disease as the only cause of death. It was decided to bring in the testimony of the coroner's physicians.

Judge Olson Causes Debate.

When Attorney Stewart called Judge Harry Olson and later turned him over to State's Attorney Crowe, the latter aroused some small debate by endeavoring to have Olson tell his whole story. Judge Hopkins ruled out such answers.

Stewart began the questioning.

Q.—Were you preasent at the death of William McClintock? A.—No, I was not.

Q.—During his illness? A.—No.

Q.—Have you seen Shepherd during a period of two years before McClintocks' death? A.—The last time I saw him was at Dr. Olson's funeral, three years ago last December.

Q.—Since the death of McClintock, have you questioned Shepherd? A.—I don't remember. I think I asked him one or two questions at the coroner's inquest.

Q.—Outside of this, have you questioned him? A.—No.

State's Attorney Crowe then questioned Olson.

"Tell us what you know of this case from its inception?"

An objection from Attorney Stewart was sustained. In response to questions the judge said he knew Mrs. McClintock when she was a baby, he knew her husband, and that he had seen Billy McClintock when he was 5 or 6 years old and again at the funeral of Dr. Olson.

Crowe Tries Again.

Prosecutor Crowe again attempted to ask the judge the broad question to tell what he knows, but Attorney Stewart again objected and said that the hearing must be limited by the rules of evidence, and the judge agreed with the defending attorney and said that up to that point neither had said anything "favorable or unfavorable on the motion at issue."

Prosecutor Crowe persisted in his effort to allow Judge Olson to talk generally, but Judge Hopkins ruled that the rules of evidence must apply, and Judge Olson finally said:

"May I say a word?"

Attorney Stewart objected, but the jurist witness insisted on talking until Judge Hopkins finally said:

"Objection sustained."

"I am talking to the court," insisted Judge Olson.

"Judge, you can't say any more than any other witness," finally said Judge Hopkins in quelling the witness, who seemed determined to speak.

FORSBERG'S STORY

Dr. Fosberg, being called, told of a meeting with Shepherd in May, 1924.

Q.—Give us the substance of the conversation. A.—He introduced himself and said he wanted to get some information relative to poison and bacteria. He said some relative, a young man, had died and he wanted to find out if he met with foul play—if a postmortem examination would show evidence of foul play. The conversation is quite remote now, and I may not give the exact words. We talked for an hour.

Q.—Was any one present? A.—People were coming in and going out.

Q.—Did he pay you? A.—Yes; $25 in cash.

Q.—Did you meet him again? A.—Yes, a week later in the Hotel La Salle. At the last visit we just talked of prussic acid and typhoid germs. At the first visit we talked about carbolic acid and other poisons. I think he made some allusion as to how he came to see me. He said some man who had an easy bookkeeping system gave him my name.

After brief questioning of Assistant State's Attorney Gorman, Attorney Sewart offered proof that Shepherd was not in custody during the inquest. Then Judge Hopkins announced he would hear the arguments of counsel today.

Schools Such as Faiman's Target of State Official

"Schools" such as Dr. Faiman's National University of Sciences will be stamped out of Illinois if a bill which will be introduced into the assembly at Springfield this week is made a law.

That was the assertion of A. M. Shelton, head of the state department of education and registration at Springfield, during an investigation trip he made yesterday into Chicago. He spent the day at the department's offices at 130 North Wells street.

"It's a shame to call such fly-by-night correspondence affairs 'schools,'" Mr. Shelton said. "They teach nothing and their diplomas are worthless. All they do is take suckers' money.

Would Bar Uninspected Schools.

"I am having introduced in the legislature at Springfield this week a bill which will make illegal the operation of any school which has not been inspected and recommended by a state examining board. New York is one of the few states that has such a law. It is a success there.

"At present my department has no check upon any one who desires to start a school. Any one who wants to can call himself a school, receive tuition fees, send out lessons by mail, and confer degrees. Of course the degrees don't mean anything, but there is no way to stop them from being conferred.

"This new act will stop all that."

Mr. Shelton declared he was confident the act would be passed, saying that the wide publicity given to Faiman's confession that Shepherd bought germs in his fake school had attracted attention to the diploma mills.

Finds People Indignant.

"A year ago, when I learned of this underworld stuff, I feared I couldn't get a law against it," he said. "Now people are indignant over the situation."

He said he often had sent for Faiman and rebuked him for his notorious school, but that Faiman had known he was within the law and had dared Shelton to get any evidence against him.

"Why should I make my school a real one," Shelton quotes Faiman as saying. "I can make a lot more money running the way I do than I could if I hired regular instructors."

Hawaii Spurns Plan to Become Part of California

PARLIAMENT OF EGYPT OUSTED AS BRITISH FOE WINS

King Refuses Resignation of Cabinet.

CARIO, Egypt, March 23.—[By the Associated Press.]—The Egyptian parliament which opened at 10 o'clock this morning had ceased to exist by 8 o'clock this evening. The session was probably the shortest in the history of Egypt.

The collapse was considered a striking victory for former Premier Zagloul Pasha, who has maintained that the results in the recent elections afforded his opponents no justification for forming a government.

The end came with dramtic suddenness. After Zagloul had been elected to the presidency of the chamber the house adjourned to reassemble at 5 o'clock. Zagloul presided but not one member of the ministry was present.

Election to Be in May.

The house had elected two followers of Zagloul as vice presidents of the chamber and was proceeding to the election of other officers when Premier Ziwar Pasha entered, followed by his ministers, who had been holding a council. Ziwar read a decree dissolving parliament.

Under the decree new elections will be held May 23 and the new parliament will be opened June 1.

There was much excitement as the deputies left the chamber. There was a considerable force of police in the vicinity of the parliament building, however, and no untoward incidents occurred.

Just after the election of Zagloul Premier Ziwar presented his resignation, but King Fuad refused to accept it.

Regrets Stack Death.

Premier Ziwar read the speech from the throne, outlining the government's program. It was punctuated with applause and at the termination there were cheers for the king.

The speech reiterated the deep regret felt by the Egyptian government for the assassination of Sir Lée Stack, the sirdar, and its best hope that his slayers would soon receive their merited punishment. Egypt's relations with Great Britain, which had been affected by the incident, again were becoming those of their habitual friendship and good understanding, the speech said.

LONE BANDIT DOES HIS STUFF.

OVER THE HILL TO OLD AGE PENSION, WISCONSIN PLAN

Madison, Wis., March 23.—[Special.]—Abolition of the poorhouse system and the substitution of a pension plan for poor people is advocated by the senate committee on public welfare, and the measure comes up for consideration before the upper house of the Wisconsin legislature Wednesday. Senator A. E. Garey [Edgerton], author of the plan, says the adoption of an old age pension system in Wisconsin would save many thousand dollars a year.

Senator Garey says that the almshouse system was established in England in the fourteenth century, but that in recent years European countries have found the pension system of greater advantage and cheaper.

To get a pension under the Garey bill, a person must be over 70 years of age, must have an annual income of less than $365, and have no legal relatives who can support him, and must have been a resident of Wisconsin for fifteen years or over. The pension granted shall not exceed $1 a day.

British Parliament Again Indorses Singapore Base

LONDON, March 23.—[By the Associated Press.]—The government tonight received another parliamentary vote of approval on its Singapore policy when the house of commons, by 280 to 129, rejected Ramsay MacDonald's motion to reduce the naval vote.

CARDINAL, BACK HOME, DIRECTS RELIEF DRIVE

Mundelein Takes Hand in Raising Funds.

George Cardinal Mundelein, on his return to Chicago yesterday from a six weeks' visit to Rome and four conferences with Pope Pius XI., spent five minutes of amiable conversation with a few intimate friends, clergy, and laity who came down to the depot to greet him, then plunged at once into the business of the church.

And that business right now, the cardinal stressed the point, is immediate relief for the wounded and homeless victims of the tornado in southern Illinois and Indiana.

The cardinal's first act upon arriving at his home was to get in telephone communication with Bishop Henry Althoff of the Belleville diocese, in the center of the storm area. Later in the evening he held a conference with local church officials and formed tentative plans for relief work.

Take Contributions Sunday.

Sunday has been designated, at his request, as special tornado contribution day for all of the 350 parishes in the archdiocese.

Letters will go out today from the chancellor's office asking that a high mass be sung in every church Sunday for the repose of the souls of those who were killed in the tornado and for the recovery of the hundreds who lie injured in temporary hospitals.

When the cardinal has got the relief work organized, and not until then, he yesterday indicated, he will announce the list of papal honors which he brings from the pope to several clergy, and it is rumored, to one or two prominent lay members of the Chicago diocese.

Relief Comes First.

"I prefer not to make these public at this time," the cardinal explained yesterday. Then he gave his reason.

"I would rather tell each one of the men first of the honor that has come to him. The announcement will come presently, but our first thought must be of the disaster downstate."

His European trip, Cardinal Mundelein said, has only emphasized more strongly than ever, what he has always believed: that,

"Everybody who can possibly afford it should go abroad. It makes them so much better Americans, by instilling in them a deeper love for America.

"And I," he added, "am no exception to this general rule. That means that I am very happy to be home."

Has Plans for Meeting.

The cardinal returns to Chicago with detailed plans for the Eucharistic congress to be held here a year from this June. Special significance is attached to this meeting, as it is the first time such a congress will have been held in the United States. Already international committees are at work, with local groups, planning for an estimated attendance of 1,000,000 Catholics from all parts of the world to attend the week's conference in June, 1926.

Cardinal Mundelein was accompanied on his European trip by the Rt. Rev. Mgr. Bernard Sheil, chancellor of the archdiocese of Chicago, and the Rt. Rev. Mgr. Dennis J. Dunne, D. D., former chancellor.

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Edward F. Hoban, auxiliary bishop of the archdiocese, boarded the train at South Chicago and came into the city with the cardinal's party.

Many Greet Cardinal.

Among those gathered at the depot to greet the returning traveler were: Father Francis A. Ryan, acting chancellor; Father William Agnew, president of Loyola university; the Rt. Rev. Mgr. Thomas Bona, consulter; the Rt. Rev. Mgr. C. J. Quille, secretary of the coming Eucharistic congress, and the three following laymen, all members of the order of the Knights of St. Gregory: D. F. Kelly, Joe McCarthy, the architect who built the training seminary at Mundelein, Ill., and Joseph Connery, fire commissioner, and by Dr. J. C. Moorhead, dean of Loyola university medical school.

$225,000 TOTAL NOW IN CHICAGO STORM AID FUND

W. R. Dawes Pleads for Prompt Giving.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK.

Every day's delay lessens the life saving power of a "relief" dollar.

This is the text of all the messages from relief contribution units, headed by the Chicago tornado relief committee, whose chairman, William R. Dawes, president of the Association of Commerce, yesterday reported that the committee had $225,000 in cash, or nearly one-half of its desired $500,000 in hand.

Another $75,000 has been pledged.

But the entire amount, $500,000, must be ready to be turned over to the Red Cross for immediate administration by noon tomorrow, Mr. Dawes urged yesterday in his joint report of thanks and request.

In addition to this fund there are a number of other contributing forces which are raising considerable money for relief work. The total money expected to go from Chicago and suburbs to southern Illinois and southwestern Indiana is approximated at $1,000,000.

Mr. Dawes' report yesterday of the activities of the mayor's city wide relief committee listed a number of donations made by employés of large firms, and in many cases these funds exceeded the donation of the firm itself.

One of the largest employé contributions came from the postoffice carriers and clerks, some $3,000. From the stock yards came the news that the Swift & Co. employés had subscribed $2,826.95; that the Swift company had donated $1,500, and that two auxiliary companies, G. H. Hammond & Co. and the Omaha Packing Co., had given $1,425 and $62.40, respectively.

I. C. Workers Give $1,586.

Officials and employés of the Illinois Central railroad subscribed $1,586, as a "starter," which $500 came from President C. H. Markham personally.

The men and women working for Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co. wholesale store gave $1,755; those from the retail, $1,775.75. Commuters on the elevated railroad dropped more than $1,500 in the boxes placed at all stations.

Other contributions of $1,000 or more made yesterday to Mr. Dawes' committee fund, include the following:

Chicago Surface Lines, $3,000.

Chicago Coal Merchants' association, $1,158.50, and the following, of $1,000 each: New York Central railroad; H. M. Byllesby & Co., Crane company, American Can company, American Radiator company, Baltimore and Ohio railroad, Hart Schaffner & Marx, Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co., and the United States Gypsum company.

Other Agencies Make Progress.

There were many reports of progress from the various other agencies collecting funds.

WLS, the radio station of the Sears-Roebuck agricultural foundation committee, signed off last night when $110,214.45 had been subscribed to its fund for tornado victims.

Howard P. Savage, Illinois commander of the American Legion, on his return yesterday from a visit to the devastated regions, reported that Chicago Legionnaires had collected $4,480.50.

THE TRIBUNE fund hit $61,003 by midnight last night. This was exclusive of the $16,000 received in checks made payable to the Red Cross and turned over to it immediately.

The Christian Science churches of Chicago announced their Sunday collections for relief work had netted them approximately $20,000.

Judge Francis Borrelli of the Grand Crossing court collected $146 in his courtroom. Judge William R. Fetzer, in the Shakespeare avenue court, sent in more than $100, the donations of prohibition law violators.

Ask $180,000 for Farm Relief.

Chief Bailiff Bernard W. Snow of the Municipal court and his employés turned over $300 to THE TRIBUNE fund for the tornado sufferers.

The opinion was rendered in connection with Mrs. Gwathmey's suit for separation on grounds of abandonment and nonsupport. She was denied a divorce last June by Justice Davis, and Gwathmey, obtaining a decree in Texas, married Mrs. Betsy C. Judd in Connecticut on July 4. Mrs. Judd was named co-respondent in Mrs. Gwathmey's first suit.

The main issue of abandonment will be pressed, Mrs. Gwathmey's attorney said. Counsel for Gwathmey said an appeal from Justice Levy's decision would be taken.

CITY FOLK MUST WAIT TO ADOPT STORM ORPHANS

Relief Agencies Press Hunt for Parents.

Chicago families cannot immediately adopt tornado orphans.

Officials at the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society, 308 North Michigan avenue, were busy explaining this rule to more than 100 childless couples in Chicago who yesterday made application for a child whose mother and father had perished in the tornado in southern Illinois last Wednesday.

"The home is committed to keeping children of the storm area in the locality of their former homes until their identification is established," C. V. Williams, director of the home, explained yesterday.

Thorough Search for Parents.

"This report is entirely erroneous, misleading people to think they can take a child immediately. The idea is splendid. But in fairness to the children we have to keep them near the devastated region until every possible check up is made to ascertain whether their parents did perish in the storm. In many cases we are hopeful of locating some relatives.

"Until then our local workers in the district have made arrangements to have the children given temporary homes with kindly people in the nearby communities."

A letter from Mrs. Minnie Smith, a Children's Home and Aid society worker who narrowly escaped serious injury in the storm that hit West Frankfort, says that only four children have been permitted to leave the territory. And each of the four, the report explains, was going to relatives who had wired they would be at the train to meet the orphan.

Sees Some Disappointments.

"Because our society and the Red Cross have worked out a plan which we believe is the fairest to the possible orphan," Mr. Williams declared, "some of these good folks who want to adopt a child immediately may be disappointed.

"But I wish these childless couples would know that there are many orphans right here in Chicago whose individual case is often just as acute as the suffering of those poor children down there. I am hopeful that this wonderful spirit of kindness that is manifest in these requests will carry over to the general adoption situation."

Lure of Nursing in Tornado Zone Takes His Bride Away

The lure of nursing in the exciting center of tornado swept southern Illinois took his 21-year-old bride from him, Herman Peskay, 2100 North Richmond street, reported to the police yesterday. He said his wife of a few months had studied nursing before marriage and rushed to Carbondale as soon as the plea for help reached Chicago.

WEEKS, DAVIS, WORK, NEW MAY LEAVE CABINET

Rumor in Capital Hints of Wholesale Changes.

Washington, D. C., March 23.—Eliot Wadsworth of Boston, assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of foreign loans and railroad advances, has submitted his resignation, but Secretary Mellon has not yet acted upon it.

Mr. Wadsworth was appointed to his present post by President Harding in March 1921. He has exerted similar control over the public health service finances and acted as secretary of the world war foreign debt commission.

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—Rumors of impending changes in the cabinet were revived today. According to the gossip, Postmaster General New and Secretaries Weeks, Work, and Davis will retire. Several of them, it was reported, will quit before congress reconvenes in regular session in December.

Inquiries at the White House failed to substantiate the reports, although it was said that certain resignations might be in prospect without the knowledge of President Coolidge.

Only Two Will Be Left.

Should these changes take place, only two of those who entered the cabinet with the Harding administration—Mellon and Hoover—will retain their portfolios.

President Coolidge has appointed five cabinet officers—Secretary Kellogg, Attorney General Sargent, Secretary Jardine, and Secretary Wilbur, who remain in his official family, and Harlan F. Stone, who served as attorney general for eleven months and was then appointed an associate justice of the Supreme court.

Political gossip has had it for several months that Secretary Weeks would resign on account of impaired health.

Work Back to Colorado.

According to another report, Secretary Work informed his friends after the November election that he desired to relinquish his post to return to Colorado to take up private affairs.

It was made known at the White House before the November election that Secretary Davis desired to leave the cabinet in March. Later President Coolidge announced that he had induced Mr. Davis to remain.

BAILIFF'S STARS IN HANDS OF MANY NOT BAILIFFS

Municipal court bailiff's stars issued more than eighteen years ago are still outstanding and in the possession of men never connected with the bailiff's office, Chief Bailiff Bernard W. Snow said yesterday.

Mr. Snow made the statement while investigating the possession of a star by Julius "Sol" Weisberg, who shot and killed Morris Goldman, also known as Gordon, in front of the Palace theater Sunday night. He said Weisberg got his star from Dennis J. Egan, former chief bailiff, and that he never was attached to the bailiff's staff.

"I found upon assuming office that there were forty-eight regular deputy bailiffs' stars which had disappeared, and were reported lost, stolen, or missing," said Mr. Snow. "I called all the stars in on this account and had a new star issued.

"Every now and then we find one of the old outstanding stars on some holdup man, burglar, gunman, or other crook. They use them to intimidate and pose as officers when the occasion demands."

PECK & PECK

TRIG, slender ankles, always alluring, are more fascinating than ever this Spring.

Bacchus, our new and exclusive hose shade, makes them so — Bacchus, holding captive in sheerest silk the intoxicating hue and sparkle of a rare wine.

Would you, too, add charm to your ankles with bewitching Bacchus?

You may and without exceeding your hosiery budget, be it handsomely large or tearfully small.

For all types of Peck & Peck's fine silk stockings can be had in Bacchus—the Bread and Butter, at $2; the Princess, at $3; the Queen Victoria, at $5; and the Empress, at $6. And in the other most popular Spring shades as well—Hoggar, Dusk, Entendu, Mandarine and Erable.

LETTERS TELL OF SYMPATHY FOR SUFFERERS

One Contributor Offers Job to Storm Victim.

The TRIBUNE-Legion fund for the relief of sufferers in the tornado stricken area in southern Illinois and Indiana yesterday went skyrocketing to $61,003.66.

The flood of contributions that has choked the mail baskets in THE TRIBUNE office since the fund started show no sign of diminution. The number of notes inclosing donations and containing some expression of sympathy for the afflicted grows steadily larger.

To W-G-N Radio Station.

Checks representing hundreds of dollars also reached W-G-N, THE TRIBUNE radio station, yesterday. Among them was one contribution, accompanied by the following note from Rear Admiral F. W. Symonds, retired, of Galesville, Wis.

"Will you kindly give the inclosed check to THE TRIBUNE for transfer to the Red Cross tornado fund? The prompt expression of sympathy and personal endeavor shown by THE TRIBUNE is deserving of high commendation."

Two checks totaling $301 were handed to a TRIBUNE reporter, contributions from the chief bailiff and employés of his office in the Municipal court. Because the checks were made payable to the treasurer of the Red Cross, however, it is not possible to list them with donations to THE TRIBUNE-Legion fund.

Some for Red Cross.

More than $2,000 in checks drawn in favor of the Red Cross have reached the office of the treasurer of THE TRIBUNE-Legion fund. It has been explained that no one except the Red Cross treasurer is authorized to handle such checks, and they are therefore not acknowledged in THE TRIBUNE.

With his check for $50, C. K. Anderson, president of the American Wire Fabrics corporation, offers the position of caretaker of a summer home to a man and wife of the storm district.

The Armour plant conference board yesterday reported further contributions from employés of the plant, bringing their total donation to $2,194. The service office of the Legion reported remittances totaling $4,480.

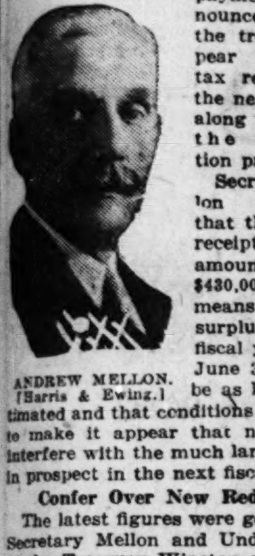
NEW INCOME TAX CUT SURE, MARCH 15 STUDY SHOWS

Receipts for First Quarter Put at 430 Million.



ANDREW MELLON.
[Harris & Ewing.]

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—Tax receipts from the March 15 payments, as announced today by the treasury, appear to assure tax reduction in the next congress along the lines of the administration program.

Secretary Mellon announced that these March receipts would amount to about $430,000,000, which means that the surplus for the fiscal year ending June 30 next will be as large as estimated and that conditions are such as to make it appear that nothing will interfere with the much larger surplus in prospect in the next fiscal year.

Confer Over New Reduction.

The latest figures were gone over by Secretary Mellon and Undersecretary of the Treasury Winston at a conference with Representative Green [Rep., Ia.], chairman of the house ways and means committee. Mr. Green is leaving the city tomorrow and called at the treasury to discuss preliminary plans for the revision of revenue laws.

Mr. Green said that hearings on the new tax bill probably will commence on Oct. 19. Secretary Mellon assured him that the treasury will have its suggestions ready to submit at that time. Meantime Mr. Green intends to study taxing laws in Europe.

The approaching tax revision also was commented on during the day by Senator Smoot [Rep., Utah], chairman of the senate finance committee, who called on President Coolidge at the White House.

Smoot for Lower Surtax.

Senator Smoot declared himself for a reduction of the maximum surtax rate to 25 per cent, or lower, as advised by Secretary Mellon. Senator Smoot also suggested the advisability of some sort of mutual arrangement between the federal government and the states under which the field of income taxation would be left to the federal government and that of taxation of estates and inheritances to the states.

Senator Smoot's views are in accord with those of Mr. Mellon, who has indicated that he believes that the federal estate tax should be reduced and gradually eliminated.

Secretary Mellon said he felt that previous estimates of a $68,000,000 surplus in the current fiscal year will be borne out.

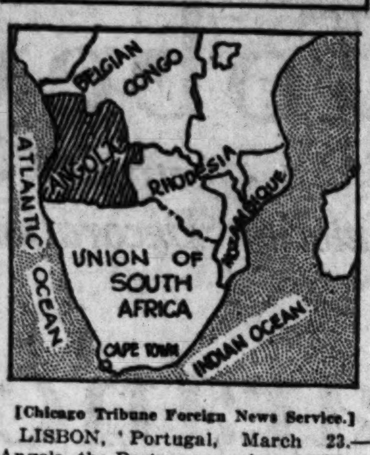
COLONY IN TROUBLE



[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

LISBON, Portugal, March 23.—Angola, the Portuguese colony in West Africa, is in serious difficulties. The former high commissioner, Gen. Norton Matos, now Portuguese ambassador to England, borrowed a large sum without apparently realizing the difficulty which the colony might undergo when the time of repayment arrived. Payment is now due, but the colony has not sufficient resources to pay its debt and maintain its credit.

The National Ultramarino bank, the bank of issue for the Portuguese colonies, now refuses to accept drafts emanating from Angola and has stopped all discount facilities. In consequence, commerce is paralyzed, stocks of merchandise cannot be shipped, and government employés have not been paid for months.

FOILS JEWELRY ROBBERY; PHONES TO LOCK DOOR

An alleged attempt last night by two men to rob the A. D. T. Jewelry plant, 709 Mallers building, was foiled by the ingenuity of one of the partners in the company.

Nathan Davis, the ingenious one, went out of the shop where he was working with Nathan Turchik to get some lunch. He noted two men lurking in a doorway next to his shop. One commanded him to halt, but Davis ran and kept on down seven flights of stairs until he reached the street.

There he phoned Turchik not to open the door, then got Patrolman T. S. Ryan. The officer arrested Thomas J. Galvin, who carried a gun and a letter of introduction to the late Ald. Joseph Kostner, and Elmer Ellingson, who had some wire and gags in his pockets.

COP SHOOTS TWO OF FOUR TRYING TO HOLD HIM UP

When four bandits attempted to hold up Policeman John E. McNamara last night, he pulled out his revolver and wounded two of the robbers.

McNamara, attired in civilian clothes, was returning to his home at 927 North Leamington avenue when an automobile pulled up beside him at Leamington and Iowa streets. Four men jumped out, ordering the policeman to throw up his hands. Instead, he reached for his gun and fired.

Bomb Wrecks Porch of Northwest Side Barber

A bomb was exploded early this morning on the porch of Albert Bezoequa, 4209 North Mozart street, a barber with a shop at 38 North Dearborn street. Bezoequa said that about a year ago he had had some trouble with the barbers' association. No one was injured by the explosion.

FRENCH BLOW AT U. S. AID TO HAITI WORRIES LEAGUE

Geneva Officials Await Herriot's Action.

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, March 23.—The league of nations, according to a dispatch from Geneva, today received a copy of the document transmitted to Premier Herriot by the league for the rights of man, demanding that the French government urge action on the United States' military occupation of Haiti by the next meeting of the council of the league of nations at Geneva in June.

The league officials are declared to be extremely worried by the receipt of the document, foreseeing endless trouble if the league is forced to take up the matter. However, the officials have decided to await the action of the French government on M. Herriot's copy of the document before issuing any comment or taking action in the matter.

Text of Protest.

The protest, which emanated from the leaders of the Haiti branch, was adopted by the central committee and sent to Quai d'Orsay on March 17. THE TRIBUNE obtained a copy of the resolution, which says in part:

"On the 28th of July, 1914, United States troops commanded by Admiral Caperton disembarked on Haitian soil for a pacific occupation.

"The measure was not solicited by the Haitian government and was not provoked by any motives which could justify or explain intervention in the state affairs of another state. No American citizen was persecuted in person or property and no contractual debt weighted the Antilles republic to the American federation. The United States arbitrarily assumed the mandate of protective power against a nation whose juridic equality and sovereignty never before was contested.

"The situation persisted after the war, and at the Paris peace conference the Haitian delegate submitted the matter to Woodrow Wilson and Robert Lansing, but the former said he was too busy settling the peace of the world, the latter declared himself merely a delegate at Paris and secretary of state only at Washington.

Cites McCormick Protest.

"The United States senate heard some protests, notably by Senator McCormick, who declared on the 28th of March, 1924:

"'The continuation of martial law in Haiti and the subjection of the Haitian citizens to United States courts-martial is an anti-democratic and anti-republican act and contrary to the American ideals.'

"The state of siege continued, journalists were imprisoned, and the foreign occupation became brutal, and it is estimated that 3,500 Haitian peasants were killed during the period.

"We ask you, then, to submit to the council of the league of nations this important affair, which must without delay be solved."

COPS ROUT REDS TRYING TO TELL OF MAY 1 RISING

5,000 Foes Stage Big Anti-Soviet Rally.

A handful of communists set up a lot of noise and commotion on the west side last night and for their earnest efforts in behalf of dear old bolshevism were thrown on their ears by half a handful of husky policemen.

Two emissaries of William Z. Foster, head of the communists in America, have been here for several months, agitating from dawn to midnight among the 35,000 members of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers' union. They are Philip Arenberg and Joseph Drujinski, and when their activities came to the attention of the union's officials the two were expelled.

Arenberg and Drujinski then hired Temple hall at Marshfield avenue and Van Buren street, in the name of the Amalgamated Garment Workers, by the way, for a meeting last night, when they confidently expected to tell all about the big revolution set for May day.

Reveal Plan to Take Plants.

On der tag, they were to explain, the garment workers would take over all the factories in the city making clothing. Committees of workers would then run the factories and divide the profits among the toilers, just as it's done, so the soviet says, in Russia.

But the garment workers heard about the use of their name to hire the hall and set up a counter plot.

So when Messrs. Arenberg and Drujinski arrived with the key to the hall last night they found 5,000 anti-soviet workers waiting to greet them. The throng was so great that several squads of police worked an hour to break it up and release traffic.

Red Chieftains Steal Away.

So belligerent were the garment workers against the Reds that Arenberg and Drujinski, with some imported New York Reds, got a case of common cold feet and stole away to a symphony of "down with the soviet" and "no bolshevism for us."

Finally police got the unionists broken up and they promptly adjourned to Carmen's hall, a block away, and held a red hot anti-soviet meeting.

Hardly was it under way than the handful of Fosterites stole in and startled heckling the loyal speakers. In an instant they were in Van Buren street, nursing their heads and brushing their dusty clothing, and the meeting went on to a star spangled finish.

MUSSOLINI ON HIS FIRST OUTING; PLAYS WITH LION

ROME, March 23—[By the Associated Press.]—Premier Mussolini took his first real outing today since his illness. He went for a long automobile drive through the Pincian gardens, riding on the front seat with the chauffeur and enjoying the mild spring breezes.

After an hour's drive he proceeded to the zoölogical gardens, where he entered a cage and fondled his pet lion. The animal at first seemed shy, appearing not to recognize his old master, who had paid him daily visits, but later the threatening growl changed to a complacent purr.

BRITON WOULD MAKE U. S. TEA DRINKING NATION

Sir Charles Higham, noted English advertising specialist, spoke last night before fifty of Chicago's tea distributors at a banquet at the Chicago Athletic association in a drive to make more general the use of tea as a beverage in American homes. He comes as a representative of the India Tea Growers' association, which has appropriated large sums to boost the tea drinking habit in the United States. He declared that the 4 o'clock tea will become a fixed function in American homes as it is in England.

"You Americans know practically nothing about tea," he said. "Over here one pound per capita is consumed as against ten in England every year. Tea is a stimulating drink, and now that prohibition is here in this country you need the tea. I predict an increase of 3,000,000 pounds in the use of tea in America this year over last."

Sir Charles plans to address women's clubs and numerous civic organizations in his crusade in behalf of tea.

10 Judges of the contest will be: Dr. Franklyn B. Snyder, Professor of English, Northwestern University; Prof. Ronald S. Crane, Associate Professor of English, University of Chicago; Rev. Claude J. Pernin, S. J. Department of English, Loyola University.

NOTE—No employees of The Foreman Banks or members of their immediate families will be allowed to compete in this contest. Contest blanks at Desk 40, Savings Department — The Foreman Trust and Savings Bank, Ground Floor, La Salle and Washington Streets.

Everyone can compete

THIS is everybody's chance. YOU can win $1,000. The test is easy, conditions simple.

These prizes will be awarded for the longest and best lists of words made from the letters in the name THE FOREMAN BANKS.

Here are the letters: 2 As, B, 2 Es, F, H, K, M, 2 Ns, O, R, S and T. Twelve letters, including three vowels and nine consonants, with two each of A, E and N, and the other letters just once. You can use any of these letters just as often as they appear in the name. So you can use two As, two Es and two Ns, but only one B, F, H, K, M, O, S and T. You can list Hater, but not Hatter, because there is only one T. But you can list Manna, with two As and two Ns, but not Mamma, because there are three Ms in Mamma and only one in the name THE FOREMAN BANKS, while there are two As and Ns.

The only qualification to compete for these prizes is that you have $10 or more on deposit in The Foreman Trust and Savings Bank. So anyone who is a depositor, new or old, has a chance to win one of these prizes. It costs you nothing to enter, and your deposit is, of course, yours to do with as you please. The offer is made to promote thrift and to start people saving money — the most important thing of all for future success.

Enter now. Ask for a convenient contest blank at Desk 40. Come and get one, or write for one.

HOMESITES ON THE RIDGE
Overlooking the Skokie

To those who would possess a home on the North Shore now or later, an opportunity is presented to secure a homesite so rare in natural beauty and in such close proximity to transportation that comparable sites are fast becoming unobtainable.

These sites are in Ravinia Hillside on the high ridge overlooking the beautiful Skokie Valley, with direct access to the Green Bay Road.

Here, thirty-five minutes from downtown, two blocks from transportation, on high and rolling ground, are exactly eighty-eight spacious homesites, carefully planned and landscaped, and rigidly restricted.

Lake Michigan is six blocks to the east, Ravinia Park is close by and a golf course adjoins the property.

So that those who are interested may learn more of Ravinia Hillside, the unusual beauty of its location and the convenient prices and terms, a booklet has been prepared called "Sunset On The Skokie." This booklet is free and there is no obligation involved in asking for it; simply mail the coupon below. Mail it today!

EXPOSE METHODS OF FIXING SPEED CASES IN COURT

Investigator Tells How Law Is Beaten.

tion is supposed to send out a man to arrest Christensen. It was learned that Wabash avenue never received a capias for this speeder. The investigator went to Christensen's home and asked his mother about the arrest. She called her married daughter, Mrs. Hoaglund. She said that a Mr. Edward F. Warner, whose car the boy was driving, fixed the ticket. The boy never went to court. He was talked to over the phone. He said the ticket was fixed and he did not have to appear.

On checking up the original court sheet handled by the judge, it was found that against Christensen's name the word "discharged" had been written by the judge. Station blotter shows a capias had been issued for him.

No Capias to Police.

Another man who had a capias case is Harry Comfield, 1253 South Spaulding avenue. He was arrested on Feb. 28, going thirty-one miles. "The Stockyards station was supposed to send a capias to Fillmore station to serve, but the books were checked very carefully and no capias reached the Fillmore station.

The case of George Manzak, 3860 Lexington street. Same story. He was arrested and taken to Stockyards. Doing thirty-six miles. Fillmore station supposed to get this capias. Never received there. The judge's sheet was marked "discharged."

Police blotters in another station show on Feb. 15 Joseph Dorband, 6421 North Claremont avenue, was arrested for speeding. Police disposition book marked "capias." Judge's sheet show the man "discharged." Original complaint marked discharge. Same is true of case of Emil F. Hess, Wilmette, arrested Feb. 15.

Arrested Twice, Discharged.

Herbert A. Hauple, 1547 Birchwood avenue, was arrested for speeding on Feb. 18 and again on Feb. 19. Both times doing better than thirty-five miles. Police blotter shows "capias." Judge's sheet shows "discharged." Original complaint 547,198 shows "discharge."

James Lutch, 2312 Foster avenue, arrested Feb. 20. Police blotter shows "capias." Judge's sheet shows "discharged." Same is true of seven or eight more cases that are on hand.

On March 12, the west park police arrested fifteen for speeding. Nine were discharged. March 11, twenty-seven speeders arrested, thirteen discharged [all doing better than thirty-five]. March 10, forty-seven arrested, twenty-seven discharged. The west park cases are heard at Des Plaines street court. The west park police serve warrants.

One Officer's Record.

Here is a record of one motorcycle policeman's work and what came of it:

Feb. 14—6 arrests; 2 discharged going thirty-two to thirty-four miles, 3 fined $1 and $1 costs, 1 warrant.

Feb. 26—6 arrests; 5 discharged going thirty to thirty-two, one fined $3 and $2 costs, doing thirty-one miles.

Feb. 28—9 arrests; 4 discharged, all doing thirty-two; one fined $2 and $3 and 2 fined $1 and $2; 1 warrant; 1 continued.

March 6—6 arrests; 5 discharged, all doing over thirty-two; one fined $1 and $1 costs—he was only doing twenty-nine miles.

March 8—6 arrests; 4 discharged, 1 continued, and 1 warrant.

March 10—3 arrests; 1 discharged, doing thirty-two miles; 1 fined $1 and costs; the third was fined $2 and $3 costs—he was only going thirty miles.

March 10—4 arrests; 2 discharged; 2 fined.

EAT OYSTERS, DR. RAWLINGS' TIP TO FAT ONES

Eat oysters if you would reduce, fat folk are advised in a bulletin issued yesterday by Dr. Isaac D. Rawlings, state director of public health, who asserts the bivalves are regarded by health authorities as one of the most valuable of all sea foods.

Oysters, according to Dr. Rawlings, have all of the chemical food value of milk without its fattening constituents, and, as a result, are especially suitable for the diet of persons with a tendency toward obesity.

"Oysters also have a high mineral content, including a small amount of iodine," says the bulletin. "Iodine in food is particularly profitable for the prevention of goiter. Altogether, oysters constitute a very valuable food, from the dietary standpoint, and, in addition, they have this certain value as a preventative of disease."

FIRE IN POSTAL TELEGRAPH OFFICES.

Damage, estimated at $200, was caused by a fire which started in the basement of the Postal Telegraph company's offices, 179 North Wabash avenue, last evening.

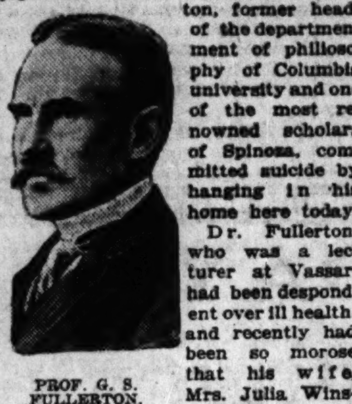
DR. FULLERTON, EDUCATOR AND WRITER, A SUICIDE

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., March 23.—[Special]—Prof. George Stuart Fullerton, former head of the department of philosophy of Columbia university and one of the most renowned scholars of Spinoza, committed suicide by hanging in his home here today.



PROF. G. S. FULLERTON.

Dr. Fullerton, who was a lecturer at Vassar, had been despondent over ill health, and recently had been so morose that his wife, Mrs. Julia Winslow Fullerton, had kept an almost constant watch over him. This morning she left the house for a few minutes and the suicide followed.

Dr. Fullerton's collapse followed his internment in a German prison camp during the war.

Dr. Fullerton was born in Fatehgarh, India, sixty-nine years ago, the son of the Rev. Robert Stewart Fullerton.

In 1913 the late Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria invited him to the University of Vienna.

Among Dr. Fullerton's works are: "A Handbook of Ethical Theory," "Germany of Today," "The World We Live In," "A System of Metaphysics," "The Philosophy of Spinoza," "Plain Argument for God," and others.

Driven to Suicide by Constant Headaches

William Kleiman's last thoughts as he turned on the gas in his room at 942 North Avers avenue yesterday were of his aged parents and his life insurance. Constant nervous headaches had driven him to suicide. In a note he advised that when his body was discovered the gas should be turned off and the room aired "so that suspicion of suicide won't interfere with your collecting my insurance."

BOY'S BODY IS FOUND IN ALLEY; CRUSHED BY AUTO

Two Deaths Put Toll at 134 Mark.

Two more names were added yesterday to the county's motor death list, raising the total since Jan. 1 to 134. Theodore Knifke, 8, was found dead in the alley in the rear of his home at 6316 South Peoria street, evidently the victim of an automobile. His body was crushed and bruised. THEO KNIFKE.

While crossing at Robey street and Wabansia avenue, Alyex Wojcik, 41, 1951 North Hermitage avenue, was struck and fatally injured by a motor truck. The driver was ordered to appear at the inquest.

Held for Manslaughter.

Criminal negligence caused the death last Saturday of Mrs. Isabella Harvey, 75, 640 Sheridan road, Evanston, it was decided yesterday by a coroner's jury. C. Z. Henkle, 1119 Maple avenue, Evanston, driver of an automobile which killed the aged woman, was held to the grand jury, charged with manslaughter.

Henry Topazowski, 3, 945 North Ashland avenue, was severely injured yesterday when struck while playing in front of his home by a Premier taxicab driven by Samuel Suporstowski, 1252 South Sangamon street, who was held.

Get Details of Accidents.

Coroner's investigators yesterday were at work obtaining details of the four motor fatalities which occurred on Sunday. Among the Sunday dead were John J. O'Brien and Carl Schroeder.

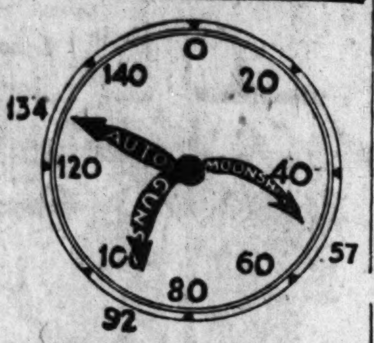
An intoxicated woman motorist who drove her automobile at a high rate of speed in a zigzag course north in Lincoln avenue was last night locked up by police after she had collided with two automobiles in one block.

At the town hall station, where she was booked on charges of driving while intoxicated, the woman gave the name of May Riley, 47 years old, 655 Barry avenue. The license on her automobile was issued, police found, to M. Hughes at the Barry avenue address.

Crashes Into Two Autos.

At Greenview and Lincoln avenues the woman swerved her car into an automobile driven by Herbert Grunne, 3253 Herndon avenue. She sped on without stopping and at Belmont and Lincoln avenues, crashed into the automobile of Arthur Glanche, 1744 Newport avenue. She was arrested there by Policeman Charles Day.

HANDS OF DEATH



The hands of the clock indicate the number of deaths by autos, guns, and moonshine in Cook county since Jan. 1. Yesterday was the eighty-second day of 1925.

ARRESTED ON BAD CHECK CHARGE.

Charged with passing worthless checks amounting to $500 in a Los Angeles hotel, Otto L. Bihlmire, 35, 446 West 61st place, was arrested yesterday.

TENNESSEE BILL BARS EVOLUTION IN THE SCHOOLS

Nashville, Tenn., March 23.—Tennessee today rung down the curtain on the Darwin-Huxley drama, so far as this state is concerned, when Gov. Austin Peay signed a bill passed by the general assembly casting into discard the theory of evolution.

The bill bars the teaching of evolution in the public schools, normals and colleges of the state. The governor in a message to the legislature accompanying the bill, declared evolution "at variance with the teachings of man's creation as related in the Bible."

Calls Bill a Protest.

The governor asserted that the bill represented a "distinct protest against an irreligious tendency to exalt so-called science and to deny the Bible, a tendency fundamentally wrong and fatally mischievous in its effects on our children, our institutions, and our country."

The bill, he said, contravenes neither "freedom of religion" nor "strict separation of church and state."

"It is manifestly impossible," the message continued, "for our school system to omit attention to the Bible. His holy word directly governing our relationship to the future state of rewards and punishments."

Varies with Bible.

"Nobody will deny," the message said, "that the Bible teaches that man was created by God in his own image. This bill is founded in the idea and belief that the very integrity of the Bible is denied by any theory that man descended or has ascended from any lower order of animals. That such theory is at utter variance with the Bible story of man's creation, is incapable of successful contradiction."

The new act makes it unlawful for any teacher in the universities, normals, or other schools of the state which obtain state funds "to teach any theory that denies the story of the divine creation of man as taught in the Bible, and to teach instead that man has descended from a lower order of animals."

"It will be seen," the message pointed out, "that this bill does not require any particular theory or interpretation of the Bible regarding man's creation to be taught in the public schools."

Under the anti-evolution act, the governor elaborated, "it is perfectly plain that any creed or interpretation of the Bible touching man's creation is permissible under this bill which does not deny his divinity and does not teach that man has been evolved from a lower animal."

The bill was passed in each house of the assembly by a heavy vote.

CALGARY JOBLESS INVADE CAPITAL BY FREIGHT TRAIN

Edmonton, Alta., March 23.—[By the Associated Press.]—The vanguard of Calgary's unemployed "army," which started to walk to Edmonton, the capital of Alberta, on Saturday, arrived 120 strong last night, traveling on a freight train. A reception committee of city, provincial, and railway police met the men and arrested one on a charge of trespassing on railway property.

The advance guard of the "army" of 400 started to walk here from Calgary, a distance of 196 miles, but after a trek of twenty miles invaded the freight train, the crew of five being powerless to resist.

OYSTERS

FEDERAL

The oyster is one of our most abundant and important food delicacies harvested from the sea. Surrounded with an abundance of food, it becomes fat, luscious and tender. It shares with other sea foods a richness in certain important food elements usually less abundant in land foods. Experts recommend the greater consumption of such raw foods to supply deficiencies in our diet resulting from the too general consumption of cooked foods.

Henry O'Malley
U. S. Commissioner of Fisheries, Washington, D. C.

STATE

Oysters are regarded by health authorities as one of the most valuable of all sea foods. The chemical food value of oysters is practically the same as milk without the fattening constituent. Oysters are, therefore, especially suitable for the diet of persons who have a tendency toward obesity.

Oysters also have a relatively high mineral content, including a small amount of iodine. Iodine in food is particularly profitable in the prevention of goiter. Altogether oysters constitute a very valuable food, from the dietary standpoint, and in addition they have this certain value as a preventive of disease.

Isaac D. Rawlings
Director of Public Health, State of Illinois.

MUNICIPAL

1. The oyster now properly safeguarded is a highly useful food. It contains such healthful ingredients as iodine, which is a valuable specific against goiter and which is much needed in many regions of the United States, including the vicinity of Chicago.
2. It is a non-fattening food.
3. It is rich in vitamine "C" which is important in a balanced diet.

Herman N. Bundesen
Commissioner of Public Health, City of Chicago.

Eat More Fish Now

Food Values

Remember the food value and health value of fish. 90% of the fat, 97% of the protein and 95% of the solids are taken directly into the blood—which means physical energy and brainpower, without adding idle weight.

Lent

At this season and at every season, Chicago people are most favored. Fast express service brings sea foods fresh from the Atlantic, fresh from the Pacific, and fresh from the Gulf—while at our very doors is the world's most abundant source of fresh water fish—the great lakes.

Enjoy Them

As a food and as a healthful delicacy, eat more fish and oysters. Broaden your acquaintance with them—in your restaurant or hotel—and at your local dealer's.

THE THREE EX-MAYORS—WHAT DID THEY EVER DO?

Carter H. Harrison, Edward F. Dunne and William Hale Thompson, joining in opposition to the Dever traction plan, have asked Gov. Small to have Attorney General Carlstrom give the voters of Chicago a legal interpretation of the ordinance.

Harrison, Dunne, and Thompson are ex-mayors of Chicago. Harrison was elected in 1897, and the three of them administered city affairs from that time up to Dever's term, with the exception of four years of Fred Busse, from 1907 to 1911.

For a generation the political control of the city was in their hands. Carter Harrison began with fighting Yerkes to keep him from getting a fifty year franchise for trolley cars. He beat Yerkes. Yerkes did not get the streets. Chicago did not get the trolley cars. After fighting Yerkes to a standstill Harrison fought everything. He had four terms in succession, and when he went out of office the only change in transportation was deterioration in the method used when he first went in office.

Cables pulled the bulk of Chicago traffic. The cables were weaker and the cars nearer the junk pile after four terms of Harrison. That was all he had to show for four elections. The rush hour was the favorite time for cables to snap in North Clark street and West Madison street; naturally, because then they had the greatest load. Then everybody walked home to a cold dinner.

A citizen living out on what's now called Broadway and was then Evanston avenue took the cable to the old barns near Diversey boulevard and then waited for a horse car. Harrison was against the overhead trolley and wouldn't have it. He said it was dangerous in fighting fires. No trolleys downtown, not so long as Harrison sat in the city hall.

In his time there was growing up in the city council as distinguished a group of aldermen as Chicago ever had. They undertook a study of the traction problem, and it was a problem. Many people now have forgotten all about it. The north and west side lines represented a pyramiding of securities and obligations which defied any one to untangle, and hanging over the whole thing was the ninety-nine year act under which claim was made that the franchises did not expire. The hard working, intelligent aldermen did untangle it with the help of Walter Fisher. The ordinances of 1907, which have two years to run, were the result.

Harrison had given way to Dunne. Dunne was for I. M. O. and nothing else but. He surrounded himself with a mixture of bolts and nuts as a kitchen cabinet and the mayor's office was full of long hair and wild talk. He brought over a hard-headed Scotch traction expert, Dalrymple, who was to tell him and the people of Chicago that municipal ownership, immediate, was the ticket, along with the zone system of fares. The Scotchman spent a few days looking at the street railway system and took one look at the assorted bolts and nuts. Then he made a speech saying that Dunne's plan was about the worst thing that could happen to Chicago, and went home.

The council passed the ordinances which have given Chicago the best surface car system in the country. Dunne vetoed it. That was his contribution to Chicago transportation. The council passed it again, and it went to the people, with Busse running against Dunne and for the ordinance. Both won. Dunne had repudiated the ordinances framed under his administration. The people got the best constructed surface car tracks in the country and the best cars by adopting the ordinances. The companies paved the part of the street used by the tracks, and out of that the city gradually got its first decent street paving. The companies cleaned their right of way, and out of that the city gradually got a system of street cleaning. The city's percentage of the net receipts accumulated, and now there is a traction fund of over $40,000,000 available for use under the Dever plan.

All Harrison and Dunne in ten years had done was to prevent or try to prevent any relief from the preposterous conditions imposed by snapping cables and stumbling horses on the daily lives of the citizens.

When Busse went out, after four years which saw the start at the only street car reconstruction the city has had in this generation, Harrison came back to smoke in the mayor's office for four more years. He couldn't stop what had been started, but he knew that what the city needed, having an excellent surface system, was rapid transit in subways. He could sit without lifting a finger to get them, and he did.

Then Thompson came in and started Big Billing. There was eight years of that. He had a street car strike, and the people walked and jitneyed. The car men had to have more money, and the fares went up. The tom-toming didn't stop that. The elevated fares went up to 10 cents, and Thompson did not try to stop that. The federal court finally fixed the surface line fare at 7 cents.

The city had eight years of Thompson in which experts got $250,000 out of the traction fund for a twenty page traction report and the cars' users got higher fares. That was all of that.

It had two years of Dunne, in which all he did was to veto and oppose the ordinances which, adopted by the people, gave the city a modern surface street car system.

It had twelve years of Harrison, which were devoted to maintaining the cable trains for metropolitan transportation.

Mayor Dever in two years has produced a plan for the building of subways, the extension of the elevated, and the laying of new surface tracks, work to begin this year.

Harrison, Dunne and Thompson are against it. Why not? What have they ever been for? What did they ever do? Their whole record is one of obstruction. Their civic motto is "It shall not be done." They fear that the people may do it this time as they did it once before when Dunne tried to stop improvement. Therefore the appeal to Small to see if he can't stop it through the attorney general or the commerce commission.

We'll say for these boys that they are game—and consistent.

THE FRENCH WANT TO CHASE US OUT OF HAITI.

The French League of the Rights of Man has sent to Premier Herriot a resolution demanding that the French government bring up before the league of nations the American military occupation of Haiti. The League of the Rights of Man is described as one of the most powerful organizations in France. Its membership comprises 75 per cent of the French chamber of deputies and of the senate. The prime minister is a member. The executive committee adopted the resolution and sent it to Herriot.

American marines were sent to Haiti after the assassination of President Guillaume Sam in 1915. The French marines had already landed. They got out when the Americans came in. Haiti had gone back to its native barbarism. The American marines stopped the massacres and protected life and property. The Haitian president has a marine guard. If he loses it he'll need an undertaker, but under the marines the country has had peace and it is getting prosperity.

The French resolution may open some American eyes. Others have been open from the time the covenant of the league was laid before the United States senate. The league in essence is the Holy Alliance against which the Monroe doctrine of "hands off the Americas" was directed over a hundred years ago. The leopard of Europe has not changed its spots although it has changed its name to league.

Our grandfathers and great-grandfathers had to warn the continent of Europe that it could not undertake the reconquest of Latin America and the reëstablishment of its imperialism in this hemisphere. Our fathers found France reëstablishing an empire in Mexico in spite of this doctrine when the war for the preservation of the American Union was being fought. The French troops were withdrawn when the United States again had its hands free.

The United States has not regarded French colonial imperialism as any of its business so long as that is confined to Asia and Africa. But it is as concerned now as ever that European interference shall not penetrate further in North and South America than it already has.

If the United States had joined the league of nations it would have been subjected to just such interference as is now proposed in the French resolution. It is said that even if the French government raised the question of Haiti the British would stop it before a similar question was raised regarding Egypt. Possibly so, but we do not rely on that.

President Coolidge has favored the world court. This French incident might well cause him to reconsider. Our conviction grows that the United States cannot wisely or safely make any agreement with Europe which could give any color of right to a demand that any American policy or interest be dragged before a European council or tribunal.

A policy of noninterference in Europe and of noninterference by Europe in America has all the validity of experience, and any departure from it will be to our cost and sorrow.

NAVY PLANE CARRIERS.

The navy department intends to ask congress for three more 23,000 ton airplane carriers. The carriers Lexington and Saratoga are being built. They will have a tonnage of about 35,000 each. When they have been completed they will be tested and studied to determine what the best type of carrier is, and then authority for three more will be asked.

With the five in commission the fleet would have carriers for 165 bombing planes. If navy aviation is to have any radius of action off shore the navy must have carriers able to steam with the fleet. It cannot slow down for them safely without sacrificing all initiative in action, and unless they can steam with the fleet it is without air protection. The enemy bombers would be over it without any dispute for control of the air and no protection for the battleships except what their anti-aircraft guns could give.

The mother ship is the key to successful naval aviation, and the United States has been in this requirement of air defense just as backward as it has been in meeting all other requirements of the air. The navy has no carrier in commission which could keep up with the fleet. If the fleet wanted air protection now it would have to give the enemy every advantage which evolves from speed, which means the choice of fighting when and how it pleases.

Editorial of the Day

CHICAGO TO VOTE ON M. O.

[The Detroit News.]

April 7 will be an important day in Chicago's history. On that day Chicago citizens will vote on whether they will buy the privately owned surface and elevated car lines under a scheme by which the purchase price would be paid out of earnings.

It was pointed out in the council debate that although many administrations in the city hall had promised new lines, better service, and 5 cent fare, there had been no new lines, the service had deteriorated, and the fare had gone to 8 cents. Under continued private ownership the situation looked hopeless.

A scheme has been arranged by which it is expected to pay for the purchased lines out of the earnings of the city system. A group of bankers has secured a majority of the stock in the private concerns, and has expressed its willingness to take street railway certificates in exchange for these securities.

Champions of the Chicago scheme will be able to present one big argument in favor of municipal ownership. That argument will be Detroit. This city has shown what a metropolis of the first class can do when its people have sufficient courage to run their own traction lines.

KEEPING CHILDREN HEALTHY.

YONKERS, N. Y., is disposed to boast of the health of its school children and everybody ought to pat them on the back for doing so. Boasting about healthy kids is worth ten of boasting about statues, boulevards and fine buildings. Besides, keeping children healthy costs less and a wave of public economy is running over the land. And then, every other town is bragging its head off about brick and mortar; Yonkers could patent its pride in its human flesh and blood.

The board of education quotes from a letter from the commissioner of health saying that in Yonkers "contagious diseases no longer increase soon after the opening of schools." Here is a part of why. Quotation from the rules about acute illness:

1. A child having signs of acute illness should be removed from the classroom and sent or conducted home. [The meaning of "acute illness" under this rule is given as: Fever, running nose, bloodshot eyes, drowsiness, hoarseness, flushed face, pallor, puffiness of face and eyes, eruption, ear ache, ear discharge, acute swelling in neck, dizziness, chill, nausea, vomiting, fits, fainting, shortness of breath, acute cough, unusual pain anywhere.]

2. Sending for the family physician is urged.

4. Reporting to the medical office by telephone is urged if contagious disease is suspected.

5. Any child absent from school more than one day, the cause of whose absence is unknown to the principal, should not be admitted to the class except with the approval of the principal.

6. An ideal situation in the case of many of the common colds and coughs with fever would be retaining of them at home and in bed. This would conserve the child's strength and greatly limit the danger of infection to others.

The above rules practically mean what is called "excluding on suspicion." It is sometimes referred to as the "Shorewood plan." It has been tried with success elsewhere.

Rule 9 directs the health officers of the schools to make daily study of the health department reports of the prevalence of contagion, that schools may be especially guarded when any contagion appears in its district or in any family represented by children in that school.

Yonkers also brags about its success in getting school children with defects cared for. For instance, in one school about 100 children with poor posture are being cured by special correctional exercises. These children are divided into classes of twenty-five. A class exercise lasts twenty minutes. Each child is put through the exercise which his bad posture calls for and also instructed to carry out these exercises at home daily.

They also brag about the large number of children to whom they serve milk and crackers daily. May have to disagree there. The best place and the best time for a child to eat milk and crackers is at home and at regular meal hours.

WEIGHT IS O. K.

M. L. writes: Will you please tell me how much I should weigh?

I am 19, 5 feet 3 inches tall, and weigh 128 pounds.

Would you advise me to reduce?

REPLY.

The average weight for girls 19 years of age and 5 feet 3 is about 120 pounds.

People less than 30 years of age and of about average weight should not be in a hurry about reducing.

INFECTED KIDNEY.

W. W. writes: 1. Is pyelitis, or infection of the kidney, ever cured without its removal?

2. If so, what is the treatment?

3. Does cystitis follow it or is it a forerunner of the disease?

REPLY.

1. Yes.

2. Treatment depends on the cause.

An infection with bacillus coli may be cured by the free use of citrate of potash. Many cases require the injection of nitrate of silver into the pelvis of the kidney.

3. Cystitis may precede or it may follow pyelitis. If the infection is due to colon bacillus, cystitis is not to be expected.

HONEY AS MEDICINE.

T. N. writes: A day or so ago I noticed under the caption, "Honey as a Medicine," the statement made by a Portland physician that a tablespoon of honey in a glass of warm milk, taken several times a day, was an ideal remedy for anemia. Is that correct?

REPLY.

No.

Honey contains a form of sugar that is more readily absorbed than cane sugar.

That is about all there is to say.

CINDER FILLING.

Chicago, March 18.—[Friend of the People.]—We cannot drive a car through the intersection of 81st and South Park avenue. If a few loads of cinders were put here until such time as it will be paved, it would be a great favor to the vicinity. P. R. D.

Complying with this request, about twenty yards of ashes have been placed in 81st street, between South Park and Calumet avenues. More filling is needed and will be dumped there at the first opportunity.

CHILD'S SUPPORT.

Battle Creek, Mich., March 17.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—In October, 1924, I was granted a divorce in Illinois and given the custody of my 2 year old baby boy. The judge awarded $20 a month for the care of the child. I have never had one cent from the child's father since the divorce was granted. What should I do to get this money for the child's support? M. R.

Ordinarily, the best course is to take the matter up with the attorney who secured the divorce. The rules of the Chicago courts require the attorney to follow the matter up in proper cases.
TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

JOINT TENANCY SAFEST.

Chicago, March 18.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—A relative of mine married a widower with grown children. He carries insurance amounting to about $3,000. Since their marriage they have managed to save enough to put into a home without any help from the children. If the husband dies would she be entitled to all the money or only one-third? J. M.

Unless the title is in joint tenancy as distinguished from tenancy in common, she would take only one-third.
TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

60 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 24, 1865.

WASHINGTON. — The Richmond Examiner prints a dispatch from "Headquarters Armies of the Confederate States," dated March 20, to J. C. Breckenridge, secretary of war, in which it is stated: "Gen. J. E. Johnston reports that on the 19th he attacked the enemy (Gen. Sherman's army) near Bentonville, routed him and captured three guns. Our loss is small. The troops behaved admirably."

WASHINGTON.—It is rumored that Gen. Sherman has fought a battle with Gen. Joseph E. Johnston before Raleigh, N. C., and defeated him. The war department is reported to have received a dispatch from Fortress Monroe stating that Sherman arrived before the defenses of Raleigh on the 18th, planted his guns and called upon Johnston to surrender. The result of the demand was not given.

NEW YORK.—One of THE TRIBUNE'S correspondents avers, upon what he deems to be the best authority, that Richmond is now being evacuated as rapidly as possible, and that within a few days it will be occupied by the Union troops without a battle.

WASHINGTON.—Evidence is fast accumulating that the rebellion is near its end. The administration has received intelligence from Richmond within the last forty-eight hours to the effect that Jeff Davis, as well as Gen. Lee, gives up the ship. Jeff Davis has proposed to withdraw from the contest and leave the arbitrament of the whole affair to Gen. Grant and Gen. Lee.

CHICAGO.—The Rocky Mountain News of March 1 says that freight keeps moving notwithstanding the Indian troubles. About forty mule teams carrying 35,000 pounds each had been loaded for the plains, chiefly with merchandise, in Denver City within the six days preceding.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 24, 1900.

CHICAGO.—Ex-Ald. William H. Lyman, who has served four terms in the Illinois house of representatives, was shot and dangerously wounded by State Representative John F. O'Malley in the saloon owned by O'Malley and James Lyons at Clark and Kinzie streets. The shooting was an outgrowth of the bitterness in the aldermanic campaign in the Twenty-third ward, where O'Malley is backing "Major" John Sampson and Lyman is supporting Capt. Thomas J. Ford, the independent Democratic or city hall candidate. O'Malley was arrested and held without bail pending the result of Lyman's wound.

CHICAGO.—A contract was signed in New York by a syndicate of capitalists for the purchase of the new issue of $5,000,000 bonds of the Ogden Gas company, recently authorized. The proceeds will be used for the building of plants on the west and south sides and extension of service into new territory. Roger C. Sullivan of the Ogden company confirmed the report that the contract with the Peoples company, by which there is a division of territory served, will not be renewed. He would not discuss a threatened "gas war."

CHICAGO.—Steps were taken to organize a permanent housing committee to labor for the betterment of conditions in the slums. Jane Addams named Mrs. Henry Wade Rogers, Livingston W. Fargo, and Leslie Carter to select a preliminary commission of twenty-one members, of which they will be part.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 24, 1915.

LONDON. — Seventeen Belgians, most of whom were young peasants, were shot in the Ghent barracks after having been found guilty by a German court martial of being spies, an Amsterdam dispatch says.

PARIS.—The official war statement says that heavy fighting is on near Ostend. It continues: "In the region of Nieuport the French artillery destroyed several observation points and at Carency, to the northwest of Arras, a German trench was taken and destroyed. The Germans bombarded Reims."

BERLIN.—The following statement was issued by the war office: "Two French night attacks, near Carency, northwest of Arras, were repulsed. In Champagne German troops successfully blew up mines and repulsed a night attack north of Beausejour."

NEW YORK.—The national board of censorship is divided over the presentation of the film, "The Birth of a Nation," the movie version of Thomas Dixon's novel, "The Clansman," and F. C. Howe, chairman of the board, has refused to permit the use of his name as officially approving it.

CHICAGO.—Col. Henry A. Allen, assistant city engineer and one time naval officer, sued Mrs. Julia C. H. Allen for divorce. Another divorce suit filed was that of Mrs. Marguerite Mitchell Sherriff against Andrew R. Sherriff, head of the law firm of Sherriff, Dent, Dobyns & Freeman. Uncongeniality is given as the cause of the separation of the Sherriffs. She is a sister of John J. Mitchell, Mrs. Chauncey J. Blair and Mrs. Arthur Acton of Florence, Italy. The ground of the Allen suit was not revealed.

CHICAGO. — Harry P. Pearsons, president of the Evanston Country club, entered the race, as a nonpartisan candidate, for mayor of Evanston. "Lower gas rates," will be his slogan.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

OUTSIDE THE DOOR.

There was a feast, a glorious feast,
With wine and wit and laughter.
The tides of joy ran full, nor ceased
Till dawn was glowing in the east
And day came following after.
And even then the rout increased
And rang from roof and rafter.
All hearts were tuned to sweet accord,
For Mirth was king, and Love was lord.

Another feast, another night,
With joy and jest and singing,
With foods as rich and flowers as bright,
With wines as rare and hearts as light,
And laughter loudly ringing.
And yet a shadow dimmed the sight,
A tinge of sadness bringing.
More pain than joy to me it bore,
For I—I was outside the door.

E. D. B.—IN MEMORIAM.

R. H. L.: Just as you said, "Dear E. D. B." Though I did not know him I liked him because of his poems. This weary winter, when I was alone and the snow was fast and furious outside, I sat way back in an easy chair and memorized Way Down in Hannibal. And sitting there I felt the hot sun and saw the cool waters, I saw Hongry Caihline and her lazy Nigger, and when the sun set I, too, saw the coming of the dusk. And some nights when I'd get out my Line Book I'd read once again the Georgia Sleep Song, while dat ole owl callin' whoo-whoo-oo would waft me away to slumberland. And so I was thankful to E. D. B. and now I'm sorry that he is gone.

R. H. L.: I pipes that Liberty is offering 50 grand for an idea for Gloria. What's the big idea of giving her an idea? She's happy the way she is, ain't she? Then leave her alone.
STOUGHTON HALL.

"THERE are too many people in the world," says Dr. C. B. Drysdale, president of the Birth Control League of England, on his arrival in New York. Well, Doc, we don't know whether there are too many people in the world or not, but there seem to be too many in the Senate.

Yo' All Is Mighty Interestin'.

RHL: McK. K. is wrong and Peggie is only partly right. It is N'Awlins up-river, but down here in the land of Antoine, Sazerac, and La Louisiane, it is Noo Oilyuns. Buy a new crystal for your set and tune in on WCBE and hear 'em announce "Noo Oilyuns, secund pote (port) U. S. A."
MINUS DIXIES.

P. S.: You know the French used to hang out here, and when they printed their money they did it in French. They printed so many 10 spots and flooded the up-river country with them there "Dix's," as the English speaking natives called them, New Orleans (as it is pronounced correctly) became the land of the dixies, and the whole south "The Land of Dixie." M. D.

But It Was Pretty Smart, Anyhow.

R. H. L.: Helen Henna, her shy countenance scarlet with blushes as she diffidently terms Kipling nursemaid to an empire, reminds me mightily of the judge who, sentencing a murderer to the chair, said:

"My man, make ready your soul, for soon you must face another and perhaps a better judge."
THE LAST OF THE SAXON KINGS.

THIS ANNOUNCEMENT is to you, readers and contribs, in Vermont, Virgina, Florida, Montana, Arizona, and California. (There's a lot more states in the vicinity of those named and they must understand that they're included). The next Line Nite is Thursday, day after tomorrow, March 26. We will broadcast this time from our own W-G-N, on top of the Drake, from 8 to 9 in the evening. Once again you will hear the voice of Quintillius Augustus Ryan say in soft, dulcet tones, "This is Line Nite at W-G-N, Chicago, on top of Mr. Tracy Drake's hotel." (A lot of things are going to happen to Quintillius Augustus that night, but—sh! not a word!)

THE BILL is somewhat incomplete at this writing, but P. D. Gog will appear in refined specialties, Gypsy Kay in what the radio magazines would call a pleasing novelty number, and Bernard (rising from his literary tomb for this one occasion only) in a poetry juggling act in one. Also Le Mousquetaire, The Phantom Lover, Snowshoe Al, and Mel-O'D, fresh from their phenomenal triumphs in Davenport, Iowuh, will be patiently waiting in the wings ready to go on the stage if the crowded hour permits.

And Quickly, Too!

R. H. L.: You surely must know her. She's the one who bursts out at a bridge party with, "Well, somebody must have something—I haven't." Hoping she chokes, I am yours, LOUIS.

THE FOOL'S IDEAL.

A cup of coffee at midnight,
A cake and an epigram,
A laugh, a song, a cigarette:
What else is worth a damn?
Let others think the goal of life
Is a bank account and such;
The future's but a chilly bride,
Success costs far too much.
But—a cup of coffee at midnight,
A cake and an epigram,
A laugh, a song, a cigarette:
And more's not worth a damn.
The Phantom Lover.

The Doc Has Retired from Business.

R. H. L.: Mr. Wiggs is just like the rest of these critics—all talk and no action. Now, Kernel's idea for Gloria, while no doubt a trifle sordid, was a truly constructive suggestion. Since the Kernel's gun offends the finer sensibilities of the committee, may I not suggest a visit to the store of good Dr. Faiman? He is always up to date, is the doc, and I'm sure he has the latest shades in Paris green. BONNIE BLEW.

SIR CHARLES HIGHAM, who is in Chicago as the agent of the India Tea Growers' Association, said yesterday that tea was a substitute for rum. Charles, we ask you! would a person after eight cups of tea want to kiss the bartender good-night? If not, it is no substitute for rum.

AGAINST THE IMMIGRATION LAW.

Chicago, March 16.—This new alien law does not, as Senator Reed so confidently believes, settle the problem of European immigration for once and all. Some people dare claim such group restriction and nationality discrimination is a remarkable departure from what America stood for, for freedom and equality.

Senator Reed congratulates the United States that in the last six months the new alien law was in effect, statistics of immigration and emigration show that all of the net gain was from Germany, France, Sweden and Great Britain, "mostly of people who have inherited from their forebears a capacity for self-government." Some people would amplify with regard to Great Britain and Germany that these countries have moreover a tendency and a capacity for extending their government over countries which they annex unlawfully and for depriving those countries of self-government.

There are some people who assert the United States made a big mistake when, by the revolution of 1775, they tore themselves away from Great Britain and established a republic and constitution, and these people are the people of Great Britain. But we people of America love the "Land of the Free," and we need abler defendants of our Constitution than Senator Reed. A. K.

"CONDONING" PROHIBITION VIOLATIONS.

Madison, Wis., March 20.—It is evident from the tone of your recent editorials on the prohibition question, especially the last one on the Pinchot dry enforcement bill in Pennsylvania, that THE TRIBUNE hasn't yet had enough of the rule of the thug and the gunman in Chicago. Your contention that crimes of violence are not suppressed because the police are giving their time to the suppression of the liquor traffic is the height of absurdity.

As the old saloon was always the rendezvous of the criminal, so today we find the criminals among the gangs of rum runners and bootleggers. For four years here in Madison the moonshine-bootleg gang were tolerated as a sort of semi-respectable element made criminal by an arbitrary law; until bombings and shootings paralyzed the west side of our city with a reign of terror and made Madison a byword for the whole state. We know better now.

So long as you condone the violations of the prohibition law, you are protecting and encouraging the gunman and the terrorist. WILLIAM C. DEAN.

HOW TO DISPOSE OF REFORMERS.

Chicago, March 17.—In answer to Ella S. Cearfoss' story on how to stop smoking: The United States is supposed to be a free country and it would be if a lot of reformers were not always cutting in and spoiling the enjoyable habits which a man forms to help pass the time away. It would be a good thing if there were a certain state in the Union set aside for the reformers in which they might all live and enforce and enjoy all the reform ideas they have. A really broad-minded person wouldn't have the ideas they have and he wouldn't care what the next person did so long as he was a good, law abiding citizen.
WM. SHEA.

DAWES WILL BE T. R. II.

Republic, Mich., March 21.—The senate must think that they can have their own way in everything, but they will be badly mistaken, because Dawes is not going to be bossed. He is going to boss and put some pep in the senate. He is a second "Teddy" Roosevelt.

President Coolidge is not afraid of the senate or he would not have made the fight for Warren that he did, and Coolidge has the people back of him.

Warren should have been made attorney general, because he cleared all the trouble in Mexico and did all he could for the United States. Senator Brookhart and others can laugh now, but he who laughs last laughs best.
CECIL MUNSON.

PROPOSITION FOR "A SECRETARY."

Fairbury, Ill., March 21.—"Secretary" in her jaundiced communication of March 18 suggests that "the teachers" go into business and give their employer more time for less money than they are receiving.

Instead of feeling real hateful, why doesn't "A Secretary" reverse the proposition and grab off one of the highly paid soft snaps of teaching?
JUST CURIOUS.

FOR TORNADO VICTIMS.

Chicago, March 20.—Reports from the storm area indicate a loss of life, property, and human suffering which is truly appalling. Inasmuch as our own state of Illinois seems to have sustained a heavier loss than any other, it would appear a fine and generous thing for the citizens of Chicago, its greatest metropolis, to lead all others in practical relief work and contributions for the rehabilitation of the devastated districts.

In order to give each man, woman and child of our city an opportunity to contribute to this most worthy cause, thus making it city wide, why not work out a plan within the reach of all? That is, let each one contribute the sum of $1 to the Chicago chapter of the American Red Cross. In the case of a family, if desirable, the father could send in a sum representing $1 for each minor under five years in the family, as I have done. Those above five years of age should be shown their duty to give such a modest sum, for "the gift without the giver is bare."

The merit of such a plan is obvious. In the first place, this city could easily give from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 for this work of rehabilitation. In the second place, it would tend to obliterate the disparity between the modest gift of the masses and the large contributions of the more fortunate classes. Some such method of small and universal contributions tend to raise the level of human sympathy. Heaven knows we need such an incentive and stimulus in this great city which we all love.
T. E. KENNEDY.

MORE ABOUT BOSTON COPS.

Chicago, Ill., March 19.—"Chicagoan" doesn't say much for his home town when he calls Boston an antiquated village gone to seed. At least, it has an air port and a few subways. Very likely it is less given to "blah" than some other cities with less in their favor.

The Boston police force is one of the best trained units to be found anywhere and need give way to none in point of efficiency. Chicago can learn something from it. When you go east again, count the "bay windows" on the coppers. You won't have to count to a very high figure.

This city owes its growth and advancement in some degree to easterners as well as native born Chicagoans. In other words, some of the ideas carried out here are merely transplanted and fitted to conditions prevailing here. Your mayor is now trying to get some adequate transportation for you. He's an easterner and practically a Bostonian, if not actually one.

I find that it is generally the long distance travelers who have never been further east than East Chicago who are always laying down slams at all places east of Lake Michigan.
N. P. WHEELER.

DOCTOR FINED UNJUSTLY!

Chicago, March 18.—I happened to be a witness the other day in one of the Municipal courtrooms and saw what I call an act of injustice.

A physician who was to appear as a witness in a small claims case was fined $20 for being a little late, although he had explained his tardiness resulted from professional duties. For a judge to hold a doctor in contempt of court in such a case and fine him $20 when lawbreakers of the vicious type are excused is not justice. M. S.

A PLATFORM SUGGESTION.

Chicago, March 20.—I suggest that you increase your platform by inserting, "Unify and Coördinate Transportation."

I believe you will agree with me that since transportation should be offered primarily from the standpoint of service, duplication of effort and wasteful competition must be eliminated.
M. JAMES FLYNN.

A LEAD FOR SCRUTATOR.

Chicago, March 20.—What you said about the St. Paul receivership, particularly the low tolls in the Panama canal, interested me. Can you not visualize just what would happen to the railroads if we go ahead and spend a large amount of money in digging the canal from the lake to the gulf and from lake to sea?

It would be interesting to have Scrutator give his views in anticipation of what would happen to the railroads in the building of these canals.

House-Furnishings

March 23rd-28th

THE Spring Exposition reveals the achievements of a world organization in the reflection of new and dominant tendencies in Furniture, Floor Coverings, Draperies and Decorative Accessories. Characteristic of this season are the gaiety and vividness of colors in unusual combinations, as they are charmingly exhibited in the newly decorated Rooms. These interiors contain many fascinating pieces and settings in early American periods and exemplify what a distinguished authority said to us in a recent interview on the coordination of Furnishings:

"In the arrangement of a beautiful room, the grouping of the individual objects to make a pleasing ensemble is equally as important as the objects themselves. Worthy examples of room schemes whether in art museums or in the stores can be seen as an entity, can be easily grasped, as an aesthetic whole and are of the greatest influence in the cultural life of the community."

Monday Blues Fill the Ether, Elmer Finds

Punk Programs Follow Sunday's Good Ones.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

There was something radically wrong somewhere last night. Possibly the excellence of Sunday's programs and their clear reception produced a bad reaction upon this dial turner.

Beginning on the low wave lengths at 8 o'clock, I ran into a heterodyne whistle or two or three which turned out to be WMAK, Lockport, N. Y., a 266 meter station. The announcer read a telegram saying, "Program coming in fine." Imagine any real experienced listener phoning or telegraphing that a program is "coming in fine"! And imagine any real announcer repeating those messages night after night!

A few notches higher, and into an unsolvable (at the time) heterodyning nest.

There was a soprano, piano, whistles, tenor, rumblings, other voices, more whistles, and the announcer talking ddoouubbllee. Later one of the stations was determined as WORD, Batavia, Ill., broadcasting from the Webster hotel, Chicago.

Going on higher, into the 8 to 9 WGR, Buffalo, concert. Here were a male quartet and vocal and instrumental soloists in one of their classical programs. But, darn it, an idiosyncrasy of mine rebels at any announcer or station that "dedicates" numbers for telephone callers and telegram senders. It is a sign of amateurishness, a reminder of early broadcasting days.

Incidentally, I notice Frank H. McDonald of the B. L. A., Chicago, has come out for reduced rates for telegrams addressed to radio sations.

If this otherwise worthy gentleman in things radio will put aside his tool kit for a night and listen to WCBN, Chicago, for two nights in succession the chances are he would be up in arms against this telegram nuisance.

At 8:45 WCBD, Zion, was encountered, a full symphony orchestra, apparently, in the finale of a symphony. Announcer: "The Will of Love," by Brahms (?) played by the Zion band. Very creditable, indeed.

To WLW, Cincinnati, where a small brass band was also playing a finale to something, but it was a terribly long finale and when the number was finally completed the announcer failed to give the title of the composition.

Several programs of average merit must be passed over here, to continue our story of wail and woe. At WOAW, Omaha, 10:15, a pianist playing Chopin's Military Polonaise to the accompaniment of an unusual heterodyne whistle from this station. Except that the last letter of the interfering station was "C," nothing was determined.

TURKS TO BUILD GREATEST RADIO STATION IN WORLD

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 23.—The Turkish government has decided to build at Angora the most powerful radio sending station in the world. The Radio Corporation of America is the most favored American bidder. Capt. Edward Walker, formerly of the British army, who is representing the American company, has persuaded the Turkish cabinet to build a new station at Angora instead of repairing the old German one at Constantinople.

With the diplomatic support of their government, French and German companies also are trying to get the contract. Mr. Kent, representing the British Marconi company, has been eliminated because the Turks accuse him of carrying off essential parts of the Constantinople station when the British army of occupation left.

Col. Henry Roosevelt, the European agent of the radio corporation, is arriving at Angora in several days to discuss the new station with the Turkish government.

DANCE AT PIT OF KILAUEA TO STIR GODDESS OF FIRE

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

HONOLULU, March 23.—Hawaiians last night held weird and impressive torchlight ceremonies at the edge of the firepit of Kilauea volcano for the purpose of bringing back Pelee, the fire goddess, to the crater, which has been fireless for some months.

Hawaiian medicine men, Kahunas, chanted ancient prayers by the light of kului nut torches, while dancers clad in ceremonial ti leaves danced rare old hulas on the brink of the lava pit.

A sensation was caused at the close of the prayer to Pelee by Kalama, an old Kahuna, when a great roar rose from the pit as a side of the wall crashed in. Hundreds were at the pit, although white leaders emphasized that the ceremonies were only intended as a pageant, not as a "return to paganism."

RADIO PROGRAMS FOR TODAY

(Tuesday, March 24.)

(Central standard time throughout.)

FOUR well known artists will provide this evening's 8:20 to 9 o'clock program at W-G-N, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE station on the Drake hotel. There will be Gertrude Grosscup Perkins, pianist; Mary Putnam, soprano; Leone Ballweg, contralto, and Robert G. Ball, baritone. They will appear following the latter half of the dinner concert by the Drake concert ensemble and Blackstone string quintet.

The nimble fingered jazz pianist, Ivan Lehrer, will be the feature of tonight's 10 to 11 hour, assisted by Al Weyer and Harry Moon, and the Drake hotel dance orchestra.

James Stephens, the Irish novelist, author of "Deidre," "The Hill of Vision," and "The Crock of Gold," will appear on the W-G-N program tomorrow evening in a "radio interview." Radio listeners are invited to send in questions that they would like the announcer to put to Mr. Stephens before the microphone.

Thursday evening at W-G-N will be another "Line Night," conducted by R. H. L. of "A Line o' Type or Two." Lun Dee, Helen Henna, P. D. Gog, and other popular contributors will be presented by the humorist.

On Friday evening W-G-N is to broadcast the entire performance of the comedy, "The Show-Off," from Cohan's Grand. Raymond Walburn, Myrtle Tannahill, Ellis Baker, and Clara Bendick, the leading members of the cast, are being coached to make that evening's performance especially acceptable for radio. It will be a "radio theater party" given by the radio department of the Fair store.

EXAMINATION OF AUTOISTS ASKED IN SENATE BILL

Barr Backs Measure to Supplant Wolff's.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Springfield, Ill., March 23.—[Special.]—Senator Richard Barr of Joliet introduced today a bill that is a counter proposal for the measure fathered by Coroner Oscar Wolff of Cook county, providing for the examination of all automobile drivers.

The Barr bill eliminates the requirement of physical tests by examining boards and substitutes the issuance of licenses by the secretary of state upon prescribed forms of application signed by the applicant and two reputable householders, saying that they know the applicant and that he is well qualified and fit to handle a motor car. Motor clubs and similar interests are opposed to the Wolff bill as too severe.

Wolff May Waive.

Coroner Wolff, it is understood, is ready to waive his proposal for the creation of local examining board and agree that the department of registration and education handle the licenses. But there is much question whether he will think the Barr bill meets the safety requirements as he sees them.

Under the Barr bill the applicant would fill out a form provided by the secretary of state covering the following points:

1. Name, address, and general description.
2. That he is more than 16 years old.
3. That he has the unimpaired use of both hands and feet.
4. That he has not been convicted of a felony within five years.
5. That he never has lost a previous license through revocation or suspension.
6. That he never has been adjudged insane, or if he has that he has been adjudged sane at least two years prior to the application.
7. That he is not afflicted with epilepsy, locomotor ataxia, or paralysis.

The applicant barred by physical infirmity from making this certificate would have an opportunity to take the rigid tests for a professional chauffeur's license.

May Revoke License.

The bill provides that any court of record may revoke a license for mental or physical defects, for driving while intoxicated, for permitting a car to be used in the commission of a felony or for the commission of a felony.

It also prescribes that upon a driver's conviction of violation of the motor vehicle act the court shall inscribe on the offender's license the facts concerning the conviction. Three convictions within one year are to be grounds for the secretary of state to suspend the offender's license for three months. Both the Barr bill and the Wolff bill are before the license committee Senator Harold C. Kessinger introduced companion bills appropriating $100,000 as bounty on the heads of bank bandits and authorizing the state auditor—now Oscar Nelson—to pay $1,000 for each bandit, dead or alive. Senator Kessinger predicted the bills would be recommended for passage tomorrow.

Barbour Hits Webster.

Senator Daniel Webster's attack on the trustees of the Chicago sanitary district brought a retort from Senator James J. Barbour to the effect that Senator Webster, in return for his vote in the senate two years ago, was given a place on the drainage board's pay roll, from which he since has been separated.

The Webster resolution set up that a combination of Democrats and Crowe-Barrett-Brundage Republicans is in control of the sanitary district and has adopted a policy of "graft for all and exposure for none" and have paid "millions of dollars to their henchmen," "many of whom do not even come to the office or shops of the district."

The resolution further charged that the trustees have spent much of the taxpayers' money lobbying, that members of the assembly are on the district pay roll, "corruptly," that immense sums have been paid to political lawyers, and that the trustees have had fabulous commissions and bribes paid to themselves or their friends.

DAY IN SPRINGFIELD

JOINT ACTION.

Appropriation of $500,000 for relief of tornado victims passed by senate and advanced to second reading by house, assuring passage by Wednesday.

SENATE.

Hearing on fish and game bill postponed indefinitely.

Senator Barr introduced counter proposal for Coroner Wolff's bill for examination of automobile drivers.

Senator Kessinger introduced two bills to offer $1,000 bounty for bank bandits.

Senator Webster introduced resolution for investigation of Chicago sanitary district expenditures.

Senator Barbour presented bill to authorize state to take change of venue in criminal cases.

BILL DRAWN TO GAIN MILLIONS IN TAXES YEARLY

Millions lost each year to Cook county through the delinquencies of taxpayers would be collected in the future by the passage of a state law approved yesterday by the legislative committee of the county board, it is claimed by sponsors of the bill.

At least $7,000,000 will be received by the county in taxes that now are unpaid every year, if the bill is successful. It follows the suggestions set forth several months ago by County Treasurer Patrick J. Carr and Assistant Treasurer Jacob Lindheimer in an interview published by THE TRIBUNE.

Every real estate tax bill that is unpaid would be sold by the county to a single corporation formed for the purpose, according to the plan of the bill, which is to be submitted to the legislature at once by State Representative Church. The corporation will be given full title to property after several successive defaults in tax payments have been made by the owner.

Without doubt the corporation would earn substantial profits from the sale of property acquired by payment of taxes, but the county board, city council, school board, and other taxing bodies would gain millions in revenue every year.

At present tax title buying is carried on by professionals at the game, but they never are able to gain a clear title. They charge excessive premiums when property owners seek to redeem their property.

Famous Hostesses of All Times
(Eleventh of a Series)

Tradition has it that the marriage of Sarah Childress to James K. Polk, destined to the Presidency, was maneuvered by Andrew Jackson to end Polk's frequent and not always consecutive affairs of the heart. An English tourist wrote of her: "Mrs. Polk is a very handsome woman . . . She is well read, has much talent for conversation, and is highly popular." Although one of the most active of the White House hostesses, she found time to act as her husband's secretary, supplying the only instance of its kind in White House history. Her keen political talent and accurate judgment of men fitted her excellently for the task.

Over in the Italian quarter west of Halsted street, everyone in a certain social set has known for these last few weeks that Ralph Reno was about fed up with being the subject of much gossip among the women.

Everyone knows, also, that it was at a christening party during the holidays, at the home of Edward and Mary Palumbozio, 1345 Taylor street, Reno discovered that his marital troubles were affording conversational fodder for the women of his crowd.

So, yesterday morning when Maxwell police learned that Mary and Edward Palumbozio had been shot by a masked stranger who rushed in upon them at breakfast time and killed them both with a shotgun, they began looking for Reno.

Their belief that the man is Reno was strengthened by Mrs. Mary Pacifico, who lives across the hall—another member of that same little social set that had been talking about Reno's trouble with his wife.

WIDOW OF VICTIM OF TRAIN BANDITS GIVES TESTIMONY

The first of fifty witnesses for the state in the trial at Waukegan of four men who are charged with the murder of Russell Sage Dickey, Chicago and Northwestern express baggage man, Dec. 30, took the stand yesterday.

She was Mrs. Dickey, widow of the man who was killed in the attempted robbery of the Viking express near Waukegan. Her testimony was brief, consisting of a statement of relationship and of when she last saw her husband alive.

In his opening statement, State's Attorney A. V. Smith declared that he will prove that Edward J. Smith, Milwaukee, was the head of the gang; Bernard Smith, Chicago, was the man who carried the robbers away from Evanston; Bernhardt Mylin, Milwaukee, was the man who shot Dickey, and Ralph McKee, Chicago, was the messenger boy.

MRS. J. G. BATTELLE, PROMINENT IN OHIO POLITICS, IS DEAD

Washington, D. C., March 23.—Mrs. John Gordon Battelle of Columbus, O., Republican national committeewoman and prominent in women's club activities in that state, died tonight in the New Willard hotel, where she had been staying. She had been ill several days.

Mrs. Battelle, who was 64 years old, came to Washington last Tuesday after a stay in New York to be here for the birthday of her brother-in-law, Bishop John W. Hamilton of the Methodist Episcopal church. She was stricken with a heart attack shortly after her arrival and grew steadily worse.

Mrs. Battelle for a number of years had devoted considerable attention to business, having been a director of the American Rolling mills, Middletown, O., the Inland Steel company of Chicago, and the International Derrick and Equipment company of Columbus.

The most beautiful teeth in the world

A smile that allures with dazzling whiteness

Do you want them? Then please accept this remarkable dental test—the new method leading dentists are urging. You simply remove the dingy film that clouds teeth and invites gum trouble.

Do you know that "off-color" teeth can be restored to dazzling whiteness with but little effort?

This offers you a test that will cost you nothing. Hence, one it's folly not to make.

In a few days it will work a transformation in the color and luster of your teeth—in your whole appearance.

Modern science has discovered new methods in protecting and beautifying teeth and gums. Foremost dentists employ it. The coupon brings you a 10-day tube free.

It's simply a film: remove it—see what a great difference comes

Run your tongue across your teeth, and you will feel a viscous film coat covers them.

That film is an enemy to your teeth—and your gums. You must remove it.

It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It absorbs discolorations and gives your teeth that cloudy "off-color" look. Germs by the millions breed in it, and they, with tartar, are a chief cause of pyorrhea.

Tooth troubles and gum troubles now are largely traced to that film. Old-time methods fail in successfully combating it. That's why, regardless of the care you take now, your teeth remain dull and unattractive.

New methods remove it and firm the gums

Now, in a new-type dentifrice called Pepsodent, dental science has discovered effective combatants. Their action is to curdle the film and remove it, then to firm the gums.

Now what you see when that film is removed—the whiteness of your teeth—will amaze you.

Ordinary methods fail in these results.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowel and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy whcih all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.

CALLS PENDING CALUMET BILL AID TO INDUSTRY

Council Votes Tomorrow on Harbor Plan.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

B. F. Kleeman, who sponsored the series of Lake Calumet harbor bills at Springfield—three were vetoed by Govs. Deneen, Dunne, and Lowden before one got through in 1921 that stuck—says the pending Nickel Plate ordinance will work faster in developing the Calumet region than even the abolition of Pittsburgh plus.

In an analysis yesterday he set forth that it means an actual rail-water terminal of sizable capacity within a year. It will be sufficient, he argued, to attract new industries to this section which otherwise might wander off in the direction of Gary and points farther along Lake Michigan, and Chicago will be able to complete the building of a land locked harbor two and a half miles long in Lake Calumet without cost to the taxpayers. Once started, he maintains, the project will finance itself by the value of the reclaimed land for industrial sites.

Says It Would Strangle Harbor.

Henry W. Lee, president of the Lake Michigan Sanitation congress, who first proposed the Calumet harbor idea to the Busse commission in 1908, on the other hand, came out with an argument that the Nickel Plate ordinance would strangle the harbor.

The ordinance, which is set for a vote in the city council tomorrow, was a principal topic yesterday at the city hall, even running neck and neck with the traction ordinance in conversational interest among the aldermen.

"In this ordinance," said Mr. Kleeman, who is attorney for the city harbor bureau, "Chicago simply contracts with the Nickel Plate as its agent for the construction of the first unit of the land locked harbor in Lake Calumet. Instead of paying in money, the city pays with submerged land at an appraised value of $500 an acre submerged and of $2,000 an acre when filled in. This is a fair value.

City Pays in Land.

"Uplands are now for sale in the neighborhood ranging from $1,500 to $2,500 per acre for occupancy. Instead of hiring a private contractor to do this initial piece of dredging and paying him $600,000, the city contracts with the Nickel Plate to do the work, paying it in land.

"For a successful harbor, it must have, of course, belt line facilities. This would cost the city $6,000,000 for road bed, rails, and equipment. Then it would have to be leased to some belt line corporation, for who can see the city engaging in steam railroading? Under the ordinance the Nickel Plate is given a right of way and is to build a belt line, with an ironclad condition that service must be given without favor or discrimination to all shippers or carriers. It must give access to all railroads desiring connection. Violation means forfeiture of the rights granted by the city.

Immediate Transportation.

"The Nickel Plate will develop its one mile of frontage and this will give immediate rail-water transportation.

"Its present terminal will be moved to the head of Lake Calumet, opening up the streets east and west of its 93d street terminal, which I understand will be removed. The Nickel Plate grants to the city title to land for opening 103d street, and if a viaduct is built in East 103d street the road is to bear half the cost. It gives an easement across its land at 110th street for a water tunnel to prevent stagnation.

"Furthermore, it fills in a 100 foot bed for a street to run around Lake Calumet. It allows the city to cross belt line tracks to the harbor at any point it desires. The Pullman railroad will have immediate access to the belt line.

Expenditure of $6,000,000.

"The Nickel Plate faces an aggregate expenditure of $6,000,000. The improvement will enhance the value of the city's 1,300 acres of submerged land and its thirteen miles of water frontage. This will be a means by which the city can finance and complete the harbor. It will encourage industries to locate on city lands, thereby increasing the revenue of the city and giving employment to thousands.

"Also it will have a tendency to compel other railroads to seek water terminals to compete with the Nickel Plate.

"The Nickel Plate owns riparian rights. The city has had adjudication in court of all legal work on riparian rights with the exception of the Nickel Plate, and the ordinance is in accord with approved practice as being a contract with riparian owners. It is the best and only financial method at present for the city in the initial construction of the harbor. It will also undoubtedly give great momentum to the development of the Indiana harbor."

Mr. Lee, early advocate of the project, said yesterday the council committee on harbors ignored a petition signed by 2,600 citizens and supported by sixteen civic bodies, urging that the sanitary district be given the job of building the harbor.

"The Nickel Plate scheme," he said, "would place the construction of the first unit of the harbor in the hands of navigation's traditional enemy, the railroads. The ordinance not only gives the railroad a belt line monopoly, completely encircling the lake, but also gives it all the right to fill in its submerged acres. This will increase the land value from $500 an acre to $5,000 or $10,000 an acre.

"The city will get nothing but a doubtful channel in the middle of the lake, which will connect with nothing but Nickel Plate dock property until the city gets money to dredge the rest of the harbor. The people of the Calumet region, who have fought for a public harbor in Lake Calumet for seventeen years, feel the city is about to give away their birthright to a railroad."

DAKOTA PASTOR POISON VICTIM; HUNT MOTIVE

Hot Springs, S. D., March 23.—[Special.]—The apparent lack of motive for either the murder or suicide of the Rev. Robert E. Tarleton, Hot Springs pastor, in whose stomach poison was found by state chemists, completely baffled authorities here tonight as an investigation of his death was launched.

The Rev. Mr. Tarleton's body was discovered by members of his family in the rectory garage on the morning of Jan. 29. At first the popular minister was believed to have been the victim of heart trouble. An autopsy, however, disclosed no indication of organic trouble, and the viscera was then sent to the state university for analysis. The report of their finding was received today.

A preliminary investigation developed that the pastor had spent some time in his study just before his death, had carried in some coal, and then had gone to the garage to drain the radiator of his automobile. His home life is said to have been ideal, he had no known enemies, and his pastorate of the Methodist - Presbyterian - United church had been notably successful.

Without a single clew pointing either to murder or suicide, authorities found themselves at a loss tonight where to begin their inquiry into the mystery death.

Advertisers are Building

in St. Louis and The 49th State

662 NATIONAL Advertisers found real economy in selling in St. Louis and The 49th State by using The St. Louis Globe-Democrat exclusively in 1924.

Guided by the hard fact that their advertising must win business at low cost, these advertisers, a few of whom are listed here, chose to concentrate in the newspaper of The 49th State.

Rate was not a consideration, for they did not choose the paper with the lowest rate . . . Rather, they chose the paper which is the biggest sales influence in this rich, responsive area.

Their advertising reaches not only the big purchasing power of Metropolitan St. Louis, but the extra thousands throughout The 49th State, that great market surrounding St. Louis, radius 150 miles.

(No other newspaper even challenges Globe-Democrat supremacy in The 49th State.)

Now, in 1925, the Globe-Democrat—St. Louis' Largest Daily—offers advertisers even greater efficiency in this market which is better, economically, than ever before. Maximum value for your advertising dollar.

The Service and Promotion Department and the Research Division of the Globe-Democrat can give valuable assistance to any advertiser seeking to do the sales job well in The 49th State.

CALLS ADMIRAL "PLIANT PERSON" IN FALL'S HANDS

U. S. Admits Robison's Sincerity in Oil Deal.

Cheyenne, Wyo., March 23.—[By the Associated Press.]—The sincerity of Rear Admiral J. K. Robison, chief of navy engineering, in fostering for the navy the leasing of Teapot Dome was vindicated today by Owen J. Roberts, attorney for the government, in his argument before Federal Judge T. Blake Kennedy in the Teapot Dome lease annulment case.

"Robison wanted to get oil and storage because of his navy ideas," said Mr. Roberts. "But he didn't want to go to congress for them. So he planned the leasing of Teapot Dome and the use of royalty oil accruing to the government as a medium of exchange with which to build great storage tanks and acquire a large supply of fuel oil as a part of his war plans for the navy."

Calls Him "Pliant Person."

Referring at another point to Robison's connection with the case, Mr. Roberts said that the admiral was "a very pliant person in the hands of Albert B. Fall," then secretary of the interior, who executed the lease to Harry F. Sinclair's Mammoth Oil company.

"Drainage of Teapot Dome," said Mr. Roberts, "was not the reason for the lease. Robison thought the fighting branch of the government ought to have great oil stores. He didn't care a rap who got the lease or how it was made as long as he obtained for the navy enough royalty oil to carry out his plan and without going to congress for it."

Attacks Drainage Excuse.

Mr. Roberts attacked the entire structure of the lease as without the foundation of law. As one contention against the excuse that the reserve was leased to forestall drainage by adjacent wells, Mr. Roberts pointed out that the contract allowed six months for the drilling of twenty wells, that only fifteen eventually were drilled, and that only three of these were placed near the "saddle," or drainage point, between Salt Creek and Teapot Dome.

E. H. Chandler, attorney for the Sinclair Pipe Line company, argued to sustain possession within the reserve of oil tanks, an oil pump, and the pipe line easement which were established in connection with the leasing program.

PERSHING NAMED CHIEF ARBITER OF TACNA-ARICA

GEN. J. J. PERSHING

Washington, D. C., March 23.—Gen. John J. Pershing was formally designated by President Coolidge today as president of the Tacna-Arica plebiscite commission which the executive relies on to end the forty year old dispute between Chile and Peru under his recent award as arbitrator.

The former commander of the American expeditionary forces thus was called once more to active, patriotic service for an undertaking he knows will involve heavy responsibilities and much labor, deferring indefinitely the retirement he has enjoyed in name only since he relinquished his post as chief of staff of the army.

PERU CHARGES VIOLENCE.

LIMA, Peru, March 23.—[United Press.]—Charges that Chile is using violent means to control the plebiscite to determine ownership of the provinces of Tacna and Arica were made in the Peruvian chamber of deputies. The chamber met to consider the charges, which included claims that one Peruvian had been assassinated and 500 others driven from their homes to prevent them from voting at the plebiscite.

Firemen Overcome While Fighting Blaze in Tunnel

Several firemen were overcome by smoke while fighting a fire last night in a tunnel beneath the building at 663 West Washington street occupied by the Peerless Light company. Boxes and paper were stored in the tunnel and the fire was started by spontaneous combustion, the firemen believe.

DUELL ROW WITH LILLIAN GISH TO BE HEARD TODAY

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—Trial of the application of Charles H. Duell, president of Charles H. Duell, Inc., for an injunction restraining Lillian Gish from making pictures except under his contract, today was postponed in federal court until tomorrow.

The court denied Mr. Duell's application for a temporary restraining order on March 13, when the case first was called, but directed that Miss Gish should not enter into any new arrangement pending the trial.

Subsequently Duell had James Rennie, actor-husband of Dorothy Gish, haled into court on a disorderly conduct charge, alleging Rennie threatened to "get him." Rennie was freed with the court's admonition to make no further threats.

Duell claims to have a contract with Miss Gish to make twenty-four pictures and charges that she has refused to continue her work for him but intends to join another company.

$500,000 RELIEF FUND SOUGHT BY CARPENTER UNION

Members of the Illinois Carpenters' union began a campaign yesterday to collect $500,000 from union members in the United States and Canada for the purpose of rebuilding carpenters' homes destroyed in the tornado.

The Chicago Carpenters' council has collected $1,000 and has appealed to the forty local unions in Cook and Lake counties for the $50,000 which is the quota for this district.

The fund collected will be distributed by the general office. The union hopes to rebuild all homes without outside aid.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to serious complications.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.—(Adv.)

The right paper for the purpose

Vaults cannot protect records against the ravages of time!

Long life is one of the four factors considered in The Specification Chart

FATHER Time steps silently through walls of steel. Documents proof against the schemes of men crumble beneath his hand.

A well-known librarian writes: "We are laying up a mound of trouble for ourselves by putting away for future generations records which begin to crumble almost before they are bound."

Let the Specification Chart be your guide. The Chart distributes the nine basic grades of Eagle-A Bond Paper into three primary groups—permanent papers, semi-permanent papers, and temporary papers.

Proper care of records requires paper in all three groups. Daily time sheets, receiving reports, interdepartment letters, etc., are usually short lived, require little handling, and a temporary paper is all that is required.

Recapitulation of temporary records, for semi-permanent filing and letter sheets for commercial uses, require a good grade of rag-content paper, due to the probable handling they will receive, and their need for preservation.

Yearly recapitulations, contracts, deeds, etc., are permanent and lasting records, and require a permanent and lasting paper.

Your Printer, Lithographer, Engraver or Stationer can obtain Eagle-A Papers through

THE GRADE CHART

The Grade Chart supplements the Specification Chart, and will assist the buyer in determining whether a first, second or third choice should be made.

It is also an accurate presentation of the bond paper standards governing the nine Eagle-A bond grades.

Happy Days
Start this way.

On rising, drink a glass of water, hot or cold. That washes the stomach and prepares you for breakfast.

Add to that water a little Jad Salts. That makes it sparkling and delightful. Jad Salts are made from the acids of lemon and grape combined with lithia.

Then behold. In one hour comes elimination of poisons and waste matter. Of all that depresses and makes you unfit.

It's a wonderful experience. It is saving dull, unhappy days to millions.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

Rub on Good Old Musterole

That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe, or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once.

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, does the work without blister.

Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. 35c and 65c, in jars and tubes.

FIVE ALDERMEN ALONE FIGHTING TRACTION PLAN

But Their Wards Would Get Better Transit.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The city council recommended the traction ordinance, on which the voters will express their opinion April 7, by a vote of 40 to 5.

The objectors are Ald. John Coughlin [1st], Ald. Wiley W. Mills [37th], Ald. Arthur Albert [43d], Ald. Oscar F. Nelson [46th], and Ald. Harry W. Klinke [47th].

Assuming that these aldermen in their votes attempted to represent their constituencies, these five wards naturally would be expected to supply the strongest opposition in the city to the ordinance.

Wards Would Benefit.

Those five wards, representing about 7 per cent of the city's area, a trifle more than 10 per cent of its population, and a slightly larger percentage of its registered voters, are to be provided with many benefits under the ordinance. For that reason the backers of the ordinance expect a substantial majority in those wards to be polled for more and better transportation. Of the 116,138 registered voters in the five wards, it is reckoned that 40 per cent, or 46,615, will go to the polls on April 7. Friends of the ordinance predict that more than 25,000 will vote in its favor. They believe that the voters will not ignore the better transit facilities promised.

Subways Are Provided.

Each one of these wards will get subways either in the first or second period of construction. Altogether those five wards are to be provided with 24.44 miles of subways at an estimated cost of $61,423,000. In elevated roads the ordinance provides those wards with even eight miles at a cost of $7,695,000, and the surface line mileage is 14.8, at an estimated cost of $2,051,000.

The total facilities in these wards at present have an estimated value of $37,875,000. Yet these aldermen said that they did not desire $61,423,000 in transportation for their constituents under the provisions of the pending ordinance.

Instead of the $37,875,000 worth of facilities which they have at present, the ordinance promises them $109,044,000 worth.

Did Not Ask for More.

Not one of those aldermen asked for more trackage than the ordinance provides, so it is reasonably certain that the ordinance provides everything for these wards which could be reasonably requested, in addition to the existing facilities of each.

That the constituents of each alderman may obtain an idea of the amount of transit facilities in trackage, the following table is presented:

Ward—	Surface miles.	Elevated miles.	Subway miles.
1	....	2.58	16.14
37	12.86	3.50	0.99
43	....	1.72	12.16
46	0.41	......	2.07
47	1.53	0.20	1.05
Totals	14.80	8.00	24.44

Who Wants More Crowding?

Of course, Ald. Coughlin may have the objection that he was given no more surface lines, also Ald. Albert. Ald. Nelson may be peeved that each obtained less than half a mile of surface lines. But where could any more surface lines be put in the downtown district, which is part of the First ward? And who wants more surface lines in the loop.

The next table shows the appraised value of the transit facilities in each ward at present and the estimated value when the provisions of the ordinance are carried out. It shows the value of the transportation, as represented by cost, before and after the ordinance becomes operative to its limit, as follows:

Ward.—	Before.	After.
1	$14,939,000	$53,995,000
37	5,546,000	12,983,000
43	7,193,000	20,921,000
46	5,409,000	16,659,000
47	5,887,000	6,476,000

Dever Explains Further.

"As enormous as those figures are" Mayor Dever said, "they are not really indicative of the benefits which these wards will receive in new and better transportation. These new lines hooked up to the facilities provided in all other parts of the city will give the people of those wards a means of rapid transportation which is not now enjoyed in any other city in the world.

"The public will get at a reasonable rate of fare—a reduction in the present rates to begin with—and without the investment of a five cent piece in taxes.

"Neither now nor in the future will it be possible to increase taxes because the public will obtain adequate and comfortable transportation."

San Antonio

By the General Manager of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce

Against the mellow background of its romantic history, San Antonio stands today the largest city in Texas—with modern business houses jostling its ancient cathedrals and missions. An altitude of 700 feet above the sea level gives San Antonio a dry, clear atmosphere. The mean annual temperature is 67.9 degrees. It is one of the outstanding winter resorts of the South. San Antonio is the center of a rich trade territory. Plentiful labor, cheap fuel, equable climate, abundant raw materials and adequate transportation are factors in the rapid growth of industrial enterprises. Has 528 factories, employing 13,047 persons, with an annual output of $64,784,000. In addition to this, San Antonio's numerous wholesalers and distributors do business estimated at approximately $125,000,000 annually. There are 1,200 retail stores located in the city. San Antonio is the trade center of a vast agricultural empire, the resources of which have hardly been scratched. Rich oil deposits add to the wealth that comes from beneath Southwest Texas' soil. There are heavily producing fields on all sides. Natural gas is piped into the city for domestic and industrial use. San Antonio's population has jumped from 96,614 in 1910, to approximately 225,000 in 1924. It enjoys the distinction of being the largest city in the largest state in the Union.

$12,404,000,000 VALUE OF 1924 FARM PRODUCTS

Shows a Total Increase Over Last Year.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—With the exception of dairy interests and live stock producers, the farmers generally realized better profits in 1924 than in 1923, according to estimates of total values of farm products made public today by the department of agriculture.

The combined value of crop and live stock production in the United States last year was $12,404,000,000, which was $66,000,000 more than in 1923.

Crop production had a farm value of $11,404,000,000, compared with $10,401,000,000 in 1923, but of this value some $4,951,000,000 worth of crops were fed to live stock, whereas in 1923 the value of crops fed to live stock was $4,286,000,000.

Figures for Live Stock.

Live stock and live stock products are given a farm value of $5,951,000,000, compared with $6,233,000,000 the preceding year, nearly all animal products having decreased in value.

A decrease of $66,000,000 in the farm value of dairy products produced in 1924 is shown, the department placing the 1924 valuation at $2,586,148,000, compared with $2,652,419,000 in 1923. The decrease is attributed to lower prices for all farm dairy products, except buttermilk, whey, and swimmilk.

The department points out that the gross value of either crops or animal products last year was exceeded only in the years 1917 to 1920, inclusive.

Statistics Give Percentages.

The value of the cereal crops in 1924 was $5,220,000,000, or 45.9 per cent of the total of all crops, as compared with $4,128,000,000 in 1923, or 39.8 per cent of the value of all crops in that year. Every cereal crop increased in value last year.

The value of the corn crop last year is placed at $2,890 000,000, as compared with $2,538,000,000 in 1923; wheat $1,131,000,000 compared with $743,000,000 and oats $799,000,000 as compared with $554,000,000.

The cotton crop, including lint and seed, is valued at $1,701,000,000 last year, compared with $1,657,000,000 in 1923. This increased value was due to larger production in as much as the average price per pound of cotton lint was lower than for the preceding year.

Hay, Fruit, Vegetables.

Hay and forage crops are given a value of $1,733,000,000, compared with $1,619,000,000 in 1923; the fruit crops, $626,000,000, compared with $642,000,000; vegetables $1,018,000,000, compared with $1,169,000,000.

Nearly all animal products declined in value as compared with 1923. Animals raised $2,267,000,000 compared with $2,440,000,000 and poultry products $994,000,000 compared with $1,033,000,000.

COOLIDGE HOLDS UP DRILL PAY OF NATIONAL GUARD

Questions Legality of Plea to Congress.

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—National Guard organizations may have to discontinue drilling or drill without pay until after June 30 as the direct result of President Coolidge's determination to further reduce taxes.

This became known today when the President sent an order to the war department halting payment of $1,332,000 voted by congress in the last deficiency bill to pay members of the National Guard for drill work during the balance of this fiscal year. At the same time he took under advisement the question of allowing the expenditure of $1,742,300 of the 1926 appropriation for the National Guard.

Questions Legality of Request.

Both amounts were voted by congress in defiance of the recommendations of the President. According to a White House statement late today, the President has not yet made known what action he intends to take pending an investigation to determine whether the expenditure would seriously interfere with his economy program. The statement also questions the legality of the "importunities" of a guard representative before congress in favor of the bill.

The President's position, as set forth in the statement, is that his program for economy outweighs the importance of having the National Guard provided with funds for army drill pay for the balance of this year.

Said to Be Gen. Reckord.

"The house of representatives and the senate were importuned by a representative of the National Guard to grant this increase in appropriations," the statement says. "The budget and accounting act specifically provides that no estimate or request for an appropriation and no request for an increase in any item of any such estimate or request shall be submitted to congress or any committee thereof by any officer or employé of any department or establishment, unless at the request of either house of congress."

A Blabon floor of linoleum (pattern 564 Inlaid) is used for this living-room, with small fabric rugs on it.

AND JUST what is "comfort?"—why, a state or feeling of having relief, cheer or consolation. It's something we all desire.

Thousands of housekeepers have learned to appreciate that a Blabon floor of linoleum, made the modern way in soft, harmonizing colorings, is not only restful to the eye, but it adds an atmosphere of cheerfulness and comfort to the surroundings.

The beautiful patterns and colorings of Blabon's Inlaid or Plain Linoleum give the crowning touch to any decorative scheme. An occasional waxing and polishing preserves their freshness and mellows their tones.

Blabon floors are springy, comfortable and quiet to walk upon. They are sanitary, easy to keep clean, and economical to maintain. Fabric rugs may be thrown over them, if desired.

The modern method of cementing linoleum down over builders' deadening felt paper, insures watertight seams which are practically invisible, and adds much to the beauty and permanency of a Blabon floor.

Ask for Blabon's Linoleum by name. It is sold by good home-furnishing and department stores. If your dealer hasn't it, write us his name and we will see that you are supplied. Booklet sent free on request.

Economic Evolution and the Standard Oil Company
(Indiana)

"The only economic evolution anywhere in the world that amounts to a hill of beans is taking place in this country now," says the Chicago Tribune, paraphrasing Professor Carver, of Harvard University.

"There is no phenomenon in American life in our time, which is so reassuring as the increase in small ownership of securities.

"Since 1900 the estimated ownership of stockholders in the United States has increased from 4,400,000 in that year to 14,400,000 in 1923.

"But this is not the most encouraging and important phase of this increase. Not only has the number increased, but the average number of shares per stockholder has greatly decreased—namely, from 140.1 shares per holder in 1900 to 49.7 in 1923.

"Security purchases by wage earners would not have come so soon or so rapidly, were it not for the wise policy of some of the greatest American corporations in offering shares to their employes on easy and attractive terms."

What is true of industry generally is true of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) specifically. In 1919 there were 4,623 stockholders, in 1925 there are 49,804 stockholders.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been a pioneer in offering shares of the Company's stock to its workers. It believes that the real solution of the most serious problems confronting capital and labor is found by encouraging labor to acquire a substantial capital interest in the enterprise.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) long ago offered its employes participation in the rewards which this Company has drawn from service to society. It makes it possible for an employe to purchase shares of stock in the Company on attractive terms. The system provides that for each dollar invested by the worker, fifty cents is given to him by the Company—so that if an employe buys 10 shares, he really acquires 15 shares.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) incorporated the idea of employe ownership of stock in the Company to encourage thrift in the organization, and to render the public a larger and more effective service.

Employe ownership means smoother relations between workers and the Management, and this in turn means added value to the consumer in the way of better service and more economical production.

A New and Great Community

A YEAR ago this morning The New York Herald and The New York Tribune were merged and one newspaper public of over 150,000 families met another newspaper public of over 130,000 families for the first time. A newspaper, for its faithful readers, is as intimate and important a habit as a street or a home. A newspaper public is in the truest sense of the word a community—a community of ideas, of principles, of loyalties. Uniting these newspapers was like attempting to merge a city the size of Washington with a city the size of Boston.

Such a shift had never been accomplished before. In every previous newspaper merger, only a fraction of circulation had been added after the first curiosity subsided. As our readers already know, The New York Herald Tribune has achieved the unparalleled success of retaining both publics entire. Indeed, they have already begun to invite their friends to join them—as the steadily growing circulation of the newspaper reveals.

We ask our readers to celebrate with us today the secure establishment of this great and growing community. We are confident that it has never been surpassed in intelligence, in resources, in energy. On this anniversary we pledge our constant effort to keep and deserve the unprecedented support that this community has given us.

LUTHER ENDS ROW IN CABINET OVER SECURITY PACT

Gets Nationalists to Stop Attacks in Press.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[Copyright: 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, March 23.—Chancellor Luther is in full control of the cabinet tonight. He cracked the whip over the nationalist members at a stormy meeting of their party leaders in the presence of acting President Simons, who rushed to Berlin from Leipzig to help reëstablish peace.

The nationalists promised to call off the anti-government campaign in their press. In return Foreign Minister Stresemann promised to inform the leaders of all parties the exact status of the security pact negotiations immediately after the presidential elections.

Thus peace is reëstablished in the German cabinet, but in view of the presidential elections the war hatchet is not buried very deep.

New German Proposals.

Despite the nationalist opposition, Dr. Stresemann and Dr. Luther are carrying on their security pact plans. They have sent a new emissary to London with new German proposals regarding the most difficult points in Europe's security pact, the German eastern border and the Polish corridor. Dr. Stresemann and Dr. Luther propose that the questions be submitted to international arbitration to "bring about a political Dawes plan."

The new proposals are strongly opposed by the extremist wing of the nationalists, despite the election truce. The extreme nationalists are demanding that Dr. Stresemann be tried for treason before the supreme court at Leipzig. A resolution to this effect was accepted by all Pan-Germans. The nationalists have rushed their most able party leader, Herr Hergt, to Dresden to calm the Pan-Germanists.

Fear to Face Camera.

This is a strange presidential election campaign. None of the candidates expect to win, and it is being fought with cold ardor, not lacking in humorous touches. There are seven candidates, but only three have consented to pose for camera men, and movies. Dr. Jarres, Herr Hellpach, and Herr Braun, nationalist, Democrat, and Socialist, felt themselves good looking enough to appear on the silver screen.

EUROPE PLANNING TO HOLD ANOTHER LONDON PARLEY

Hopes to Agree on Security Pact.

LONDON, March 23.—[By the Associated Press.]—Another European conference, similar to the Dawes conference in London last summer, but this year looking towards European political reconstruction rather than economic rehabilitation, is the subject of negotiations between Great Britain and France.

Preliminary plans for such a conference, which would be held in August, were revealed today as a result of much week-end newspaper speculation, which intimated that new subjects of disagreement had arisen between London and Paris regarding European security.

Realization by both France and England of the necessity for finding a common basis upon which to build a new European security pact to replace the abandoned Geneva protocol is responsible for the move toward a general gathering of European statesmen in the British capital. The absence of the strong support of the United States, which was the greatest factor in the London conference of 1924, will be felt greatly by the British.

In allaying fears of new differences between France and Great Britain, it was authoritatively asserted that the discussions relating to the proposed conference have as yet reached only a preliminary stage. The attitude of both governments seems to be, however, that some definite program for European security must be ready for presentation to the league of nations assembly in September.

Both nations agree on the necessity of a pact safeguarding the Rhine frontier and the German frontiers in the east as well, but the views of the French and British differ on the scope of the pact and on the methods to be pursued in obtaining assent to it.

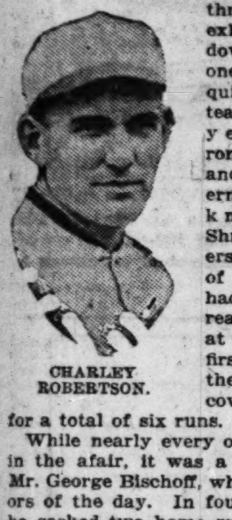
BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.



CHARLEY ROBERTSON.

Shreveport, La., March 23.—[Special.]—The way the White Sox romp through their exhibition games down here leads one to believe it is quite a different team than last year. They romped through another this afternoon when they knocked the Shreveport Gassers flat by a score of 8 to 4. They had the game really sewed up at the end of the first inning, when they knocked the cover off the ball for a total of six runs.

While nearly every one had a hand in the afair, it was a recruit, young Mr. George Bischoff, who won the honors of the day. In four times at bat he socked two home runs, both being drives over the left field fence, and the fence here is just about as far from the home plate as it is in Comiskey park. They were genuine socks, both of 'em, and the youngster increased his chances of sticking in the big show by delivering them.

Butler Has Bad Day.

This also was another test game for the shortstop position and it was Mr. Butler who was tested this time. He had a bad day. He didn't look as good as he has in the other games, but that doesn't mean he is eliminated from the fight. He failed to get a blow, though he drew one walk in his four times at the plate. In the field he was charged with one error and there were a couple more skipping bounders that got past him for base hits. Some of the experts thought a big league shortstop should have cabbaged them.

The pitching today was done by Robertson, Blankenship, and Cvengros. Robbie was touched up rather hard in his three innings, yielding seven blows, two of which were two basers to the wall. However, he allowed only two runs to count, both coming over in the first, when three singles and a double were bunched after two were out. Robbie, however, looked to be in good trim and wasn't using all his stuff, but rather was trying to fool the locals with his tantalizing slow ball.

Ted Wild in Sixth.

Blankenship worked four innings and the Gassers got four hits off him and two runs. The big fellow was fast, but had bad control in the sixth, when he walked three men in a row after one was out. He regained control, however, and wound up his work in the seventh by fanning Luderus and Bonowitz, the two strong hitters of the Gassers' outfit.

Cvengros did his stuff with plenty of style in the two rounds he toiled, allowing only one hit and fanning a couple of men.

On Wednesday another game is booked against the Shreveport club, while on Thursday the Sox trail forty miles to the east to display themselves in a contest against the Louisiana Polytechnic institute at Ruston.

Hollis Thurston, the young pitching ace who sprained his ankle last week, is coming along nicely. He did a bit of throwing today to keep his arm in shape, and expects to be normal on his feet in a week's time.

RUDOLPH BEATS WOODS TWICE

Irwin Rudolph, besides winning both games, almost broke two National Pocket Billiard records at Mussey's yesterday while playing Arthur Woods of Minneapolis. The local cueist took the evening engagement in four innings, 100 to 3, with a high run of 65. The afternoon game went thirty-one innings, and the score was 100 to 95.

THURNBLAD, ELLIS SPLIT.

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 23.—[Special.]—Arthur Thurnblad of Milwaukee and Charley Ellis divided National Three Cushion games today, the former winning the afternoon game in fifty-four innings, 50 to 40, while the latter registered a similar victory in fifty-one frames.

KIECKHEFER WINS ONE.

Boston, Mass., March 23.—[Special.]—Earl Lookabaugh and Augie Kieckhefer of Chicago drew here today in National Three Cushion contests, the former winning the first engagement in fifty-six innings, 50 to 34, while the latter ran out, 50 to 41, in fifty-seven frames.

REISELT WINS, LOSES.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 23.—[Special.]—Otto Reiselt and Clarence Jackson of Buffalo split National Three Cushion games today. Reiselt took the opener in fifty-two innings, 50 to 42, and Jackson the evening contest, 50 to 46, in forty-nine sessions.

A Sure Way to End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid Arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

BABE'S 1ST HOMER CUT TO TWO BAGS BY GROUND RULES

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 23.—[Special.]—As a graceful gesture of farewell to Col. Jacob Ruppert, who departed for New York tonight, the Yankees plastered another hearty defeat on the Braves this afternoon by a score of 8 to 3. Just before leaving Ruppert announced the Yankees again would train here next year.

In the sixth inning Babe Ruth hit his first homer of the training season, but it counted only for a two bagger under the quaint ground rules. The drive went a mile high and a mile over a low wooden stand near the right field foul line, landing in a street beyond.

Ernie and Louis will give and take for twelve rounds to no decision in this city on Saturday night. The big race will be run on Sunday. An influx of 60,000 persons to this city is expected for the rich turf classic.

Hall measured high runs of 5 and Layton 5 and 7.

CUBLETS DROPPED BY SALT LAKE, 3 TO 1

BY FRANK SMITH.

Long Beach, Cal., March 23.—[Special.]—Bill Killefer's Cublets outhit and less errored the Salt Lake club today, but came out on the short end of a game which wound up with a score of 3 to 1.

The Cublets got away to an early start in the third inning, when Salt Lake's third baseman made a couple of semi-pro errors, but from that time on they were outlucked, and in some places outplayed by Oscar Vitt's lads.

In the hectic fifth round a couple of pebbles played an important part in the two tallies hung up by Salt Lake. After one was out, Peters sent a Texas leaguer to left. Cooke batting for Ponder flied to Weis. Then the fun began.

Pebble Causes Trouble.

Gooch shot one to right that would have held Peters on first, but just as Kerr was about to pick up the ball on the first bound, it skyrocketed off a pebble and went for three bases, Peters crossing the pan. The next ball offered by Morgan looked like an easy out, but just as it reached Michaels, it slipped off into space and Gooch counted. Connally was easy for the third out and the break went against the Cubs.

Two singles, a sacrifice, and a base on balls gave the locals their third tally in the eighth, and the 500 fans went home happy, having seen the famous Cubs knocked over the rough treatment accorded Salt Lake on Catalina island.

Veeck Sees Game.

President Veeck of the Cubs and President Patrick of the Los Angeles team were spectators, watching the antics of the team which will be sent to Santa Maria next Saturday and Sunday to play Wade Killefer's Seattle aggregation, while the regulars are cavorting in Los Angeles.

It is eight months since the former Rancocas riding ace sustained serious injuries which at that time led doctors to believe that Sande's career in the saddle was at an end.

Sarmiento Stops Curry in Fifth Round at Milwaukee

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 23.—[Special.]—Peter Sarmiento, the aggressive Filipino, won a technical knockout over Connie Curry of Sioux City, Ia., in the windup of the boxing show staged by Frank Mulkern in the auditorium here tonight.

Curry and Manager Ray Alvis claimed a broken right hand and the Iowa fighter refused to come up for the sixth round. In fact, Curry did not use the injured mitt effectively at any stage of the fight. If the truth were told Curry hurt the hand while training for the fight in Chicago. Curry laid off boxing for a few days in the midst of his training, but tonight claimed he hurt it in the first round of the bout.

Sarmiento Has Big Margin.

With the exception of the first round, which was about even, Sarmiento had the best of the milling. In the fourth round Pete staggered Curry with a left hook and the Iowa battler was in a bad way at the bell. When he came up for the fifth round his left eye was swollen and it was apparent he was a beaten fighter. Connie tried his best to battle the Filipino with his left, but Pete threw caution to the wind and whaled away with both hands.

The little brown fighter landed telling punches on the head and body, and when Curry did land a blow Sarmiento shook it off and came back for more.

Connie, however, is deserving of credit for his gameness, but after the first round, when his right hand went bad, never had a chance against such opposition. Sarmiento weighed 120½ pounds and Curry 119½.

Anderson Stops Curtin.

Eddie Anderson of Moline won a technical knockout over Irish Johnny Curtin of New York in the semi-windup. Curtin received a bad cut on his lip and left eye, and the commission refused to let him continue. It was in the sixth round that Eddie handed his opponent an awful lacing and had him practically out at the bell and he was refused permission to come up for the seventh session.

A right hand cross to the jaw near the end of the sixth round sent Curtin reeling against the ropes. He staggered into a clinch at the bell.

Between rounds the doctor examined Curtin and found a tooth protruding through the lower lip. As Johnny was a badly beaten fighter it was the sensible thing to do to refuse him permission to continue.

Anderson Shows Skill.

Anderson showed to great advantage. He looked better than in any of his fights of recent years. He carried the fight to Curtin and beat him to the punches on nearly every occasion. In the fourth round Eddie staggered Johnny with a straight left, and on several occasions jarred him with right and left hooks. Curtin weighed 121¼ pounds and Anderson 120.

In the opening bout Bennie Ray of St. Paul shaded Billy Lamont of Milwaukee. The St. Paul fighter landed the punishing punches and was stronger at the finish. They boxed four rounds and weighed 121 pounds.

Joe Ortez of Milwaukee won the decision over Charley Glaser of Chicago in the second preliminary of six rounds. The Cream city battler was entitled to the decision for aggressiveness alone, as he chased the Chicago boxer around the ring in every round and did practically all the leading. It was an uninteresting fight, with a lot of fighting on the ropes and at close quarters.

About 4,000 fans paid $8,000 to see the show. Approximately 400 made the trip from Chicago on Sammy Wolff's special.

DELAY TEX SENTENCE; MAY SEND HIM TO PEN

Trenton, N. J., March 23.—[Special.]—Judge Joseph L. Bodine, in the United States District court here today, postponed for one week imposition of sentence on George L. [Tex] Rickard, internationally known boxing promoter, and several others, convicted last week on a charge of conspiring to illegally transport in interstate commerce motion picture films of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight in 1921. The penalty will be pronounced in Newark.

Ask More Time.

Walter D. Van Riper, counsel for Rickard, Frank B. Flournoy, and Teddy Hayes, co-defendants, asked the court for additional time in which to examine the proceedings in the case and prepare a brief.

Rather significantly, Judge Bodine asked Mr. Van Riper if he had finished preparation of his appeal papers. Counsel last week announced that no appeal would be taken unless a jail sentence was imposed.

Hints at Jail.

The law under which the men were convicted provides for a term of two years, a fine of $10,000, or both.

"You had better come prepared with your appeal papers," the court commented.

OCEAN RACE IS ADDED TO U. S. YACHTING CARD

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—Another ocean race has been added to the list of long distance yachting contests to be decided during the coming season. Tentative plans were announced today for a race starting July 18, off Eastern Point, Gloucester, Mass., to and around the lightship off Portland, Me., and return, a distance of about 250 nautical miles.

The race will be held under the auspices of the Cruising Club of America and it is believed a fleet of at least twelve yachts will take part. Herbert L. Stone of the committee in charge of the Gloucester-Portland event said the entries of four vessels had already been received.

SCHIKAT FLOPS EUSTACE TWICE IN ARMORY BOUT

Richard Schikat, German heavyweight, pinned Allen Eustace of Wakefield, Kas., in two straight falls in the windup bout of the wrestling show last night at the Broadway Armory. Schikat won the first fall in 59:26 with a body lock and took the second fall with a flying mare after 5:00 of grappling.

The contest was one of the best seen at the Broadway armory during the season and Schikat showed great skill and many dangerous locks. Eustace was strong in the first mall but early in the bout was handicapped by an injury to his left eye. Schikat in pinning a headlock on Eustace bruised the big Kansas grappler's eye.

Schikat Shows Greater Strength.

The bout was fast and clean, with both grapplers working at top speed. Schikat seemed the stronger, for he repeatedly broke Eustace's holds and at the close of the contest was by far the fresher. In the first fall Eustace was on the defensive for the most part while Schikat threw hold after hold on the Kansan, wearing him down.

In the semi-windup, John Freberg, the giant Swede, and Wallace Duguid, the Canadian, grappled 40:00 to a draw in a time limit bout. It was a good match with plenty of action. Freberg seemed to have more experience and had a slight edge in aggressiveness.

Bauer Wins from Giles.

Hans Bauer beat Tuffy Giles with a short arm scissors in 26:52 in a slow, uninteresting preliminary bout. Bauer and Giles displayed little skill.

WAYNE MUNN.

Articles were signed and forfeits posted yesterday clinching the championship wrestling match between Wayne Munn, claimant of the world's title by virtue of a referee's decision over Ed Lewis, and Joe "Toots" Mondt, the Colorado cowboy. The bout will feature the wrestling show to be conducted by Promoters Krone and Cutler in the big Coliseum one week from tonight.

The last hitch in the proposed match was overcome yesterday afternoon when a certified check for $500 was received from Gabe Kaufmann, manager of Munn. This money is to insure appearance and fulfillment of the contract. In the letter accompanying the check, Manager Kaufmann stated all details of the match are in the hands of the city athletic commission, of which Ald. Joe McDonough is chairman. Any rules laid down by the commission now must be acceptable to champion and challenger.

Mondt Plans New Defense.

With the match closed, speculation is rife in local mat circles as to the outcome. Wrestlers are unanimous in their opinions that Mondt is pursuing the proper course of playing a waiting game with the champion. In this matter of defensive grappling Mondt intends to whittle the big fellow down to his size and then wade into him to secure his famous Japanese jackknife hold.

Munn, as most wrestling fans know, is master of only one hold, the crotch and half nelson secured from a standing position. He is not nearly so effective on the mat and no one knows how good he is defensively. As there is a block for every hold in the mat game, Mondt may evolve a defense for Munn's favorite locks. Joe Stecher and his body scissors were thought invincible until a block was found for the hold, and the same was true of the Lewis head lock.

Sale Opens Tomorrow.

With the match now a certainty, tickets will be placed on sale at the usual places tomorrow. Arrangements will be made to accommodate 10,000 fans, and the remainder of the card will be announced in a day or two.

Hans Bauer, the German heavyweight, has been matched with Antonio Felice, the Italian, in one of the bouts at the Star and Garter on Friday night. The winner of last night's bout at the Broadway armory between Richard Schikat and Allen Eustace will meet a suitable opponent in the main event.

* *

John Pesek and Allen Eustace will take holds in the main event of the mat show at Pilsen Park pavilion on Friday night. The show will be staged by Stanley Pinta, well known west side grappler.

GREB LEAVES FOR TUNNEY BOUT FRIDAY

Hary Greb, boss of the middleweights, passed through Chicago yesterday on his way to St. Paul, where he will meet Gene Tunney, the American light heavyweight champion, in a ten round bout on Friday night. The Pittsburgh battler worked at the Arcade, and left on an evening train.

According to Manager "Red" Mason, the middleweight champion is preparing for a busy summer campaign which will include at least three fights in defense of his title. Manager Mason asserted Greb will appear in decision bouts in New York, and he also may meet a logical contender in Philadelphia. Greb is anxious to appear at some of the outdoor shows to be held in Aurora and East Chicago this summer, and if he still holds the crown the promoters intend to use him.

Sammy Mandel, the Rockford lightweight, and Manager Eddie Kane went to Milwaukee yesterday to consult the Wisconsin boxing commission regarding Mandell's injured left shoulder. Sammy will appear in Madison, Wis., on April 3 against an opponent yet to be selected. Manager Kane is anxious that the commission knows the condition of Mandell's shoulder before the articles are signed.

Tom Gibbons, St. Paul heavyweight, and Sammy Mandell of Rockford are among some of the more prominent boxers who have volunteered their services for the benefit show at St. Philips gymnasium, 3149 West Jackson boulevard, on Monday night. Other known boxers who have consented to show their wares are Jock Malone and Eddie Anderson. All proceeds will go to the fund for the relief of the storm stricken area of Illinois and Indiana.

TWO CHANGES IN A. B. C. PIN MEET; CHICAGOANS LOW

Buffalo, N. Y., March 23.—[Special.]—Two changes in the leaders featured today's rolling in the American Bowling Congress tournament. Henry Flandermeyer of Cleveland, in the afternoon pastiming, shot 665 and went into ninth place in the singles. On the first evening shift the Sanitary Milks of Canton, O., hit 2,914, and made second place in the five man event.

Lepsa and Heski of Chicago, in the afternoon, shot 1,161 in the doubles, and Latelle and Gavin of the same city were but 10 pins behind. The best mark of the day in this event was 1,214 by Somers and Suelfloe of Milwaukee. Several Chicago pinsters shot into the money in the singles. Chicago scores:

In Motordom

By J. L. JENKINS

PROBABLY the most interesting experiment in speed psychology to be found anywhere in America is gradually eliminating reckless and criminal drivers from the West Park boulevard system in Chicago. Established more than a year ago, the park weekly "motor clinic" is working quietly and effectively to accomplish the ends that neither jail sentences nor police vigil has been able to do elsewhere in the city.

Park commissioners and safety commission are responsible for the new method of handling automobile owners. After checking over police and accident lists thoroughly, the west park chiefs concluded that, with some 300,000 automobiles operating in Cook county, practically all avoidable accidents are caused by some 10 per cent of drivers who are either careless, defective mentally, criminally inclined, or ignorant of their own public responsibility when driving a car.

In order to weed out this element the commission, working with park police, decided to issue summonses to first offenders to appear at old fashioned "town meetings" in Union park each Saturday and thrash out the matter of violations. These meetings have been held regularly and have resulted in a remarkable decrease in both speeding and motor accidents over the entire district. But thirty-two of the hundreds of drivers called before the hearing board for violations have committed a second offense.

MILWAUKEE RING PROMOTERS WAR OVER BIG HALL

Milwaukee, Wis., March 23.—[Special.]—The Milwaukee common council today unanimously recommended a resolution requesting the Auditorium board to lease the main hall for boxing shows to other clubs besides the Cream City A. C.

The action was the outgrowth of other organizations who have been unable to rent the big hall for boxing purposes and promoters with the aid of local boxers petitioned the buildings committee of the common council to act to the end.

Previous to this the Cream City A. C. was the only club which was able to lease the hall and this "exclusive" right was challenged by other promoters who wanted to put on big shows. The Auditorium is the only place in Milwaukee where a good card can be put on at a profit.

VILLA MAY GET TITLE BOUT WITH ROSENBERG

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—A world's bantamweight championship battle in which Charley [Phil] Rosenberg will defend his honors against Pancho Villa, world's flyweight champion, will be the stellar attraction at the boxing carnival to be held in the Polo Grounds June 19 in the interests of the Italian hospital fund, if the present plans of Matchmaker Humbert Fugazy materialize.

Frank Churchill, manager of Villa, announced today that he had been approached on this match by Fugazy, but added that he had delayed committing himself pending the return of Villa, who is now in the Philippines. Meanwhile, Fugazy plans to submit a proposition to Rosenberg.

MAKING GARDEN ON FRINGE OF HOOSIER SAND DUNES.

FIELDS and gardens in the Hoosier sand dunes region along the dunes highway that swings around the south end of Lake Michigan could be reclaimed at such a low cost truckers would soon get their money back for limestone and clover seed if the experience of sand farmers of western Illinois can be used as a safe guide.

On the sand bars along the banks of the Mississippi, where farmers have given the sweet clover and limestone combination a thorough tryout, the annual return has been about $15 an acre for the last ten years for every ton of limestone used on the land. The sand fields near Ouquawka, Ill., were doctored with four tons of limestone to the acre every six or eight years, and that is no more than many farmers use on the regular corn belt land.

Sand gardeners who are planning to use a legume to enrich their soil will find that it is one of the best crops for that purpose, because, agronomists point out, the plants have a heavy root system that goes deep into the soil to get moisture. If sweet clover is seeded in March on sand soil the roots will be two to three feet long by midsummer and the crop is able to resist the heat in the sand fields in July and August.

PAAVO NURMI.

New York, March 23.—Paavo Nurmi today completed the program for the remainder of his American visit. Planning to sail for home early in May without competing on eastern outdoor tracks, the famous Finn signed entry blanks for a dozen meets in this country and Canada and tentatively agreed to compete in three more. His first outdoor race is carded for April 19 in Chicago.

The schedule, which is regarded as final in view of the National Amateur Athletic union's decision Nurmi should sign today for all meets in which he expects to run, follows:

March 24, Coast Artillery games, New York City; March 26, 106th Field Artillery games, Buffalo; March 27-28, 107th Field Artillery games, Pittsburgh; March 31; Elks games, Boston; April 3, Ottawa; April 4, Montreal; April 6-7, Detroit; April 19, Loyola relay games, Chicago [outdoors]; April 20, St. Louis [outdoors]; April 25, Los Angeles American Legion games [outdoor]; April 30, San Francisco [outdoors].

Twin Cities Want Him.

In addition, Nurmi has been asked to appear at Minneapolis on April 16, at St. Paul on April 18, and at Omaha on April 21, but he is not yet certain whether he will be able to include these games on his schedule.

New York City track fans, before whom Paavo has made many of his records in this phenomenal indoor season, will see him for the last time tomorrow night, when he runs in the mile and a half event at the 244th field artillery games in the 9th coast artillery armory. James J. Connolly, former Georgetown star, will be his chief opponent.

New 'Frisco Date Asked.

Officials of the San Francisco meet, it was said, had asked Nurmi to appear there early in March, but he has requested them to assign him the April 30 date, inasmuch as he hopes to leave for Europe soon thereafter. He has several engagements in England and Germany about the middle of May.

17 TEAMS ENTER NATIONAL CAGE PLAY AT MIDWAY

It was announced last night by officials of the University of Chicago who are handling the national interscholastic basketball tournament, which will start March 31 and conclude on April 4 at Bartlett gym, that seventeen teams have sent in their entries, while invitations are still in the mail for Elgin, Ill., Newport, R. I., and Pittsfield, and Holyoke, Mass.

Wheeler, Miss.; Greeley, Col.; Rupert, Idaho; Franklin High of Portland, Ore.; Laramie, Wyo.; Fort Smith, Ark.; Dupont High of Louisville, Ky.; Durham, N. The Greeley, Col., quintet twice this year defeated Windsor, winners of the national title in last year's tournament.

PURPLE NINE HAS FIRST WORKOUT

Northwestern university's baseball squad had a good workout yesterday afternoon on the field just north of Patten gymnasium. Coach Maury Kent had twenty-three candidates for nine jobs and sixty degree weather lured most of the prospects to the green. Bill Christman is captain of this year's baseball team and plays third base. There are four or five pitchers, all green but anxious to make good. Among them are George Mills, southpaw, who played on the frosh squad last year and has promise; Schultze, and Low.

BORG SEEKS MARK IN C.A.A.U. SWIM TONIGHT

Featured by the record breaking attempt of Arne Borg, the sensational swimmer of Sweden who will try to crack the world's indoor record for 220 yards, the first series of Central A. A. U. indoor swimming championships to be held in Chicago this winter will be decided in the Hamilton club pool tonight.

The championships include events for men and women. In the latter competition Miss Ethel Lackie of the I. A. C., holder of the 100 yard swim record for women, will compete in the 220 yards free style. The plunge for distance will bring together Meagher of the C. A. A. and Atwood of the University of Chicago, while Robert Skelton is favorite for honors in the 220 yards open breast stroke.

In addition to the championship and open events, there will be an interscholastic championship relay which has attracted an entry of eight teams. The program will open at 8 o'clock. Following are the entries for the championship events:

MEN.

Plunge for distance—Meagher and Cox, C. A. A.; Atwood, U. of C.

150 yards back stroke—Mills and Miller, I. A. C.; Tuttle, C. A. A.; Lavgard, Griffith natatorium.

WOMEN.

220 yards free style—Ethel Lackie, Dorothy McBride, Bernice Rice, I. A. C.; Louise Crouch, M. Dickson, M. Shemeitis, Griffith natatorium; R. Jung, Hirsch center.

The following schools will be represented in the 160 yard relay: Lake View, Lindblom, Harrison, Schurz, Englewood, Lane with two teams, and Senn.

GUS DORAIS, ON WAY TO DETROIT U., STOPS HERE

Gus Dorais, the former Notre Dame quarterback, who has coached football at Gonzaga university for the last five years, passed through Chicago yesterday on his way to Detroit, where he has accepted the athletic directorship of the University of Detroit.

Dorais, who ranks with Salmon, Gipp, the "four horsemen" and other great stars who played for Notre Dame, will start spring football practice next Monday. One of Dorais' aims is to schedule a Thanksgiving day game with Notre Dame. This undoubtedly will be brought about in a few years, as Dorais and Rockne are the best of friends and practically grew up in the athletic world together.

ST. PHILIP'S PLAYS TONIGHT.

The St. Philip's A. C. and the Monon A. C. of Lafayette, Ind., will meet tonight on the St. Philip's floor. The Monons were semi-finalists in the recent National A. A. U. tourney. In a preliminary tilt J. P. I. 125s will meet the B. B. R. squad, Cook county champions.

IN the WAKE of the NEWS

POT-POURRI.

FORMAL announcement of Northwestern plans for a football stadium seating 54,000 persons, to be enlarged to accommodate 74,000, following former announcement of new stands at the University of Chicago, means that this city's two leading colleges will have athletic fields equaling those of other Big Ten rivals.

Northwestern university field, situated in Evanston, is easily accessible to the large north shore collegiate following. The Purple has only to provide interesting contests to attract immense crowds, not only of its own alumni but those of other institutions who are now living far from their own alma maters.

Champion Bill Tilden, in Florida, has won the first of what probably will be a series of "final" net matches with Vinny Richards, who was No. 2 in the 1924 rankings.

Tilden won rather decisively. It is too early in the season for the results to be conclusive, but it is significant in carrying present conviction that Tilden again will be the American tennis ace in 1925 and that he has not yet started on the decline which sometime must befall him before the prowess of younger players.

Congratulations to St. Mel academy basketball team, winner of the Catholic national high school championship. It was not a hollow victory. The field was representative and high class. Final triumph came only after a series of stirring contests. 'Rah for St. Mel's.

Tell Him, Helpers!

Dear Wake: During recent months I have been getting a swift kick out of occasional items of your contributors headed "Athletes Who Have Made Good." In spite of what I have read, I still think athletic prestige in college is invariably fatal to the athlete's chances of success in later life.

To tell me, by way of illustration, of some gridiron hero who has become president of a motor car concern (even though the athlete in question is from my own school) is to misapprehend the meaning of "success in life."

Business eminence may be an achievement in individual cases, depending upon the obstacles which the person has to overcome to attain it and the type of business he is in, but the only thing worthy of the name "success" is creation—doing what is beyond the capabilities of the ordinary Babbitt.

Now I challenge you to mention one great athlete who has caused the slightest ripple of comment or done anything original in any branch of art, philosophy, or science. I challenge you to name any advance along intellectual lines that has been made by an ex-famous athlete. "Little Rhody Jack," '27.

The "zero hour" somehow doesn't strike us as an appropriate term for the launching of a drive to raise $17,500,000 for the University of Chicago development fund. It's too suggestive of ciphers.

SYRACUSE SEEKS ILLINOIS GAMES

Urbana, Ill., March 23.—Syracuse university desires to play the University of Illinois football and basketball teams next season.

The offer of games was made to Coach Robert Zuppke, who returned today after speaking to the Big Ten club in Buffalo and at the "S" banquet for Syracuse athletes.

SEASON FOR BIRDIES, EAGLES OPENS HERE

BY MORROW KRUM.

There exists a strong temptation to hoist the single word "Fore" to the top of this column of type, because it gives at a glance the meat of the lines that follow. It would, however, be trite and old fashioned to say instead that Chicago's open season for birdies and eagles is now upon us.

The season opened Sunday, when a horde of tee box tourists swept aside the objections of the greenkeepers and started down fairways. Yesterday was another day and today—if the weather man is kind—will see more golfers parading their knickerbockers and taking stances at the tee boxes.

Both No. 1 and No. 2 courses at Olympia Fields were used Sunday, when some 200 golfers tried out their spring drives. About 1,000 persons interested in the club visited the new clubhouse. Yesterday there were three or four foursomes shooting, and there'll be more today.

A few foursomes traveled over Old Elm on Sunday. Others shot the Evanston Community course, the famous Skokie course, and Indian Hill. A rough estimate placed the number of Sabbath golfers at 750.

Big news for Evanston and Midlothian members! The word has been passed around that the national open tournament qualifying rounds for middle western golf shooters will be played at those clubs. Eastern linesmen will pass their tests at the Lido Country club, Long Beach, L. I. the western qualifying rounds will be played the last week in May. The tournament proper will be staged at Worcester, Mass., on June 3 and 4.

Tying at 88, Keith Morrison had the luck in the draw against Paul Drews in a members' tournament at the Normal club, and took first prize. Drews was awarded second, while H. Hill won third, with 91. Winners in the blind bogey were George Shreeve, J. Brown, and P. Pfeiffer, while Stanley, with four "singles," won the prize for the most aces.

In the women's division, Mrs. H. Minturn won the medal prize, with a score of 120 for thirty-six holes. Winners in the blind bogey were Mrs. J. Henning, Mrs. Jean Yecum, and Mrs. Sullivan.

Parker High school will meet Lindblom Thursday afternoon at the Normal Golf club in a special match.

Woods and Waters by BOB. BECKER

SIGNS OF SPRING SHOW IN THE NORTH COUNTRY.

FROM way up in British Columbia comes a note of how the waterfowl are invading the north country as they wing their way to their nesting grounds. C. A. Phillips, writing from the city of Kamloops, says that the Thompson river has been covered with canvasbacks, redheads, bluebills and other species of waterfowl. Geese by the thousands have also arrived at the lakes, according to C. A. and the season on Dolly Varden trout and steelheads has opened.

Trout fishermen who live in northern Wisconsin and Michigan are beginning to send down cheering reports about possible conditions for the opening day of the season. The boys who are right on the ground are bold enough to predict that everything points to lower water and clearer streams for the first day of the season. Of course the prophets are playing safe in making these predictions as they add this phrase, "unless all signs fail." That is, unless the north woods country and its trout-infested streams get a couple of feet of snow between now and May, stream conditions will be better than on the opening day last year.

CATHOLIC PREPS LEAVE FOR HOME AFTER BIG MEET

BY HOWARD MARTIN.

Loyola university gymnasium, the scene of the national Catholic high school basketball tournament which was won by St. Mel academy of Chicago, lost its luster and quiet once again took possession of the north side athletic plant yesterday. The brilliantly decorated gym and the gathering place of thousands during the four day meet took its natural appearance as the second annual tournament becomes a thing of the past.

Although many of the teams made hurried getaways as soon as the tourney was ended Sunday night, others left for home yesterday, while Calvert Hall of Baltimore, Md., and Rockhurst academy of Kansas City, Mo., said good-by last night.

Break Attendance Record.

It is believed by those in charge of the tournament the attendance was better than at any other meet of its kind. In the neighborhood of 35,000 crowded their way into the gymnasium during the daily sessions.

Many valuable prizes and trophies were donated by prominent men of the city, and trophies for next year already are being offered. Yesterday Charles V. Barrett, president of the board of review, promised to donate a valuable trophy. Others also made similar promises.

Pick All-Star Teams.

With the strenuous tournament over, the north side school officials are turning their attention to the first annual Loyola relays, to be held at the Grant Park stadium on April 19.

The officials yesterday selected an all-tournament team, which is as follows:

Dunn, Marquette university high, Milwaukee, Wis., and Cunningham, St. Mel, Chicago, forwards; Hogan, Rockhurst academy, Kansas City, Mo., center; Sullivan, Aquinas institute, Rochester, N. Y., and Gass, Catholic high, Decatur, Ind., guards.

NO OTHER motor car in the world is tested as Rolls-Royce is tested. Every separate part must meet standards unknown to other automobile practice.

Each complete car is run on full throttle on each separate gear under full load after exhaust pipes and muffler are red hot.

This is why a Rolls-Royce, on its first day of use, can be driven indefinitely by its owner at any speed desired. It requires no breaking in. It bears no "drive slow" ticket.

It is evidence that underneath the superb comfort of the Rolls-Royce are strength and stamina that assure safety and economical performance over a long period of years.

FEDERAL JUDGE UNDER FIRE; OPEN OFFICIAL INQUIRY

St. Louis, Mo., March 23.—[By the Associated Press.]—The congressional investigation of the official acts of Judge George Washington English of the eastern Illinoi district will get under way tomorrow after a day's delay due to a lack of prosecutor.

Tonight W. D. Boies, [Rep., Ia.], chairman of the house judiciary subcommittee of seven, said he was not ready to announce the name of the prosecutor, although he expressed confidence that one of three men sought would be on hand.

Nature of the Charges.

Judge English is charged with tyrannical and unwarranted disbarment of attorneys, unlawfully permitting his appointee as referee in bankruptcy to practice law, depositing funds controlled by his court in banks in which he and the referee held stock, designating as the agency for disposal of assets of bankrupts a corporation in which friends of the judge and referee were financially interested, and "other improprieties and irregularities which thwart justice and pervert its administration."

Many Witnesses Called.

Tonight twenty-five to thirty witnesses had been subpoenaed according to M. L. Melito, assistant sergeant at arms of the house, who has been here a week. Melito said he expected to subpoenae more than 100 witnesses.

Neither Mr. Boies nor Melito would announce the witness list, but Chairman Boies said that he thought Judge Anderson of Indiana, and Judge Lindley of Illinois would be included in the list.

SCHOOL CHIEF O. K.'S CHANGES IN NEW BUILDING

Supervisory Architect Edgar L. Martin of the board of education agreed yesterday to amend plans for new school buildings in accordance with suggestions outlined by the building commissioner's office. Objections to some of the features of new buildings were raised by the building department five weeks ago when the school board sought permits for three structures.

According to Frank E. Doherty, building commissioner, the board has agreed to construct doorways between classrooms so as to provide additional exits in case of fire. It was also decided that auditoriums in elementary schools would not be used for any dramatic productions or entertainments that required scenery or stage equipment unless plans were amended.

Construction work on three schools, which was being held up pending an agreement, will continue at once. The schools are Richard Edwards, Ruggles, and O'Keefe.

Within the Circle of the Mode Come Ensembles, Wraps, Frocks

And the mode has so many delightful vagaries this spring that we need this little column to the right to outline them. As for the afternoon frock, illustrated above—it is of llama crepe Elizabeth or blonde satin. The collar, cuffs, and jabot are of the sheerest ecru lace and there is the least little whirling suspicion of a flare at the hem of the skirt. It is $110.

The newest wraps flare slightly

Women's Section, fourth floor.

And the ensemble is a misses' suit

—that might be straight from a Paris boulevard. And so it is! It has been cleverly contrived of black satin, and kasha combined with white satin piped here and there with bits of red—and touches on the blouse of brilliant green Chinese brocade. This, an original, is $175.

Misses' Section, fourth floor.

Fashion Dicta

More often than not, skirts, both on dresses and coats, show a flare to the front.

THE HAWK

By DANE COOLIDGE

Reg. U. S. Patent Office.

SYNOPSIS.

Dave Crabtree, known as the Hawk, has just been taken on as night herder for the NA Cattle company, in the Powder river district. Dull Knife Arrants, a small independent cattleman, rides up to the NA outfit and quarrels with the range boss, Connolly, over some lost cows. The company manager, Cato Clark, arrives on the scene, accompanied by his step-daughter, Anita Morgaridge. Arrants transfers his quarrel to Clark and draws his gun on him, when the Hawk interferes and threatens to shoot Arrants if he doesn't put up his gun.

INSTALLMENT II.

THE HAWK IS FIRED.

"Who gave you any license to run this country I'm a free born American and this land is mine. I've homesteaded it—you're standing on my claim, and I tell you to get out—and take all these cowboys with you!"

As he delivered his ultimatum there was a shout from the heights, and they saw them swarming with men.

"Git back there!" ordered Cavey Hooten, waving his rifle at the cowboys, "git back—let 'em fight it out. The first man that horns in——"

He paused, and Dull Knife wheeled about. Across the flat from the bed wagon the Night Hawk was coming toward him, a pistol slung low on his hip. But now that he was on his feet he was a different man from the sleepy eyed, inoffensive horse herder—he moved forward with the soft footed grace of a panther.

"I beg your pardon," he said to Dull Knife, "if I seem to be horning in where perhaps I'm no way concerned, but I see there's a lady present."

He glanced for an instant at the girl beside Clark, and turned expectantly to Arrants.

"You can settle this some other time," he suggested.

"No, by Gawd!" burst out Dull Knife, vindictively, "we'll settle this right here and now! The cowardly old scoundrel carries her around with him everywhere—he'd 've been killed a hundred times if he hadn't. So you butt out of this, my friend—unless, of course——"

He smiled, and tapped his gun.

"Very well, suh," smiled back the Hawk. "You can start the ball any time."

He stood poised, his delicate hands looking as slim as a girl's as he waited for his opponent to draw; but something about his pose made Dull Knife stay his hand—he glared, and turned away.

"Don't mention it, suh," bowed the Night Hawk, as Cato Clark rumbled his thanks, and he stole a glance at the girl.

"Didn't I tell ye he was a killer?" shrilled Cavey Hooten.

With a touch of the whip Cato Clark wheeled his grays, and went whirling off down the road, and after a long minute of silence Dull Knife Arrants mounted his horse and rode sullenly off up the canyon.

The Night Hawk went over to the fire and, pouring out a cup of coffee, sat back on his heels and sipped meditatively. He was smiling to himself when, glancing up from his day dreams, he saw the cook watching him curiously.

"Here, you! Get up and help the cook."

"You shuah do look familiar-like," observed the cook after a pause. "Don't reckon I seen you around heah, though. You're the living spit and image of old Colonel Crabtree, down at San Antonio, Texas. Excuse me, boss, I didn't rightly git your name."

"Frazee," answered the Night Hawk with a grin.

"Well, you shuah do look jest exactly like the colonel—or leastwise like he did when I was a boy. He used to give me a dollah every time I hold his hawse for him—the Crabtrees was quality folks—yassah! He'd come ridin' into town on that high haided roan of his, and when he stepped off in front of the stoah every nigger boy in town come runnin' to hold his hawse. Yeh, heh—don' make no difference, he hand the reins to me; and when he comes out, afteh takin' his dram with the gennlemen, theah was Boots Jackson, holdin' his hawse. Ef he stay up all night I'm holdin' his hawse for him twell he tells me to put it in the stable. And every time, when he go, he throws a dolla' on the ground. Ain't no gennlemen like dat—not now."

"You Boots Jackson?" inquired the Night Hawk with sudden interest. "Say, I've heard my old man speak of you. How come you're away up here?"

"Well, now, Mistah Frazee," began the cook, suddenly busying himself with the dishes, "that's a long story that don' need tellin'. The pint is, I'm heah—kindah out for my health, like—but I shuah makes lot of money. Moah money in one month than a whole lifetime back in Texas. A nigger ain't much, back theah."

"Speaking of money," observed the cowboy, taking a dollar from his pocket and flipping it across to the cook, "that's for the colonel, Boots. He's my father."

"Bless yo' heart, sah!" beamed Boots, "I knowed you wasn't no gun fighter! Leastwise, not one of them paid kind. Because to tell you the truf, boss, they's some ba-ad men heah from Texas—they done tried twice to kill Mistah Dull Knife!"

"Well, he needs killing, seems to me—carrying on that way before a lady! Never did know what they were fussing about, but if he'd drawed that gun I reckon I'd had to kill him."

"I reckon you would, boss, but I jest want to say a word now—bein' as I worked for yore daddy and all. You want to look out for Mistah Connolly! No, sah, you is mistaken—Mistah Dull Knife, he won't hurt you; but I watched that Connolly man and he shuah give you a bad look. Pretty soon now something is liable to happen."

"Don't think so," said the Night Hawk shortly.

"Well, now, that's all right, Mistah Crabtree—or I would say, Mistah Frazee—and I don't mean no offense, you know dat; but jest the same I knows the signs when something is liable to drap and you jest kinder watch Mistah Connolly. And mo' than that, Mistah Frazee, you keep yo' eye plumb open for Red Pipkins and Cultus Du Chey. Theah's two men I know is bad, and they always runs together; and I sho'ly believe that all these men is being found dead has something to do with them."

"What do they look like?" inquired Crabtree intently.

"Well, both is big men and kinder tall, but Red has got red hair and Cultus has got black—that's the easy way to tell 'em. And all these settlers down the crick, when they see them boys ride by, they don't come out for days."

"Who're they working for?" demanded the Hawk, and Boots wrinkled his brow plaintively.

"That's one thing I never do," he said at last, "say nothin' ag'inst my boss. Mighty nice man, Mistah Clark—always treated me jes' right—and ain't Miss Anita grand? Theah's the nicest little lady that Gawd ever let live—I shuah think a heap of Miss Morgaridge. But ump-umm, boss, that ain't no way to do, always makin' her ride around with him. Because some day they's a bullet gwine to come of nowhar and pore Miss Anita will git hurted. Mighty curious about her, boss,—she ain't no relation to him, lessen of cose you'd call her his step daughter—but she sets up theah so straight, like she ain't skeered of nothin', and at the same time she never speaks to him, hardly. I'se noticed that, lots of times."

"Maybe she don't like the job?" suggested The Hawk.

"No, it ain't that, Mistah Crabtree, but—say, if you'll jest excuse this old nigger, I'm goin' to tell you something, mighty confidential. Mistah Clark, he done killed his first wife and another man—that's when his hair turned white; and then he come out heah and went into pardnership with Mistah Morgaridge, what got killed by fallin' offen his hawse. And then, first thing we knowed, Mistah Clark he married the widow; but she never seemed happy, nohow. And Miss Anita, she ain't been the same. Always awful nice to me, though—I used to cook for Mistah Morgaridge—but she don't like dat Cato Clark, no, sah!"

"Here comes the boss," he said, gazing off towards the herd, and Boots Jackson looked up apprehensively.

"What I tell you, boy?" he muttered, "he's comin' back on the prod! Ain't I tell you somethin' gwine to drap? He sho'ly was soah when you called down Mistah Arrants—kinder 'flected on his courage, before the boys."

The Hawk squatted down, and poured out another cup of coffee.

Noisy Connolly was bouncing high as he came galloping up to the wagon.

"Boots!" he bellowed, riding up to the wagon and ignoring the Hawk, sitting by the fire, "pack your wagon and move, at once. Down the canyon eight miles to the old Savage place, and we'll bring the herd by dark. If we camp here this night the rustlers will stampede our cattle, the dirty, thieving blaggards."

"Here—you!" he yelled at the Hawk, "get up and help the cook! A man would think you owned the whole outfit. Grab up them pots and pans and put them away in the wagon—what's that? What's that you say?"

"I said that, back in Texas——"

Good Morning!

"The Thundering Herd"! Panic in that title, isn't there?

With any kind of an imagination at all you can hear the earth-shaking thud of mighty hoofs; shudder at the thought of an on-rushing wall of powerful black bodies; gasp as they bear down on you—yes, you can, if you have an imagination, as you read the title!

Back in 1876 white folks from the east went west. The idea was to get a lot of money and the way they intended to do it was by killing the buffalo that roamed the plains and sell the skins. Three dollars a hide was the price offered. That's what they did—killed the buffalo and sold the skins and then the trouble started.

The Indians seeing their food supply vanishing went on the warpath. "The Thundering Herd" has to do with this exciting period of western history.

One of the same sort of stories that you will find in most of these historical chronicles of the plains, weaves in and out of scenes of covered wagon hardships, Indian attacks, buffalo stampedes, frontier town life and the like.

An interesting departure in the film is the presence in a minor part of Col. T. J. McCoy, official government agent in charge of the Northwestern reservations. He personally chaperones the Indians and buffalo on the scene of action — Yellowstone National park. They say he had 700 Arapahoes in charge during the filming of the picture.

If you are observant you'll be a little bit dubious regarding some of the snow and cold weather in the film. On the whole though, you'll find the production well staged. It has lots of action on the part of both men and beasts.

They tell me the censor board cut up something terrible because there was shooting in the film. Well, of course shooting ISN'T nice, but it always HAS been done. (And by some of our best people.)

See you tomorrow!

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Mabel Harvey, Delaware [Box 18], Ia., was awarded $5.

The Question.

Where Asked.

State at Lake street.

The Answers.

Steven O'Connor, 223 West Erie street, Peerless Engraving company—I don't know what I'd do—I'd probably go crazy. Well, I'd get ten of the Washington newspaper men to be my cabinet. They understand the public's wants better than anybody else. I would give them a chance to make good.

Miss Alma Barnes, Bradley hotel, prima donna—I would certainly start right at the bottom of the job. I'd have everybody who came into this country looked after, to see what they did here. That means that everybody would be registered, the same as they are in Europe. That would solve our crime problem.

William H. Gaughan, 1254 West 72d place, express driver—If I were President I would try to put prohibition out of commission; get the debts that France and all the other countries owe us paid up, and give the soldiers a good, straight bonus, without any red tape attached.

Miss Dorothy Ross, 4615 Lincoln street, clerk—I would try to run the country the same as President Coolidge is doing, probably laying special stress upon getting rid of all possible public graft. We are all entitled to our personal opinions, but I like President Coolidge.

Frank R. Roper, 2617½ North Spaulding avenue, electrician—Why don't you ask me an easy question? It would take a book to answer that, and then there would still be an argument. The easiest way to give a short answer would be to state that I would try to do the same as Coolidge is doing.

Move to Seize Power Is Laid to McAndrew

Teachers' Council Plan Fails of Approval.

Recommendations of Supt. William McAndrew, which were fostered by the Chicago Principals' club, caused a stormy session of the rules committee of the board of education yesterday. Charges that the principal's organization is trying to run the board of education and that the superintendent is trying to subordinate the business manager to his own authority were made by trustees in the board rooms.

The meeting ended with the committee flatly refusing to consider the measure and unanimously voting to place it on file.

The superintendent suffered another defeat when the school administration committee failed to concur in his recommendation for new teachers' councils, the vote on the project being a tie.

The measure which precipitated chargees against the Principals' club was a recommendation to furnish the principals with copies of bulletins sent to school engineers and that bulletins be submitted to the superintendent for approval when regulations, which might affect educational work, were being made.

"This recommendation comes to me from the Chicago Principals' club, where it has been the subject of extensive discussion," Supt. McAndrew stated. "The reasons given by the principals appear to me to be in accordance with good school management."

"This rule if put into effect would subordinate the business manager's office," Mr. Byrnes said. "The statute provides that each office is obliged to function separately and any approval of orders of the business office by the superintendent would be a violation of the school law of 1917."

Trustee J. Lewis Coath charged that the Principals' club was trying to run the board of education. "The time has not come when they can do that," he said. "And as long as I am in office I will do my utmost to see they do not gain any such foothold."

The superintendent's proposed new teachers' council, which is to be made up of representatives of voluntary teachers' organizations as well as members of the educational staff, will go to the board without any recommendation. It is expected it will pass the board by a slight majority."

U. of C. Begins Huge Financial Drive Today

With pledges amounting to $1,671,800 in the hands of the trustees of the University of Chicago, and a conditional gift of $2,000,000 in sight, the campaign to raise $17,500,000 for the university opens today in every state in the Union. Beyond the 1925 program is a plan of the trustees to raise over $60,000,000 by 1940.

The 26,500 alumni have been organized throughout the country, and have set for themselves a quota of $2,000,000, which, it is announced, they will attempt to raise before the day is over. In more than 250 cities dinners and other functions will be held this evening. The greatest assemblage of alumni is expected at the Furniture mart, where addresses by President Burton, Harold H. Swift, Coach Alonzo Stagg, and others will feature a dinner for which 9,500 invitations have been issued.

THEATER

The return-visit of "Moonlight" will end April 4. . . . Indicated as next in the Apollo is "Betty Lee," which is a revision with tunes of a farce named "Going Some!" by Rex Beach and the late Paul Armstrong. Miss Gloria Foy, in Chicago last season in "Up She Goes!" is in the incoming diversion, which has been on view of late in New-York.

Michael Arlen uses seventeen characters in his stage-version of "The Green Hat," and divides the play into three acts. . . . It is repetition to tell that Miss Katherine Cornell will be the Iris March; and here's hoping that the young woman, whose daily mail is said to contain from twenty to forty-six offers of new rôles, will survive the translation from Manhattan, where the critics worship her, to Chicago. . . . Miss Ann Harding will be Venice Pollen; Leslie Howard, Napier Harpenden; A. P. Kaye, Doctor Masters; Gordon Ash, Hilary Townshend; Eugene Powers, General Harpenden—minutiæ which are informative if you've read the novel. . . . Miss Harding dates back in Chicago's stage-annals a bare year to "The Horse-Thief," in which she was lovely to see and seemed to be a good actress. Mr. Kaye helped to offset the tedium evoked by "Mary, Mary, Quite Contrary," in which Mrs. Fiske acted here last season. Mr. Howard was last in Chicago in "The Werewolf," wherein he was sadly miscast. And, although I seem unable to identify Mr. Ash and Mr. Powers by past performances in my presence, I'm not incredulous when told by experts that they're all right.

Miss Betty Linley, Miss Mary Blair, Miss Jessie Royce Landis, and Paul Harvey are in "Wings of Chance," by Hugh Stanislaus Stangé, which is among Detroit's enticements.

Other Days.

When Miss May Irwin took her bow after "Mrs. Peckham's Carouse" last night in the Palace, she lingered long enough to sing a song out of her ample catalogue, and then to tell a story. The song was "The New Bully," which was her best-seller some time before we went to war with Spain. It was regarded then as a riot of raffish ragtime; and she sang it in those days with a style and a flair that kept it in the air even after the vital tune known as "A Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight" came into vogue as the troops went off to get even for the Maine. The old song was interesting again as she gave it last night to what seemed to be a thin and improvised accompaniment by the theater's musicians. She put a thrill into the boasting lines starting "When I walk that levee round," and made me wish that she had never stopped singing what we used to classify as coon-songs. Most of them, as I recall, were about mercenary wenches, although now-and-then they were a stunning wail of love-sickness, as in the case of "Bill Bailey, Won't You Please Come Home!"—and that, when I think of it, was Miss Marie Dressler's, and not Miss Irwin's. But it was Miss Irwin who used to sing "Mamie, Come Kiss Your Honey-Boy!" which Miss Fay Templeton wrote. . . .

As to Miss Irwin's acting in George Ade's old skit, I found it to be as vital and as full-veined as when she was in her comic prime. It was, I think, in a piece named "Madge Smith, Attorney" I saw her many years ago act a scene of intoxication; and ever since she has been my favorite among the lady-souses of the stage. . . . Ade's little play about Mrs. Peckham was literature long before the Eighteenth Amendment was insolence; but even that chronological knowledge didn't fortify me against shock when I read in the Palace playbill that the piece has been "revised by Sidney Toler." In my opinion,— which is not at all humble,—George Ade knew a great deal about how to write for the stage; and I wish he were still working at it! . . . And, checking up on Miss May Irwin, I find that she has been on the stage since February of 1875; and that's a bit more than a half-century, if my figures are functioning.

Next week is some sort of an anniversary for the Palace; and Weber and Fields, Miss Florence Reed, and Duci von Kerekjarto will be in the bill. . . . Von Kerekjarto is a violinist whom in 1920 I chased all over Europe on the strength of information that he was "another Heifetz," and caught up with him in Zurich to find that another manager had beaten me to a contract for the United States. Also to find that, while he wasn't another Heifetz, he was a pretty good fiddler in a day of many fiddlers. F. D.

Fine Success Is Achieved by Miss Thornton

Her Singing and Her Songs Both Pleasing.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

With quite the most unusual song program of the season, averaging distinctly higher than most of the more conventional ones, with exceptionally lovely singing, and with the superb accompaniments of Richard Hageman, there was a threefold reason why Renée Thornton, soprano, made the most pronounced success at the Blackstone yesterday afternoon that she has ever achieved here.

It is one thing to assemble some novel songs and call them a program; it is another to construct the kind of list that Miss Thornton sang. That needs not only a musical ear but something of a sense of the theater and a large degree of concert intelligence.

There was a group of fine, old, crusted Italian tunes of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries in a modern transcription by Pietro Floridia, a Schubert group of which only two songs are in the habit of getting on programs, some Spanish by Joaquin Nin and French by Ernest Moret—the "Jota Valenciana" of the former is one of the new notables—and an English and American group of which the American section ought to be highly popular. It consisted of two songs by Kathleen L. Manning and Mr. Hageman's "Me Company Along."

These are unusual songs, and they were unusually ingratiating when sung with the poignant tang that is in Miss Thornton's beautiful voice. She is somewhat more preoccupied with producing tone than enunciating words, but she gave an absolutely first class performance of Schubert's "Ungeduld" and Schuman's "Widmung" as its encore. And for a breath taking example of what the voice and piano can do together, one remembers Moret's "Ondine" and Mr. Hageman's song.

Miss Thornton in private life is Mrs. Richard Hageman. The matrimonial union would seem to be not only social but of high art. Likewise, she has the quality of ornamenting the stage with a degree of personal beauty that will take you many months' search to find its equal.

Out on a brief junket, the New York City police band gave its first Chicago concert at Orchestra hall last night, and turned out to be a rather good organization. It was a bit noisy, of course, as any band of its dimensions is likely to be indoors, but it is solid and even and under excellent command.

Capt. Paul Henneberg, the director, conducted the band through operatic excerpts, overtures, and fantasias, with encore incursions into lighter effects. No Sousa marches were heard during my visit, but there was a pleasant diversion called "Rigoletto in Darktown," an irreverant and jiggety ragging of some melodies from the Verdi opera. Instead of the customary cornet soloist, there were three, Patrolmen W. D. Banisch, W. Hilgeman, and A. Melichar, who played some trios expertly. Elsa Kressmann, Chicago soprano, substituted for Perle Barti, indisposed, and scored with a group of songs.

Unfastidious Mate Will Certainly Mar Domestic Harmony

BY DORIS BLAKE.

When the "old wives for new" theme is done in fiction and you get on to the chapter where the once beautiful girl and bride begins to degenerate into a careless, fat, sloppy wife, you don't have to turn to the back to find out there is going to enter into the sensitive husband's life another woman who has personal charm and beauty.

From all reports, fiction does not monopolize this idea, either. The wife may have all the virtues this side of the New Testament, but lacking that of personal cleanliness the other availeth her little in holding her husband's love.

Sympathy isn't coming to her, either, with all the soap and water at hand and instructions on how to keep her figure down to normal quite as readily available.

The theme of the careless wife is only one side of personal hygiene and its relation to domestic harmony. I think a little of the same fiction propaganda directed at careless husbands wouldn't do the marriage world any harm. It is amazing how often I receive communications like the following:

"Am a young married woman of 21, my husband is 26. We have been married for eight months. He has had a college education, is a good talker, and holds a reliable position. Ever since we were married he has treated me wonderfully, still brings me candy and gifts every week the same as before we were married. He calls me the most endearing names and does his utmost to make me happy. But, sad to say, I am not happy. In fact, there are times when I feel utterly miserable for this reason: He is not particular about his personal cleanliness. It seems if I didn't remind him to take a bath every few days he'd never think of it. Even then he puts it off. He neglects to brush his teeth or wash his mouth, doing so only every three or four days, whereas I've been brought up to believe all persons should use a toothbrush twice a day.

"Now, Miss Blake, I love him desperately, but somehow, lately, I seem to be cooler toward him. He cannot understand why. How can any man hold a woman's love if day after day he gets up in the morning and has such a bad breath?

"I cannot tell him outright or be too outspoken, for I know that would hurt him terribly. Still, I cannot stand it, and I'm worrying as to how he will act later. He has other such bad habits concerning his personal self. I've mentioned it to him once or twice and told him to try to change to please me. He kept silent, never answered, but acted just the same way.

"Shall I put my foot down, make a scene, and tell him once and for all if he doesn't take better care of himself I'll leave him altogether, or shall I go on hoping he may change? I'm frightfully unhappy over the whole thing. Besides, in time, I can see where this carelessness is going to affect his success in business. Employers choose for advancement men who are creditable representatives to them, don't you think?"

I'm hoping this letter will come to the eyes of this woman's husband and the husbands of a number of other wives with a similar cross to bear. A woman is quite as justified in falling out of love with a careless husband as a man with a slatternly wife. You can't maintain love if respect is lost. And you can't respect a man or a woman, no matter what his or her other virtues may be, who does not observe the rules of ordinary, decent personal cleanliness.

DORIS BLAKE'S ANSWERS

You Can't Blame Her.

"Dear Miss Blake: There is a girl one year my junior whom I love. She has told me she loves me, but does not seem to live up to it. She goes out with different fellows and won't even pay any attention to me. Fellows say that she is only trying to get me jealous by going out with other fellows. Do you think I should care for her any more? ANXIOUS."

There are plenty of other girls for you to take out while she is dashing around with the other boys, aren't there, son? She is young and wishes to have a good time while she may, and you can't blame her one bit for going out with the other boys. It is up to you to make her feel you are so much nicer than the other boys that she won't wish to go out with them.

Don't Meet Outside.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a young girl, 17, and have been keeping company with a young fellow two years my senior. He seems to care a great deal for me when I am around but never comes to my home. Do you think it is proper for me to meet him outside my home? BABE."

No, Babe, if he will not come to your home where your parents may meet him and know with whom you are going out, do not meet him outside. It is not a nice thing to do, and, again, your parents would soon find out and would be disappointed in you for doing it. If he really cared for you and was anxious to see you he would not hesitate coming to the house, dear.

Nancy's grandma lives just across the street, and they are great chums. One day grandma was in the yard looking for Nancy. She was eating a cookie and hiding one behind her to tease. Soon Nancy came into view.

Shyly eying the cookie grandma was eating, she said, "Granma, do you 'member that apple I gave you ozzer day?" L. H.

Carl, a young scout, had been trying to learn the bugle calls, much to the annoyance of all the neighbors.

One day I asked, "Well, what good deeds have you to your credit today?"

"O," he answered, "this morning I made the scout master and all the boys happy when I gave the bugle call and the neighbors were all happy when I was through." A. C.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

March Marmalades.

March was formerly the marmalade month. Today we get as good, or better, oranges for marmalade making in January as in March, and sometimes in this month we cannot get oranges good for this purpose—fine and tart and large ones of fine aroma.

A recent letter showed me that one family had been sending back and forth or to its different and scattered members a recipe developed here in some experiments, which calls for but one orange. Those who like this recipe must have used an excellent specimen or perhaps they would not have been so pleased with the recipe. Not any and every orange is good for marmalade. You can waste your time if you think this, but when you combine an orange with a grapefruit and a lemon, as in what is still the most widely used recipes for the marmalade called "amber," it will not make so much difference as when you try the following:

Cut up a good sized and fine marmalade orange, and soak it for twenty-four hours in from three-fourths to one cup of water. Taste of the soaked orange, and you should find it bitter. The skin may now be chopped fine, if you wish to make one sort of marmalade. Chop it and cook it with the rest—the pulp and soaking water—with measure for measure of sugar. Cook to marmalade or jellying stage or to 219 or 220 on the thermometer. With quick cooking the latter is all right, when prolonged the former degree is good.

This should be a light, bright and glassy jelly not milky nor sirupy and sickening nor vapid of flavor. When perfect it can be eaten without anything with it in quantity like a bonbon or candied peel.

There's a thrill in a dish of fish, tasty and tastefully served, piping hot and garnished with lemon and parsley. But the thrill will be twice as keen if your bottle of Gulden's mustard is at home on your table, beside the pepper and salt.

Try it tonight with hot fish or cold, little or big, fish cakes, fish salad, canned fish or fresh. The wonderful richness of Gulden's will intensify and bring out that piquant, delicious taste.

Gulden's has the quality of intensifying food flavors. It improves all meats, hot and cold, salads, baked beans, spaghetti—nearly every food you eat.

Send for our leaflet, "How to eat a Steak and Why." You'll find some pointers in it. Charles Gulden, Inc. G G 20, Elizabeth Street, New York

Jane Morton Finds Hunter's Pink Auto Barred in Chicago

BY NANCY R——.

I heard such an amusing little anecdote the other day about Jane Morton and her gayly hued flivver that I can't resist passing it along.

Being of an artistic and outdoor turn of mind, this member of Lake Forest's younger set has her four wheeled steed tinted a bright red—a real hunter's pink—so that in or out of the hunting season, Lake Forest boasts a brilliant color on its landscape.

This United States of ours being, according to the song, the land of the free and the home of the brave, Miss Morton thought she and her flivver were at liberty to travel where and when they would. But no. Driving into town recently, she was halted by the brawny arm of the law, wanting to know in no uncertain tones what she meant by driving a car of that especial red in Chicago.

She didn't misunderstand the b. a. of the l. for a minute, and, knowing that she wasn't being complimented on her artistic sense, she inquired meekly what was wrong with the picture. Whereupon she was informed that only the city fire department could use that red in Chicago. Miss Morton replied—still meekly, so the story goes—that she didn't live in town; that she was in Chicago for just a few hours, and that so far the Lake Forest officials hadn't objected to it at all. The b. a. of the l. assured himself that her story was true and softened somewhat toward the offender. Finally he let her go, warning her that hereafter she must come into Chicago in a car of another color.

The Orientals, that youngest of Chicago's intellectural societies, has a busy week in store. As you know, it is a society to promote oriental art, organized under the auspices of the Art institute, with a board of directors that includes Mrs. Richard T. Crane Jr., David Adler, Robert Allerton, Potter Palmer, George F. Porter, Walter B. Smith, and Russell Tyson. They are sponsoring this week at the Art institute a quite wonderful exhibit of Chinese porcelains and potteries of the last ten centuries, and they now announce that Charles Fabens Kelley, assistant director of the institute, will repeat his two talks on Chinese porcelains and potteries, illustrated by the exhibit itself, at 2:30 p. m. on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Also, on one or the other of those two days the Orientals are to meet and elect officers of the society for the year.

"Modish Blues" Are the Latest Hit

by • Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Just by way of adding to what some one calls our national anthem, "Limehouse Blues," "Mammy Blues," et cetera, let us suggest as a brand new variation, "Modish Blues." There is really nothing frivolous about this suggestion. Never was a season when blue was present in such variety and force.

To begin with, there's good old navy. It has got back its health completely, and is seen on every hand in the new spring clothes for general wear. Ascending gradually, we find Madonna, hydrangea, periwinkle, turquoise, French, and a score of others. Any one who has the blues this present year ought, in fact, to be in an exceedingly cheerful frame of mind.

This color is not particular where it is seen. From sports clothes to ballroom it makes its triumphant way, and if it is not becoming to you in one form, don't get discouraged. There are at least fifteen tones among which to experiment.

Today we show it in a dance frock of chiffon. Here the particular tone chosen is a lovely soft, smoky blue. The outstanding features of this frock are the wide petaled flounce, the fold brought about the shoulders in front and tied in streamers in the back and, most arresting of all, those fan shaped draperies placed directly under the arms. All of these assisting folds are picoted.

Ugly Duckling Goes the Way of Other Old Family Fixtures

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

What's become of the ugly duckling without which no family used to be complete? Who's wearing the castoffs and the drab homespuns that fell to her lot

Gone the way of all the old family fixtures that could be supplanted by something modern and up to date?

The family beauty, that spoiled darling who accepted the prettiest dresses, hats, shoes, and all the trimmings as hers by the divine right of having been born with a prettier face than her sisters' is no longer the family hope. All the girls now are born free and equal to the wide open opportunities of earning attractiveness by following the rules of health, the lines of fashion, and the artifices of the rouge pot, if necessary.

You may not be divinely tall, nor sway in the breeze like a birch, yet there may bloom above a rather square shoulder a complexion ripe as a Georgia peach. There may be a pair of sparkling eyes made to sparkle still more brilliantly by applying the perfect color scheme in dress.

All girl babies born in this era have the inalienable right to fine teeth, a jaw symmetrically outlined by correct formation of that upper and lower set of molars.

No mother these days, except a careless one, may sigh philosophically over the plain little girl and accept her as something that cannot be cured. She may not be a beauty, but she may still acquire a fair degree of attractiveness if she is taught to follow the rules of health. The resources of modern medicine, instruction on personal hygiene, and beauty development are open to all.

A pretty face no longer serves to set one girl above her sisters. If a sister seemingly less favored at birth has the wit to determine her type and play it up for all there is in it, she may walk off with all the laurels, including Prince Charming.

Perhaps the disappearance of the ugly ducking is simply the result of the changed status in which beauty culture is held today. In the old Puritanical days 'twas looked upon as a snare and menace to the soul. Today physical educators and doctors frankly hold out beauty as one of the lures and rewards of physical health and vigor and the outdoor life within the reach of every one who has the wits to avail herself of them.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

F. M. R.: TO WALK CORRECTLY, should hold the head erect, the backbone straight, the chest out, and be sure the body from the waist up makes no perceptible movement. The propelling is done with the legs swinging easily from the hips, the knees held slightly rigid. Put the foot down slightly more on the ball of the foot than on the heel and point the toes straight ahead.

C. D. J.: IT IS NOT HARMFUL to drink water with your meals, if you do not use it to wash down the food. You may drink several glasses if you wish. If water is taken while food is in the mouth the chances are the food will be improperly chewed and not sufficiently mixed with the saliva, which contains ferments for the digestion of starches and sugars, resulting in indigestion.

Short Skirts Feature London Court Dresses

LONDON, March 23.—If dresses designed for the next courts at Buckingham palace, now on view at the shops of various modistes, are followed, there will be less material seen than usual and more of the wearer's ankles.

Most of the models on view have the extremely short skirts which have come into vogue since the last court was held, and against which there is at present no official regulation. The cut of the neck is discreet, while the length of train and the veil is also restricted as at previous courts.

One dress on view is of silver and lace finished with ostrich feathers. Another is of pale pink brocade with a girdle of brilliants and a train of gold lace, while a third is of silver and pale mauve.

MEN'S FASHIONS

BY A. T. GALLICO.

Green Shirt Complements.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Let us imagine, for the sake of imagining, that Aunt Ellen has suddenly materialized from the hinterland, and, wishing to do you an especial kindness, has purchased you a green striped shirt and heaves it with a loud crash into your wardrobe.

What to do? What to wear with it? That red and yellow foulard tie you'd bought only the week before? Never! Anarchy does not yet hold sway in this broad land. That heavy silk orange and purple college stripe tie you had invested in in a reckless and jaunty mood? Hardly! The shirt would be your shroud.

And just when you are about to toss the shirt in the incinerator and tell Aunt Ellen to leave her millions to somebody else, along we come with a lot of bright suggestions, saving, I trust, the day.

Frinstance, considering, for example, that the suit is dark blue or gray, keep your eye open for ties in solid greens, self-patterned, perhaps, or combinations of green and dark blue, in either striped or figured effects. Or green and gray, in stripe, figure, or check, is pleasant to contemplate.

Even if the suit is dark blue, the tie might have a tiny bit of tan or dark brown in it. But red is absolutely beyond the pale, being what is known as a complementary color. Red and green bring out each other's brightest points in one long, loud yell of color.

They Looked Alike.

I had gone shopping with a friend in her car. We had different errands to do, so arranged to meet where the car was parked.

When I arrived, I climbed in and, what was my embarrassment, a few minutes later, when a man paused at the car door and remarked, "Beg pardon, madam, but I believe this is my car."

To Energetic.

I was in high school and leader of the orchestra. We were giving a little opera and I felt proud as a music master. To make my position more impressive, I induced my mother to rent for me a dress suit and with some dignity I wore it on the night of the performance.

It felt tight across the back and a little uncomfortable, checking the free movement of my arms as I directed the orchestra.

In between acts we played spirited music, and just as we were concluding the "Hungarian Rhapsody" I forgot the tightness of my outfit, waved my hands wildly, commanding more force from the stringed instrument division, when I suddenly felt baggily loose and free. Before I could account for the feeling, the audience was laughing with a wild applause and I felt something had happened—it had—for one of the high school teachers stepped up to take my place and sent me behind the scenes to have my coat sewed up—the center seam had burst from the neck down and I flushed from pink to crimson red, but rather than be teased to death I accepted the rapid stitches of one of the girl students and directed the music again, but I never turned once to face that audience.

Thousands like her wait too long
Like a thief in the night comes Pyorrhea
If she had only known!
He pays the price of neglect
Just as the stability of a building is dependent upon a firm foundation, so are healthy teeth dependent upon healthy gums

4 out of 5 get Pyorrhea
The fight against Pyorrhea is a fight against overwhelming odds. Statistics prove that four out of every five over 40—and thousands younger, too—pay Pyorrhea's dreaded toll. Will you?

Be on your guard for signs of Pyorrhea

Just as the stability of a building is dependent upon its foundations, so healthy teeth depend upon healthy gums.

Bleeding gums are the first sign of Pyorrhea's approach. Then they begin to recede and the healthy pink color gives place to a pale, whitish tint. Soon the teeth are loosened, pus pockets form and drain disease-breeding poisons through the system.

Forhan's For the Gums contains just the right proportion of Forhan's Astringent (as used by the dental profession) to neutralize oral poisons, and keep the gums in a firm, strong, healthy condition. Even if you don't care to discontinue your favorite dentifrice, at least start using Forhan's once a day.

Forhan's is more than a tooth paste; it checks Pyorrhea. Thousands have found it beneficial for years. For your own sake ask for and get Forhan's For the Gums. At all druggists, 35c and 60c in tubes.

LATE LIQUIDATION BREAKS CORN 7-9c WHEAT UP A BIT

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Belated liquidation developed in corn and caused a break of 7⅜@9¼c from the early high point, heavy selling of stop loss orders causing semi-demoralization for a time, and a sharp break in wheat and oats. But the selling quickly ran its course, and with wheat in the lead all grains rallied quickly. The finish was at gains of 1¼@3⅜c on wheat. Corn was off 3@3½c, with oats ⅛c higher to ⅛c lower and rye 6@8⅜c higher, reports of around 1,500,000 bu being sold for export being the strengthening influence in the latter grain.

News on wheat was generally favorable for holders, and while the market made a poor response early, toward the last there was heavy buying on unconfirmed rumors that Russia was in the market for an immense quantity of wheat and flour, the total aggregating around 20,000,000 bu. The same report was circulated late last week, and attracted considerable attention, and it was understood that some flour had been sold, but the quantities were not given.

Fear Heavy Crop Damage.

Numerous reports were received from parts of Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, and Nebraska regarding the outlook for the new winter wheat crop, and in the main they suggested that heavy abandonment of acreage was certain, with further losses in sight unless rain came shortly. The May-July spread narrowed rapidly during the last half hour of trading, with July around 21c under at the close.

A decrease of 4,007,000 bu in the visible supply was about as expected, and the total of 62,076,000 bu is only 1,450,000 bu in excess of last year. Liverpool closed 2¼d to 2⅜d higher on a decrease of nearly 3,800,000 bu on ocean passage.

Liquidation in Corn.

Liquidation which has been hanging over the corn market for a long time was on in volume. Numerous stop loss orders were uncovered under $1.17 for July. At the low point it was $1.11¼, with that delivery and the May at a new low on the present downturn, and with September at a new low on the crop. The continued slow eastern demand with an increase of 887,000 bu in the visible supply in the face of the light movement to terminal markets were the main bearish influences. Short covering absorbed the offerings on the break, and the undertone at the last was much firmer. Total visible is 35,287,000 bu, against 26,976,000 bu last year.

Oats showed stubborn resistance to pressure and while breaking in sympathy with corn, failed to show the pronounced weakness in that grain.

Russia Buys Rye.

Russia and Germany were in the market for rye, and the seaboard estimated sales as high as 1,500,000 bu. There was free buying of futures by houses with seaboard connections, and prices advanced rapidly with but little pressure on the market.

Weakness in corn had a depressing effect on provisions and with profit taking the close was at net losses of 10@12½c on lard, 20@35c on ribs, and 12½@15c on bellies. Prices follow:

WORLD'S·GRAIN MARKET·NEWS

The tone of the grain markets at the close was regarded as better as a result of the break and reaction. Weak holders in corn have unloaded and shorts have taken profits, but the late rally was so sharp that many failed to get in. There has been a reduction in the open interest in all markets and all are sensitive to liberal buying and selling.

It was said by rye traders that one of the big Florida shorts covered 500,000 bu and made the bulge. There was also buying by exporters, which made the market more attractive. The largest holder of cash rye in the east was one of the largest sellers yesterday.

The trade had it that a large order for wheat and rye was given out by Russia. One estimate was for 500,000 tons. This was one of the factors that helped to make the large advance in wheat and rye.

Crop reports on wheat compiled by Kansas City experts place the abandoned acreage in Kansas at 21 per cent and in Oklahoma at 15 per cent, with a condition of 71.8 for Kansas and 67 per cent in Oklahoma. The Santa Fe railroad's weekly crop report says the winter wheat in the southwest is, on the whole, in fairly good condition.

Secretary Smiley of the Kansas Grain Dealers' association, after an investigation of the Kansas wheat fields, finds 2,000,000 acres, or nearly one-fifth of the state's acreage, failed to germinate during the fall. He believes that 1,000,000 acres in central counties will be abandoned and planted to spring crops. In some other sections the condition is as near perfect as possible.

It is said that one large wheat trader residing in an outside market let $1,000,000 in profit get away on the recent down turn.

Surveying the world's wheat situation, Russell of New York says thtre has been a disappearance from Aug. 1, 1924, to March 21, 1925, of 454,288,000 bu, against 452,376,000 bu last year. The average disappearance per week is 13,360,000 bu, against 13,300,000 bu last year. World's exports after this time last year were 290,000,000 bu and the quantity afloat was reduced from 69,000,000 bu to 41,700,000 bu, making a total disappearance of 307,000,000 bu and total exports for the year of 775,000,000 bu.

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

Export sales of wheat at the seaboard were finally estimated at 300,000 to 400,000 bu, while estimates on rye ranged upward to 1,500,000 bu, Germany being credited with being the largest buyer, while a little was taken by Copenhagen. Reports from London and Rotterdam said small lots had been made to Russia. A seaboard exporter wired that the bulk of the rye would ultimately find its way into Russia.

Chicago handlers sold 5,000 bu wheat, 27,000 bu corn, 47,000 bu oats, and 5,000 bu barley to the domestic trade, with 200,000 bu corn sold to go to store.

Basis on cash wheat here was firmer, with No. 2 red 8@10c and No. 2 hard 1@2c over May. Outside markets were unsettled, with red winter at St. Louis unchanged to 7c higher, with light offerings. Hard winter was 1c lower there. At Kansas City hard was unchanged to 1c lower and red unchanged to 2c higher. Minneapolis reported the basis firm to 2c higher, with a good demand and light offerings. Shipping sales were 45,000 bu.

Demand for cash corn was fair and the basis on low grades as much as 2c better. No. 3 grades sold at May price to 3c under, with No. 4 grades 2@8½c under; No. 5 grades, 7@11½c under, and No. 6 grades 10⅜@13½c under. Outside markets were 1@5c lower.

ENGLISH BANKER FINDS U. S. TRADE OUTLOOK BETTER

BY SCRUTATOR.

The Union Trust company of Cleveland is circularizing an issue of its house organ containing an exclusive article by Sir George Paish on the world trade outlook. Sir George is again lecturing amongst us. He was one of our numerous post-armistice visitors, who told us that we must bond ourselves for more and more billions to restore the European trade status that Europe had shattered.

Sir George now professes to feel much better than in those days. He says that the prospects of international trade—and that's the kind of trade that a Britisher is always talking about—are improved because of the declining influence of political factors and the increasing importance of economic factors. "The wise statesman indeed adjusts politics to economics and does not seek to make economics subservient to politics." Amen. That sounds good—also familiar. But what does it mean? When one goes to drawing distinctions between abstractions like "politics" and "economics" a great deal depends upon what the abstractions mean to the writer and the reader.

Sir George also reminds us that exports can only be paid for by imports in the long run—everybody is reminding us of that, and everybody who reminds us seems to have the idea that exports and imports are the sole ends of man—the ultimate good.

As one reads Sir George a bit further the hunch creeps in that when he speaks of "politics" he really means the other fellow's politics, not his own. There is a broad hint that tariffs must be reduced. Now just why is it that lowering a tariff is necessarily a nonpolitical act and raising one is always branded political, or why is it that a policy of making loans to Europe is necessarily economic and opposition to such loans is necessarily political? Underlying all such talk is the old assumption of Manchester economics that the world must move according to its canons and any one who acts otherwise is violating natural law. But the world has gone right on violating those assumed laws as to international trade with a regularity that has led some of us to suspect that there is a natural law back of the world-wide trend to national self-sufficiency—a trend which, in time, is bound to make the volume of international trade a lesser per cent of the world's aggregate business.

How can the gentlemen who are always telling us that protection restricts international trade explain the increasing foreign business of protectionist America? It's about time they did.

Even Britain may eventually tumble to the fact that we are just beginning to get: that a home market which has a high purchasing power will make quantity production profitable and thereby lower production costs more effectively than can be done in a country of lower wages. In seeking foreign trade through cheap labor Britain has been losing it. Not seeking foreign trade first, the United States seems to be getting it as a by-product of the home market conditions caused by protection. "To him that hath shall be given." British skilled labor is flocking here, while our immigration laws bar the supposedly cheap but really expensive unskilled labor that we are beginning to see retarded our mechanical development and kept up production costs. High wage America can sell to the impoverished orient to such an extent that 16 per cent of our aggregate foreign trade is with those peoples to whom price is of prime importance.

DRY GOODS AND GARMENT NEWS

[Copyright: 1925: Fairchild News Service.]

NEW YORK.—The gray goods market was irregular, although mills generally maintained their prices. However, some sales were reported at an eighth of a cent under quotations. The market follows: For 64x60, 5.35 yards to the pound, 9½c to 9⅝c; 68x72, 4.75 yards to the pound, 11½c to 11⅝c; 72x76, 4.25 yards to the pound, 12½c; 80 squares, 4.00 yards to the pound, 13⅝c. Contracts were available at a quarter of a cent below spot prices.

BOSTON.—Sales in the wool market were better than has been the case in several weeks, and the improvement first noted the latter part of last week is evidently continuing. Several mills buyers were in the market today, but all were looking for bargains. Fine staple territory is held at $1.45 to $1.50; half blood combing, $1.30 to $1.35; three-eighth blood, $1.20 to $1.25; quarter blood, $1.10 to $1.15.

EQUITABLE BUILDING

DENOMINATIONS: $1,000, $500 and $100

Location:

At the northwest corner of Broad and Locust Streets, adjoining The Art Club of Philadelphia, a few steps from the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, and opposite the Academy of Music, there is soon to rise a majestic twenty-story office building, with a three-story store annex, and theatre adjoining. Situated in the very heart of the city's financial, mercantile, hotel and theatrical district, on one of the busiest corners of Philadelphia, this building offers excellent bond investment opportunities.

The plans call for a structure of picturesque Gothic architecture designed by A. F. Gilbert, of New York City, with Horace Trumbauer, of Philadelphia, as consultant architect. The contract for its erection has been awarded to the Lynch Construction Company, of New York. The lot upon which these improvements will be erected has a frontage of 85 feet 11¼ inches on Broad Street and a depth of 219 feet 5 inches on Locust Street, with an "L" 150 feet 4½ inches in width extending to Chancellor Street. A three-story store annex will be erected on Broad Street adjoining the twenty-story building, so that offices on all sides of the main structure will be assured maximum daylight. The construction will embody the most modern devices for comfort and efficiency.

The first floor will be given over to a number of stores fronting on Broad Street, where there will also be an entrance to the contemplated Broad Street Subway. The Locust Street side will contain entrances to a restaurant in the basement and the proposed theatre, which will have a seating capacity of 2,000.

Appraisal:

The ground and improvements have been conservatively valued by this Company for mortgage purposes at $5,922,000. A number of independent appraisals by experts have fixed the valuation considerably in excess of $6,000,000.

Earnings:

The building will contain approximately 222,000 square feet of floor space. The Equitable Leasing Corporation has taken a twenty-one-year lease on the entire building at a rental of $500,000 a year, plus taxes, aggregating $10,500,000 net for the term.

The net income from rentals will be more than two and one-fifth times the greatest annual interest requirements on this issue of bonds.

Terms of Mortgage and Interest:

The mortgage is to run for a period of fifteen years from March 15, 1925, and is to bear interest at six per cent. (6%) per annum, payable March 15th and September 15th at the office of Bankers Bond & Mortgage Company, Philadelphia, Pa. The mortgage and bonds have been approved as to legality by counsel for Bankers Bond & Mortgage Company.

Amortization:

The mortgage is to be amortized in accordance with a graduated schedule shown below. One-twelfth (1/12) of the annual interest, taxes, assessments and water rents, and also one-twelfth (1/12) of the amortization provided for in the schedule shown below must be deposited each month with Bankers Bond & Mortgage Company, trustee for the bondholders.

Guarantee:

These bonds are fully guaranteed as to principal and interest by Bankers Bond & Mortgage Company.

Additional Safeguards:

A year's rental, $500,000, has been paid in advance, to remain on deposit until the final year of the lease.

The lease has been assigned to the Bankers Bond & Mortgage Company, trustee for the bondholders as collateral security.

There have been deposited with the trustee in addition to the proceeds of the sale of these bonds sufficient funds to pay for the entire cost of construction and all other charges.

Mortgages aggregating $1,250,000, subject to this bond issue, and junior in lien, have been placed on the ground and improvements to be erected.

Denominations and Dates of Maturity:

Bonds signed by Edward D. Cuthbert in the amount of the mortgage, in denominations of $1000, $500 and $100, have been issued with the following maturities:

Amounts	Maturity	Amounts	Maturity

Favorably influenced by a decrease in cattle receipts and an improvement in the dressed meat trade, market for beef steers advanced fully 15@25c, yesterday. Arrivals estimated at 16,000 were second smallest in a year for Monday. Choice 954 lb yearlings topped at $11.90, the highest sale since the previous Monday. Choice 1,206 lb steers were $11.75 and best 1,415 pounders, $11.50. Better grades of butcher stock advanced 15@25c, about 100 heifers bringing $11.00@11.25, the outside price being highest of the year in this branch. Common cows sold weak. Calves were weak to 25c lower.

Hog values opened steady to 10c higher than Saturday, but the advance was more than lost later, with closing trade lowest of the session, with 21,000 estimated in the pens. Speculators were best buyers at the start. Packers generally held off until noon. Receipts were 16,000 larger than previous Monday, while shipments decreased 2,500. Quality graded fairly good, with underweights scarcer than usual. Fancy 332 lb butchers topped at $14.20. General average price was $13.90, against $13.95 a week ago and $7.45 a year ago.

Lamb Market Reacts.

The first noticeable advance in lamb values in two weeks was recorded yesterday, due to an unexpected decrease in receipts. Offerings at 13,000 were second smallest since July for Monday. Upturns of 25c were general, with spots reflecting more gain. Aged stock advanced 25@50c, choice 121 lb freshly shorn ewes reaching $8.25. Top killing lambs jumped to $16.75, highest since last Tuesday. Shearing lambs held firm at $16.50 for 75 pounders.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 10,000 cattle, 22,000 hogs, and 14,000 sheep, against 10,453 cattle, 32,723 hogs, and 9,965 sheep the corresponding Tuesday a year ago.

WALL STREET NOTES

Heavy selling for both accounts unsettled yesterday's curb market, net losses of 1@3 points being quite common at the close. South Pennsylvania oil broke 7 points to 165, while losses of 1@3 points took place in Cities Service common, Gulf of Pennsylvania, Humble, Imperial of Canada, International, Ohio, Prairie Oil and Gas, Prairie Pipe, Standards of Indiana, New York, and Ohio, and Vacuum.

Fresh weakness developed in the radio group, as a result of recent price cutting, De Forest dropping 2¼ points to 21¼, and Charles Freshman, Dubilier, Freed-Eisemann, Hazeltine, and Rova losing a point or so. Liberty Radio Chain Stores held firm around the year's high levels. The decline in public utilities and industrials was moderate. Lehigh Power Securities dropped 3¼ points to 93½, and Middle West Utilities fell back 2 to 93½, while losses of 1@1½ points were recorded by Commonwealth Power, Electric Bond and Share, Continental Baking, Kelvinator, Gillette Safety Razor, Goodyear Tire, and Swift International.

Bond prices reacted sharply. Heavy liquidation of Interborough Rapid Transit issues was a leading factor in the unsettlement, which resulted in price recessions of 1@5 points. Interborough bonds broke 2@7 points to new low levels and closed 2@5 points below last week's closing prices. Other local traction liens were sympathetically weak.

Unfavorable developments had a depressing effect on railroad obligations. Norfolk and Western convertible 6s were subjected to heavy profit taking and yielded 4 points, while losses of a point or more were registered by a dozen others, including New York Central 6s, Katy adjustment 5s, Erie general and convertible 4s, and various Frisco, St. Paul, Missouri Pacific, and New Haven issues.

The industrial list was dotted with weak spots, the most conspicuous of which were Pan-American Petroleum 6s, Skelly Oil 6½s, Otis Steel 8s, and Anaconda Copper 7s, which fell back 1@3½ points. Selling of the oils were influenced by further cuts in crude oil prices.

FINANCIAL NOTES

Mr. Leo S. Bing, President of Bing & Bing, Inc., has summarised in part his letter to us of March 19, 1925, as follows:

CHARACTER OF BUSINESS

"We have been engaged in the real estate business since 1902, more particularly in the development, construction, operation and management of real estate rather than in the purchase and sale thereof. We have built up our business, and expect to continue it on the principle of directing its activities toward that part of the real estate field which is a permanent and basic business, as distinguished from real estate speculation, which is dependent solely on fluctuations in value. Our activities have been conducted in part through the present corporation of Bing & Bing, Inc., and partly by my associates and myself through affiliated corporations. As all these activities will be conducted in the future by the new corporation, when I refer in this letter to our business, I refer to all the activities so conducted by us.

The business consists of the improvement of land or property, by the construction of buildings, which buildings we manage and operate when completed; and upon their sale we derive a further profit. We have recently enlarged our business by undertaking the construction of buildings for others. Our properties consist of apartment houses, both large and small, office buildings, loft buildings, etc., all located in Greater New York, so that we retain the advantage of close supervision. Thus we have a business diversified as to the character of its operations, as to the types of buildings it constructs and operates, and as to geographical location within the City of New York.

The new corporation of Bing & Bing, Inc., in addition to acquiring the goodwill of the present Bing & Bing, Inc., and its construction and management contracts, will also acquire the interest of my associates and myself (who are now all of the stockholders of Bing & Bing, Inc.) in thirty-three properties that show substantial earnings and equities. It will also take over the participation of our present company in the syndicate acquiring the so-called 'car barn' properties at 50th and 51st Streets and Sixth and Seventh Avenues.

PURPOSE

All the securities of the new Company junior to this issue of bonds are to be owned by my associates and myself, who are the stockholders of the present Bing & Bing, Inc., and who are the active managers of the business. It is our intention to apply the additional capital obtained by the present issue for conservative expansion, as proper opportunities arise.

PROVISIONS OF INDENTURE

The Debentures will be issued under an indenture which will contain the following provisions among others:

The new Company will not (a) pay any dividends or make any distributions upon, or purchase or redeem, any class of stock until after March 1, 1928, nor in any event except out of net earnings accrued subsequent to January 1, 1925, but this shall not prevent the withdrawal of capital hereafter put into the Company; (b) mortgage or pledge any of its assets unless the Debentures are equally secured thereby, but this shall not prevent the pledge of current assets, other than stocks or obligations of affiliated companies, in the ordinary and usual current course of the business; nor (c) create any additional funded debt unless at the time its consolidated net assets (before deducting its funded debt) including the proceeds of that about to be created, shall be 150% of the total outstanding funded debt plus that about to be created, the value of the properties to be taken at cost or by appraisal, all in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture.

ASSETS AND EARNINGS

The consolidated balance sheet of the new Company prepared by Messrs. Lybrand, Ross Bros. & Montgomery, as of December 31, 1924, after giving effect to the acquisition by the new Company of the assets as planned, and the sale to you of the above mentioned Debenture Bonds, shows, as against the $5,000,000 of Debentures, tangible assets in excess of all other indebtedness, of $10,232,596. The real estate included in this balance sheet was appraised by Messrs. Brown, Wheelock: Harris, Vought & Co., Inc., and Joseph P. Day, Inc., separately, and the valuation shown upon the lower of the two appraisals has been used. There will be no contingent liabilities of any kind not shown on the balance sheet.

Of the thirty-three properties in which the new Company will acquire an interest, three have been sold since the date as of which the balance sheet was prepared, and in each instance the selling price was very substantially in excess of the balance sheet valuation.

The combined net earnings for the years 1922, 1923 and 1924 of the business of the present Bing & Bing, Inc. and the properties, to be acquired by the new Company, to the extent of the interest to be acquired in such properties, and of the present Company and/or its stockholders from the sales of real estate, after adequate depreciation, applicable to interest on the present issue of Debenture Bonds, but before Federal income taxes payable by the new Company (other than Federal income taxes payable at present rates by the corporations not permitted to make a consolidated tax return with the new Company), after adjustments to include in each year 6% on the additional cash now to be provided and to include in the earnings of 1922 and 1923 the sum of $62,800 earned in 1924 by one property constructed in that year, are as follows as certified by Messrs. Lybrand, Ross Bros. & Montgomery:

1923	920,764	811,364	1,732,129
1924	923,153	200,728	1,123,882

The average of such total income for the three years was $1,358,820 or about 4.2 times the interest charges on the $5,000,000 6½% Debentures.

Since the inception of our business in 1902, we have made net profits in every year."

It is expected that application will be made in due course to list these bonds on the New York Stock Exchange.

BEAR TRADERS HAMMER DOWN STOCK PRICES

YESTERDAY'S AVERAGES

	High.	Low.	Last.	Net chge.
25 railroads	78.46	76.94	77.21	—1.53
25 industrials	134.65	131.65	132.32	—3.39
50 stocks	106.55	104.29	104.76	—2.42

New York, March 23.—Stock prices crumbled two to nearly eleven points today under the incessant hammering of bear traders and the liquidation of long accounts by speculators and investors, who had become frightened by the recent drastic decline.

Both the rail and industrial averages sank to new low levels for the year. The day's sales ran well over 1,700,000 shares. In the absence of any definite news developments, Wall street was inclined to describe the decline as a further correction of the market's technical position, which had become weakened by the speculative excesses of the first two months of the year.

Professionals Heavy Sellers.

Professional traders threw large blocks of stocks into the market at opportune intervals and succeeded in touching off a number of stop-loss orders and inducing rather extensive liquidation. In all, fifty-eight stocks established new minimum quotations for the year.

Selling pressure was directed chiefly against the steel shares, presumably because of the relatively poor showing made in the annual reports of the United States and Bethlehem Steel corporations, which were published in the morning papers. United States Steel common broke to a new 1925 low at 117¾ and then rallied to 118, where it was off nearly 3 points on the day. Bethlehem Steel was hammered down to 38¾ and then snapped back to 39½, off ⅛. New lows also were recorded by Republic Steel common and preferred, Crucible Steel, Gulf States Steel, United Alloy, American Metals, and Colorado Fuel and Iron.

American Can Off Six Points.

American Can, which had met with fairly good support in the early stages of the decline, broke six points to 108. Baldwin fell more than 8 points to a new low at 116⅝. U. S. Cast Iron Pipe dropped nearly 11 points to 178½ and then rallied to 181. Associated Dry Goods showed a net loss of 10¾, at 174½.

Net losses of 4 to nearly 7 points or more also were recorded by American Car and Foundry, Atlantic Refining, Mack Trucks, National Lead, Savage Arms, Worthington Pump, Beechnut Packing, Federal Light and Traction, Houston Oil, International Business Machines, Loose-Wiles Biscuit, Manhattan Modified Guarantee, Mathieson Alkali, Pressed Steel Car, Railway Steel Spring, Tidewater Oil, and United States Realty.

Pan-American Pete Gains.

The Pan-American Petroleum issues showed resistance to selling pressure, rallying about 2 points from their early low levels and closing at small fractional gains. Further weakness of the Interboro Rapid Transit and allied securities was traceable to threats of a receivership growing out of the company's confessed inability to pay for improvements recommended by the state transit commission.

Establishment of new low records for the year by New York Central at 115½ and Union Pacific at 140, had a depressing effect on the other railroad shares. Atlantic Coast Line broke 5⅝ points to 154, and Jersey Central dropped 6 to 280 on one sale.

Reichsbank Reports Increased 1924 Profits

BERLIN, March 23.—[By the Associated Press.]—The annual report of the reichsbank for 1924 shows a gross profit of 307,000,000 marks and a net profit of 122,000,000 marks, in which the federal government shares to the extent of 55,000,000 marks. It is proposed to pay a dividend of 10 per cent. Out of the share the government received it purposes liquidating the rentenmark notes still in circulation. The reichsbank now boasts of 46,380 individual accounts, which is more than double the number at the outbreak of the war. The prosperity of the bank during the last year is accounted for by its extensive credit operations and high interest rates.

Analysis of Individual Industries More Important to Investors Than Stock Market Movements

By John Burnham & Co., Inc.

Many people in the buying and selling of stocks are inclined to put too much emphasis on the movements of the stock market as a whole rather than the soundness of various important industries as such. Attempts to determine in advance the frequent changes in the stock market or to try to figure out general principles on which to act in many instances have taken the place of careful analysis of individual corporations in the light of their continued growth, earnings and able management.

* * * * *

The advantages which accrue to the investor, as distinguished from the speculator, are not dependent upon the position of the "market" or upon "average" prices, but rather upon the position and especially the future position of securities which he actually holds.

* * * * *

These facts have been emphasized in several leading financial publications recently and point the way to a more common-sense view of the entire stock situation. This does not mean in time of war and unusual world conditions that all stocks will not be more or less affected, but such unusual conditions cannot be said to prevail at present.

* * * * *

In fact, the course of business as a whole during the past three months, affords additional assurance of well sustained activity and, more important still, emphasizes clearly the fundamentally sound bases upon which our financial, industrial and social structures are laid.

* * * * *

The Federal Reserve Board's index of output in 22 basic lines of industry, which had advanced 25% since July, 1924, showed a further increase of 8% in January and February to the highest point since March of 1923. The number of blast furnaces in operation is above normal. Pig iron production for February was the highest for any month since July, 1923. Railway shipments for the first nine weeks of 1925 were 2% above the record figures of a year ago.

* * * * *

January railroad earnings gained 27% over one year ago. February mail-order and chain store sales for the first two months of 1925 were 15% greater than for the same period of 1924. Bank clearings for the past week showed the substantial increase of 18% over the corresponding week of the past year and per capita bank deposits are greater now than at any period during the past five years. These developments, accompanied by a rapid growth in available capital and with an outlook for four years of political stability, justify the statement that our financial, industrial and social structures are fundamentally sound.

* * * * *

In the March 14 issue, the Commercial & Financial Chronicle states: "The wise investor will concentrate on analysis of individual industries and securities so as to keep his holdings in sound condition and growing in value. But even beyond this there is much reason to believe that general conditions are sound and that with wise counsels and cool heads the present prosperity will be continued well into the future."

CUT IN OIL PRICES AND RAIL REPORTS GLOOM INSPIRERS

BY O. A. MATHER.

Two disappointing items of news appeared yesterday. Their importance was considerably magnified in the speculative markets, where gloom was as profound as exuberance was rampant a few weeks ago.

Prices of various grades of Pennsylvania crude oil were reduced 20 to 35 cents a barrel by the principal purchasing agents. This was a rude setback to the hopes of speculators in oil stocks. But it really appears to result from a contest between refiners and producers. Although Pennsylvania crude had a steady advance from around $2.75 last autumn to $3.75 in February, the producers pinned their hopes on $4.00, selling reluctantly and storing large stocks. Now, the refiners, having found they could not get producers to sell on a rising market, have cut prices to educate the producers that prices can go down as well as up.

Railroad Reports Unfavorable.

The other adverse item was an unfavorable showing by some of the large railroads in their February reports, compared with last year. The Southern Pacific showed a decrease of $1,090,000 in net earnings, while gross declined $1,757,000. The Nickel Plate showed declines of $498,000 in gross and $175,000 in net. But the St. Louis-San Francisco showed increases of $312,000 in gross and $137,000 in net, the Alton gained $52,000 in net, and the Soo had net operating income of $198,464 against a deficit of $16,210 in February, 1923.

The receivership for the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul will have no adverse effect on its service, according to a statement issued by the receivers last night. On the contrary, it is stated, the adjustment of capitalization will give opportunity to finance new and improved facilities now needed to render even better service.

Yellow Cab Earnings Grow.

The Chicago Yellow Cab company's earnings for last year maintained the record of steady growth shown each year since organization, according to a statement issued to stockholders by John Hertz, president. Net profits for the year amounted to $2,223,929, an increase of $152,677 over 1923.

This figure, however, is after deducting $5,702 for adjustment of taxes of prior years, and before this deduction net profits for 1924 were $2,229,631, or $5.57 a share on the 400,000 shares of stock outstanding. This result compares with the equivalent of $5.20 a share figured on the same number of shares for 1923. The cost of cab equipment purchased during the year was $1,813,286. This includes the replacement of 525 older model cabs, together with the purchase of 273 additional vehicles.

Only Current Liabilities.

The company started in in the year of 1925 with 2,798 cabs in service.

"We are going into the year 1925 under what we regard as most favorable auspices, with no liabilities other than current and with newer and better equipment than the company has had at any time within the last five years," says the report. The balance sheet shows a new item of $62,500, representing the company's investment in the Yellow Drive-It-Yourself system.

National Electric Power.

J. W. H.—National Electric Power company will control the Cumberland Power and Light company and the Northwestern Public Service company, which together serve with electric light and power a population estimated at 310,000, the territories embracing a total of 122 communities. The territories served include the district within a radius of forty miles of and including Portland, Me., a rich agricultural district in the eastern half of South Dakota, and also the cities of North Platte and Columbus, Neb. The company is issuing $3,750,000 twenty year 6 per cent secured bonds. These will be the direct obligation of the company and will be specifically secured by pledge of approximately 97½ per cent of the common stock of the Cumberland Power and Light company and all of the outstanding common stock of the Northwestern Public Service company. The reproduction cost new, less accrued depreciation, of the properties of these companies is said to be largely in excess of the bonds outstanding. For 1924 consolidated earnings of the above subsidiaries applicable to interest on these bonds were $843,042, or practically 3⅝ times annual interest requirements on all the company's outstanding bonds. These bonds are a suitable investment for a business man's funds.

I buy Ritchie Bonds because

They are made against the same sort of security, with practically the same ratio of loan to value and charges to earnings, as that in which a large percentage of the legal reserve of insurance companies in many states must, by law, be invested. Since the sole purpose of such laws is to protect policy-holders, it seems to me that the same security should be the best possible protection for bond-holders.

A BETTER OPPORTUNITY OFFERED TO A FEW AMBITIOUS MEN.

We know that there are in Chicago hundreds of men who have the hunch that they ought to get into the real estate business. They know men who have less ability than they have who have entered the real estate business and have far outclassed them in financial returns.

IF YOU ARE ONE OF THESE MEN whose ambitions are making you restless and "RARING TO GO," this ad is addressed to you.

This is the season of the year to get started.

Now is the time to get into the real estate business. Chicago is on the verge of the greatest transportation development in its history; property values will soar sky high; billions will be made in real estate.

WILL YOU BE ONE OF THE MANY TO BENEFIT BY THIS?

Thousands will pass this opportunity up, as they have always done in the past. Don't be one of them.

Confidence in our proposition and in our belief that we can pick good men cause us to pay a

SALARY AS WELL AS COMMISSION

to a limited number, although we will not employ men who consider this to be the important thing.

To men of the right caliber we give training and thorough schooling; to men who have had no experience in this line we give exceptional co-operation. Your future depends on the right connection; affiliate with a solid concern. See us today.

At this nominal cost a limited number of representatives of publishers, manufacturers, and financial interests can secure choice location in a building which has an international reputation before its completion.

It makes no difference where you select space on any of the floors [from 13 to 23 are available], you will have the same benefits of light, beauty, and convenience on any side of this magnificent structure.

Remember, Tribune Tower was built up to an ideal and not down to a price, and the best architectural and engineering brains available were brought to this work.

is offered to a man [or set of men] by a California corporation to act as their exclusive distributor for Chicago and vicinity.

The product is a single item—a popular California fruit product that can only be produced in California; sells and repeats at 10 cents or less; in daily demand by every man, woman and child; previously introduced in Chicago and without competition.

The right man [or set of men] must be a capable sales executive and business producer, financially able to carry stock, accounts, make deliveries, etc. This will require at least $25,000 with the ability to furnish additional finances as the business develops.

The right party will get full co-operation, a valuable protected exclusive sales franchise covering both wholesale and retail distribution. There is nothing speculative in this proposition. Within 90 days a highly profitable business should be developed, based on safe and sound business principles.

The sales manager of this California corporation is now in Chicago, empowered to grant this exclusive franchise to the individual or syndicate able to fulfill our requirements. Address T 138, Tribune.
